25. At the time of introduction the President shall first indicate to what committee a bill or resolution ought to be referred, and it shall be so referred, unless upon a motion, without debate, the Senate by a majority vote refer it to some other committee. No debate shall be allowed on any motion to refer a bill or resolution to a committee.

2. A Standing Committee.
3. A Select Committee.

Reference of Assembly Bills.

28. When an Assembly bill has been received by the Senate, with a message announcing that it has passed the Assembly, such bill shall be read the first time and be referred by the President to a standing committee; provided, however, that when an Assembly bill is received, the text of which is stated by a member to be identical with that of a Senate bill which has already been considered and reported by a standing committee of the Senate, such Assembly bill shall be referred to the Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment for comparison, which committee shall report without delay, whether or not such bill is identical with the Senate bill. If reported identical, such Assembly bill shall be substituted for the Senate bill, shall take its place on the second-reading file and be considered as having received the same committee recommendation as the Senate bill: provided, that the fact that the bills are identical shall be entered in the Journal. Such Senate bill shall thereupon be placed upon the file of unfinished business.

Reference of Appropriation Bills.

29. All bills appropriating money from any fund shall be referred to the Committee on Finance before being read the second time. Concurrent resolutions for adjournment sine die shall in all cases whether originating in the Senate or coming from the Assembly be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Notice to Author of Bill.

30. The chairman or clerk of each committee of the Senate shall notify the author of any bill or resolution pending before such committee, of the hour and place of hearing or acting upon such bill or proceeding.

Committee Amendments to Bills.

31. When amendments to a bill are reported by a committee, the clerk of such committee shall prepare three copies of each amendment, one to go with the bill to the Superintendent of State Printing, one to the Minute Clerk, and one to the Secretary of the Senate.

Reports of Committees.

32. All committees shall act upon bills referred to them as soon as practicable, and when acted upon each bill shall be reported back to the Senate forthwith, and the chairman of each committee is charged with the observance of this rule; provided, that the Senate may at any time, by a majority vote, recall a bill from any committee.

Order of Considering Bills—Order of Making File.

33. When bills are reported from committees they shall be placed upon the General File, to be kept by the Secretary as follows: All bills when reported to the Senate by the committee shall be placed at the foot of the second-reading file, in the order in which the reports are made, and after the second reading they shall be placed at the foot of the third-reading file, in the order of reading, and precedence shall be given in the consideration of bills in the following order: Second-reading file and third-reading file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. The bills upon third reading shall be considered in the order in which they appear upon the file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by vote of majority of the members present; such vote to be taken by roll call; provided, that if a bill is passed on file for any reason, other than absence of the author by leave of the Senate, note of the fact shall be made in the General File, and when passed on file a second time, the bill shall be ordered at the foot of the file, and notice of the fact of the bill having been passed on file prior to the order placing it at the foot of the file shall be omitted from the General File.

The General File.

34. The General File shall be the special order for each day between such hours as the Senate may determine, unless sooner disposed of; but no bill shall lose its place upon the file by expiration of the time or by adjournment of the Senate while it is under consideration.

Special Order.

35. Any subject may, by vote of a majority of those voting, be made a special order, and when the time fixed for its consideration arrives, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

Three Readings of Bills.

36. Every bill shall be read on three several days previous to its passage (unless in case of urgency, two-thirds of the membership of the Senate in which it is being considered shall by vote of the ayes and noes dispense with this provision).

Ordering Bills to Third Reading.

37. After being read the second time bills shall be ordered by the President to third reading (or, in the case of Senate bills, to engrossment and third reading). When any member makes objection to any bill thus being ordered to third reading, the final question for such bill shall be, "Shall the bill be ordered to third reading?"

Bills Considered During Last Seven Days.

38. No Senate bill shall be passed by the Senate within seven days of the time set for adjournment sine die of the two houses of the Legislature unless permission to vote on such a bill be granted by a three-fourths vote of the entire membership of the Senate, voting by roll call.

Questions and Motions—Precedence of Motions During Debate.

39. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but the following privileged questions, which shall have precedence in the following order:

1. To adjourn.
2. For a call of the Senate.
3. To lay on the table.
4. To postpone to a day certain.
5. To commit.
6. To amend.
7. To postpone indefinitely.

Provided, however, that during a call of the Senate, it may consider and transact any matter or business that the Senators then present shall unanimously decide to consider, but no call of the Senate shall be had, during a call of the Senate, on any matter so taken up or considered while the Senate is under call. When a call of the Senate is ordered, pending the completion of a roll call, the pending roll call shall become unfinished business the consideration of which shall be continued until further proceedings under the call of the Senate are dispensed with, when it will forthwith become the order of business before the Senate.

Amendment or Division of Question.

40. An amendment may be laid on the table without prejudice to the bill. When an amendment proposed to any pending measure shall be laid on the table, it shall not carry with it or prejudice such measure.

If the question in debate contains several propositions, any Senator may have the same divided; except a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition, nor shall it prevent a motion to simply strike out, nor shall the rejection of a motion to strike out prevent a motion to strike out and insert; but pending a motion to strike out and insert, the part to be stricken out and the part to be inserted shall each be regarded, for the purpose of amendment, as a question. Motions to amend the part to be stricken out shall have precedence.

Restrictions as to Amendments.

41. A substitute or amendment must relate to the same subject as the original bill, resolution or constitutional amendment under consideration.

Vote Required for Amendments.

42. A constitutional amendment or bill requiring a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate for final adoption or passage may be amended by a majority of those voting.

Procedure of Debate—Seconding and Announcement of Motion.

43. No motion shall be debated until the same be seconded and distinctly announced by the President; and it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the President or any Senator, and read by the Secretary, before the same shall be debated.

Regulations as to Speaking.

44. 1. When a Senator desires to address the Senate he shall rise in his place, address the President, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak.

2. No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill, without leave; and Senators who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) so long as any Senator who has not spoken desires to speak.

3. No Senator shall be interrupted when speaking, and no question shall be asked him except those through the presiding officer.

4. The author of a bill, motion, or resolution shall have the privilege of closing the debate.

Securing of the Floor.

45. When two or more Senators arise at the same time to address the Senate, the presiding officer shall designate the Senator who is entitled to the floor.

Order in Debate.

46. When a Senator shall be called to order he shall sit down until the President shall have determined whether he is in order or not; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any Senator. If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the objectionable language shall immediately be taken down in writing by the Secretary of the Senate.

The Previous Question.

47. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the question be now put?" It shall be admitted only when demanded by a majority of the Senators present upon division; and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate except that the author of the bill or the amendments shall have the right to close, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote. On a motion for the previous question prior to a vote being taken by the Senate, a call of the Senate shall be in order.

Executive Session.

48. When a motion is adopted to close the doors of the Senate, on the discussion of any business, which may, in the opinion of the Senate, require an executive session, the President shall require all persons, except the Senators, President of the Senate, Secretary, Minute Clerk, and Sergeant-at-Arms, to withdraw, and during the discussion of said business the doors shall remain closed. Every Senator and officer present shall keep secret all matters and proceedings concerning which secrecy shall be enjoined by order of the Senate.

Voting by Senate—Calling Ayes and Noes.

49. When the ayes and noes shall be called for by three members present, every member within the bar of the Senate at the time the question was put shall declare openly, and without debate, assent or dissent to the question. In taking the ayes and noes, and upon the call of the Senate, the names of the Senators shall be taken alphabetically. When the ayes and noes shall be taken upon any question in pursuance of this rule, no Senator shall be permitted, under any circumstances whatever, to vote after the announcement of the vote by the presiding officer.

Excuse From Voting.

50. When a Senator declines to vote on a call of his name he shall be required to assign his reasons therefor, and having assigned them, the presiding officer shall submit the question to the Senate: "Shall the Senator, for the reasons assigned by him, be excused from voting?" which shall be decided without debate. And these proceedings shall be had after the roll call and before the result is announced, and any further proceedings in reference thereto shall be after such announcement.

Reconsideration of Vote.

51. On the day succeeding that on which a final vote on any bill, concurrent or joint resolution, or constitutional amendment has been taken, said vote may be reconsidered on motion of any Senator; provided, notice of intention to move such reconsideration shall have been given on the day on which such final vote was taken, by a Senator voting with the prevailing side; and it shall not be in order to reconsider on the day on which such final vote was taken. Said motion for reconsideration shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn. It shall require twenty-one votes to carry any motion to reconsider the vote by which any bill, concurrent or joint resolution, has been passed or defeated, fourteen votes to reconsider the vote by which any constitutional amendment has been passed, and twenty-seven votes to carry any motion to reconsider the vote by which any constitutional amendment has been defeated. Notice of reconsideration of the vote by which a Senate bill was passed, or a Senate joint resolution, Senate concurrent resolution or Senate constitutional amendment adopted, shall not be in order on or after the eighth day preceding the last day of the session. No notice of reconsideration shall be in order on the day preceding the last day of the session.

When Bill Is Held for Reconsideration.

52. If a Senator gives notice that he intends to move a reconsideration, the Secretary shall not transmit the bill, concurrent or joint resolution, or constitutional amendment to the Assembly till the reconsideration is disposed of, or the time for moving the same has expired, unless the bill or resolution has already been transmitted to the Assembly.

When Bill Is Recalled for Reconsideration.

53. When a bill, resolution, amendment, order or message upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate and been communicated to the Assembly, a motion to reconsider shall be preceded by a motion to request the Assembly to return the same, which last-named motion shall be acted upon immediately and without debate, and if determined in the negative shall be a final disposition of the motion to reconsider.

Debate on Motion to Reconsider.

54. A Senator, after a notice to reconsider is given, as provided in Rule 53, shall, at the reconsideration thereof, present the main question in his argument thereon, and the same shall be debated by the Senate, provided that the subject matter is debatable, and the vote on reconsideration shall be on the merits of the main question.

Messages and Other Papers—Messengers from the Governor.

55. Messengers from the Governor may be introduced at any stage of business except while a question is being put, while the ayes and noes are being called, while ballots are being counted, or while a Senator is addressing the Senate.

Legislative Printing—Number of Bills Printed.

63. Fifteen hundred copies of all bills shall be printed; and the Sergeant-at-Arms shall be required to certify to the reception by the Senate of all printed matter, and the quantity. One copy of each bill or paper printed by order of the Senate shall be delivered to each Senator at his desk, and the balance shall be distributed according to law.

Number of Journals Printed.

64. The Superintendent of State Printing shall print one thousand copies of the Journal of each day's proceedings of the Senate, and one copy of the same shall be placed upon each Senator's desk, and a sufficient number sent to the Assembly to supply each Assemblyman with one copy; he shall also print a sufficient number of copies, properly paged, to bind in book form as the Journal of the Senate, at the end of the session, as required by law.

By Senator Rush:

SOLANO COUNTY FARM BUREAU,
FAIRFIELD, CALIFORNIA, January 6, 1925.

To Senator B. F. Rush,
Senate Chamber,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: I have been instructed by the Directors of the Solano County Farm Bureau to send to you for your consideration the enclosed resolution relating to the proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 20. This resolution was unanimously adopted by the Board of Directors at their regular meeting on January 5, 1925.

Yours very truly,

KATHERINE D. STAUFFER,
Secretary, Solano County Farm Bureau.

The Solano County Farm Bureau, in regular session on the fifth day of January, 1925, having under consideration the proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 20, giving to congress the power to limit, regulate, and prohibit the labor of persons under the age of eighteen years, does hereby resolve:

That the State has all such powers, and that they are safeguarded by the referendum, and that the referendum does not apply to congressional acts.

That such legislation by congress would naturally be influenced by social and other conditions in communities far remote from this State.

That the main justification in extending to the congress such arbitrary power is found in the promise that congress would not use such power, while the history of the American people shows that they are not trained to create an arbitrary power upon the theory that it would not be exercised; that they are trained upon the theory of never yielding their liberties upon promises of others.

The theory of the constitution was to create an entirely limited form of government, thereby leaving to the states and to the communities the regulation of all domestic affairs, and this brings government near the homes, where it should be, especially with reference to questions of this character.

That any law of congress would have to function through a bureau at Washington, far remote from our people and their interests, and to which there could be no appeal save through political agencies.

That the best home of the child is that provided by the mother, and the best guardian is the mother; while there are exceptions to all cases, yet this is the only safeguard that we have and it would be better to adhere to it than to depart from it.

Be it further resolved, That this quesiton most directly interests the farming communities, and the power which is proposed to be lodged in congress could be converted into a ruinous policy, and we are earnestly opposed to the yielding of any such power upon the simple promise that it would not be used.

J. H. MURRAY,
President, Solano County Farm Bureau.

PRESENTATION OF GOVERNOR FRIEND W. RICHARDSON.

Hon. Arthur H. Breed, President of the Senate pro tempore, then presented Governor Friend Wm. Richardson to the Joint Convention. The Governor then delivered his first biennial message as follows:

FIRST BIENNIAL MESSAGE OF GOVERNOR FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON.

To the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California.

Economy has been the watchword in state government during the past two calendar years. Every endeavor has been made to conduct affairs on an economical, efficient and businesslike basis. The results show that twelve million dollars has been saved as promised the people, and that from a deficit, when I took office, there is now a surplus of six million dollars. The practice of economy has resulted in increased efficiency in the various state departments. Economy came into the management of the state government in 1923 as an unwelcome guest to the bosses of the old political machine and the spendthrifts who had for years kept piling higher and higher the burden upon the taxpayers. Every inch in the progress of the economy campaign has been contested vigorously and viciously by the political bosses, their tax-eating parasites, and spendthrifts generally. At the end of the first fiscal year, June 30, 1924, there was a large balance on hand in the various funds and this deprived the critics of further material for attack. Economy has proved successful. All of the various functions of the state have been maintained at a high state of efficiency and still there is a balance unexpended. The program of economy has been and will be continued. Your cooperation and support at the coming session is earnestly desired. Having demonstrated during the past two years that economy and efficiency can go hand in hand, there can be but little opposition and that will come from selfish interests and political manipulators.

BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT.

During the past two years I have endeavored to give the people a business and not a political administration. Appointments have been made on merit and not because of political pull. The present state administration has no political machine or political organization. Whenever an official under the former administration was found to be doing efficient work he has been retained. I feel particularly proud of the men from the previous administration whom I have retained and of the new men I have inducted into office. While having no political organization, I have built up a business organization unequaled for efficiency in the history of the state. Every department of the state is functioning well. The results prove it. I have taken an active interest in the various functions of government. I have visualized myself as business manager of the state and not as a political "boss" distributing patronage to incompetent favorites, or a pseudo monarch issuing illegal proclamations on trivial subjects. I have attended carefully to state business. I have visited all of the various state institutions and know of their workings. I have visited frequently the state departments in the state offices in Los Angeles and San Francisco and have conferred with the department heads. From these inspections my conclusions are that the machinery of the state was never working more efficiently or satisfactorily.

COST OF MISFORTUNES.

The year 1924 was a trying one for this state, but the farmers, fruit men, stock men, resort owners, business men and citizens faced the various problems resolutely. Among the extraordinary situations which arose and which caused the people of the state great loss were: An unusually dry year, an unexpected visitation of the foot and mouth disease, a few forest fires mostly in United States reserves, a slight shortage of water for irrigation, a deficiency of water power for electric energy caused by the dry year, and an epidemic of some kind, unfortunately called a "plague," and last, and more deadly than all these, the flames of yellow journalism which lighted up the world with false, exaggerated and lurid tales. When I speak of yellow journalism I refer to a few metropolitan newspapers. An overwhelming majority of the press of the state is honest and helpful to California. It publishes free of charge thousands of columns of news telling of the charms of California's climate, its grand scenery, its many recreational places, its fertile soil and its various opportunities. Gutter journalism of the yellow type thrives chiefly on lying and exaggeration. The injurious publication in California of this class of journals has held back the full advancement of the state, its tentacles having spread throughout the commonwealth and injured directly or indirectly every industry except that of selling faked news to a deluded public.

The foot and mouth disease has cost the state and nation directly nearly six million dollars. Its effect upon other industries, due to the exaggerated stories of the yellow journals, has cost the people of California many millions more. A few forest fires last summer were fanned by these journals until many of our people were panic stricken and resort and hotel business was paralyzed. This false news was spread to other states and untold damage has been inflicted upon California. The epidemic referred to above has resulted in a few deaths, mainly among the Mexican population, but yellow journals did not neglect another opportunity to injure the state by lurid and sensational fabrication. Even the recent Owens River aqueduct episode has been misrepresented to the detriment of the state. But the citizens of California have met all of these misfortunes bravely and successfully. They now have the issue of yellow journalism to solve and that can be easily solved by subscribers and advertisers demanding truth in the news columns. The publishers of these gutter journals care nothing for caustic criticism, but they have one vital organ, and that is the counting room. Action on this organ will quickly produce reform.

HIGHWAY FINANCING.

How to finance future highway construction is one of the big problems facing your body. The money from highway bond issues has been exhausted and if new work is to be continued more money must be raised. The two cent per gallon rate placed upon gasoline at the last session was for repairing and reconstructing state highways and not for new roads. There is now in the state system 6500 miles of highway of which some three thousand miles are of local character and should never have been placed in the system. These roads, commonly called "pork barrel" roads, are viewed with disapproval by the large centers of population which have to pay most of the money for their construction. Some of these local roads have been placed in the system by legislative action, while some of the most unnecessary are there by vote of the people. How to get these roads out of the state system is a problem for you to consider, and it is a vital problem because the great centers will not continue to vote money if it is to be used upon roads not properly a part of the state system. The highway commission has found that the great pressure placed upon it for road work has usually been for work of the "pork barrel" variety.

APPOINTMENT OF JUDGES.

During the past two years I have appointed twenty-nine judges, which is a number unprecedented in the state. One of these was the chief justice of the supreme court, two were associate justices of the supreme court, three were justices of appellate courts, and twenty-three were judges of superior courts of various counties. I spent a great deal of time and earnest effort in making these appointments and have made them regardless of political or personal considerations. My sole desire has been to give the people first-class judges of the best legal attainments, highest character, and ability to work, in order that respect for the laws may be sustained. In the recent election, all of these judges with one exception were elected by the people.

LEGISLATIVE APPORTIONMENT.

The constitution of the state plainly provides that the legislature shall, at its first session after each census, adjust the districts and reapportion the representation so as to preserve them as nearly equal in population as may be. This plain duty was neglected by the legislature in 1921. The legislature in 1923 again failed to adjust the districts. I called attention to the importance of redistricting in a special message in ample time for the legislature of 1923 to act. Districting the state into forty senatorial and eighty assembly districts is not a simple matter, for, while population is the basis and the districts must be as nearly equal as may be, still these districts must be of contiguous territory, and no county or city can be divided unless given two or more districts. The legislative committees will have a difficult task before them in adjustments to conform to county and city boundaries and in adjusting and describing the various districts, but this should not deter them in obeying the mandate of the constitution. Since the 1910 census, on which districts are now adjusted, there has been a great shift in population, resulting in gross inequality in the population of the various districts.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

The enactment of laws is of little importance if they are not enforced. Criminal prosecution for law violation has been placed by the constitution and the statutes in the hands of county officials. County grand juries, county district attorneys, county sheriffs and superior (county) judges, are elected by the people and charged with the duty of enforcing the law, both civil and criminal. This gives the people direct local self-government. Juries are selected from the citizens of the immediate vicinity. The governor has no power to prosecute violations of the law except what moral force he may be able to exert. The governor is not a super-sheriff or a super-district attorney. Although the constitution says the governor shall "see that the laws are faithfully executed," the legislature has wisely conferred the power of prosecution upon the officials of counties where the people may take part in the process and closely watch its operation. County officials who fail to do their duty may be recalled by the voters. Various departments of the state are authorized to investigate law violation, but they must depend upon county officials for the prosecution of offenders. In order to see that the laws are faithfully executed I have kept in close touch with various state agencies having power to check law violation, and have cooperated with them in every way.

QUALITY OF LEGISLATION.

Your work as legislators will be judged by its quality and not by its quantity. For the past decade the statutes have been so bulky as to stagger even men trained in the law who attempt to maintain familiarity with them. In 1923 there was a forty-eight per cent decrease in the number of laws enacted as compared with the 1921 statutes. It is hoped that the 1925 legislature will produce a still smaller volume. The legislator who introduces the fewest bills should be given the most credit by his constituents. Your body is a deliberative one, and the more carefully you consider proposed legislation the more good you can accomplish. That a hundred bills of doubtful value shall die on your files or in committee is better than that one bad bill, due to hasty methods, should become a law. Let calm deliberation be your method and not the hectic rush that has many times characterized legislative methods in the past.

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW.

The direct primary law again proved its value in the recent election. In nearly every instance the people defeated candidates for reelection to the legislature who had stood against economy. In a general way this law has fully vindicated itself, having made it possible to elect men to office who are unpledged to political bosses or organizations. That the most powerful political machine ever known in California was defeated two years ago was due to the fact that the successful candidate for governor at that time had the protection of this statute. The direct primary law has also made it possible for me to conduct the affairs of state on a business basis, since under it no pledges to any political machine or organization are necessary for success. While this law has proved its benefits and should be safeguarded in all its essential particulars, still it may be possible to amend it in a way that will improve its operation and at the same time protect the people.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT.

The child labor amendment to the federal constitution will, if ratified, permit congress to enact legislation to protect the children of the nation. While California has ample laws to protect minors from being injured by hard labor and unsanitary conditions, still there are states in the union where the child is being exploited for the benefit of industry. It must be assumed that congress will enact wise legislation to carry into effect this constitutional amendment and hence there is little ground for the objections that are being raised against this amendment. I feel that California must keep in the front rank in humane legislation and that this amendment should be ratified by your body at the earliest possible time.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM.

The people have indicated their willingness to contribute liberally to the cause of education because it tends to promote better citizenship, but they do insist that their money shall be wisely expended. The education of the children of the state is a matter of most vital importance and California ranks high in educational standards. The public school system of California offers as good training to the children of the state as can be found anywhere in the nation. Education should embrace good morals, patriotism and thrift as well as book learning. The public schools of the state should be run in an efficient and economical manner, and the voters in the various school districts should be given greater control over school affairs.

ACTIONS ON PRISONERS.

Believing that it is my duty to sustain the laws and uphold the verdicts of juries and the decisions of judges, I have issued few pardons and those only when the merit of the cases fully warranted. Twenty acts of executive clemency have been done by me but only four men have been released from the state's prisons and two from the county jails. Of the four released from state prisons, three were upon the recommendation of the district attorney of Los Angeles County, who admitted the men had been wrongfully convicted and were innocent of the crimes charged. The two released from county jails were chiropractors, whose technical law violations had been legalized by the affirmative vote of the people through an initiative measure. In a separate message I will submit details of the pardons issued, with full and complete reasons. While it has been the policy in the past to report to you in the briefest detail, I feel that you should have the complete reasons. The matter of pardons is a grave and arduous duty which I have tried to exercise for the protection of society generally.

PUNISHMENT FOR CAPITAL CRIME.

During the past two years only one person condemned to death has had his sentence commuted, and in this case it was ascertained by me that the prisoner was under eighteen years of age at the time of the murder and that his execution would violate a statute prohibiting execution of persons of that age, although the facts fully justified his execution had he been of age. I have made a careful examination of the evidence in each case where men have been condemned to execution and have fully satisfied myself of the sufficiency of the evidence to warrant the verdict of the jury and the sentence of the judge. Under the criminal statutes the only protection of the citizen against the murderer, and the only real punishment is execution. The term, "life imprisonment," as used in the law, is a mere expression since prisoners can be released after seven years. In fact life imprisonment may mean less time in prison than a manslaughter conviction. I feel it is my duty to stand firmly by the law and not to permit sentiment or political influence or hysterical journalists to prevent a warning being given to would-be criminals.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

The great increase in the number of fatal automobile accidents points to the need for vigorous action on your part. The protection of human life is the first duty of the state. The lives of children and old people are particularly menaced by reckless automobile drivers. Drivers who are incompetent or physically defective should be prohibited from driving automobiles on the public highways.

EXECUTIVE PROCLAMATIONS.

The law gives the governor power in certain specific cases to issue proclamations. I have confined myself strictly to the law, and have declined to issue proclamations which are unauthorized by statute. The issuing of unauthorized proclamations by city, county or state officials is an unwarranted assumption of kingly power which should be prevented by statute. The people should know that a proclamation is a serious matter, authorized and backed up by the full power of the state, county or city government, and that it is not some illegal pronunciamento of some farcical day. Unauthorized proclamations tend to discredit genuine legal proclamations and confuse people who desire to conscientiously obey the laws.

DEPOSITS OF PUBLIC MONEY.

The new deposit act passed in 1923 has increased the revenues of the state more than one hundred thousand dollars annually. This act was drawn by me in 1921 and after passing both houses of the legislature by nearly a unanimous vote failed of executive approval. At the 1923 session the bill was again passed by the legislature and signed by me. It has not only increased the state revenue but it has added many hundreds of thousands of dollars to the treasuries of the various counties and cities.

BOARD OF CONTROL.

This department has been my main support in putting into effect the economy budget. The members of the board have worked unceasingly to keep down expense and see that economy and efficiency are practiced. For nearly a year the board has been composed of only two members, who are entitled to credit for their splendid service to the state and for the large saving they have made for the taxpayers. Economy has ever been their watchword. In the message accompanying the budget I will go into their work more fully.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

All of the state departments are important, but none is more important than the Department of Agriculture. It comes in contact with the material producers of the state without whose products there could be no life or civilization. This department, with its manifold duties, requires a man of superior ability and energy, and fortunately the department has such a man. He has been held over from the previous administration on account of his worth and freedom from political domination. He has made a record of which the state and the department may be proud. That his department has been able to run more efficiently and economically than under previous administrations is due to the fact that he has been absolutely free from political domination. Every man in his department is serving upon his merit.

The wide range of agricultural products in California has made necessary the maintenance of this department and it is admitted to be the most efficient of any department of the kind in the nation. The maintenance of efficient quarantine service, proper standardization, inspection of soil products, protection of animal industry, furthering of dairy husbandry, and other functions, as well as a general service to the people, demand the careful consideration of the department.

The general status of agriculture is now materially improved in spite of the continuance of drouth conditions and the visitation of the foot and mouth disease during the past year. An investigation made by the University of California, aided by this department, has determined that a general depression in business occurred beginning in March and reached its worst stage in June of last year. This loss amounted to 18 per cent in June and had an injurious effect on business in general. An analysis of the facts shows that one-third of this depression can fairly be charged to unwarranted embargoes by other states due to unfavorable publicity, and the other two-thirds to drouth and local disturbances.

The most serious event of the year was the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease, first discovered in Oakland, February 17, 1924. After most strenuous efforts on behalf of the state department of agriculture and the federal department, this disease has been completely eradicated in all parts of the state, with the possible exception of Tuolumne County, where the situation is being very closely watched. It is barely possible that sporadic outbreaks may again occur, but if they do the state and federal governments are well organized to meet the situation and combat it quickly. When this disease first broke out in Oakland last year, it was a great surprise even to trained veterinarians, as heretofore no disease of this kind had appeared on this coast. From the best available information the disease was introduced in foodstuff on board a government transport landing at Mare Island.

As evidence of the strict economy practiced in this department, it is shown that for the last fiscal year the overhead decreased despite the fact that the work of the entire department increased.

MOTOR VEHICLE DEPARTMENT.

During the past year the Motor Vehicle Department registered 1,321,368 vehicles. As a result of economical administration it has been enabled to turn over to the California Highway Commission and the counties for road purposes a surplus over and above operating expenses of approximately six hundred thousand dollars. Through the establishment of duplicate indexes in Los Angeles and San Francisco, and the installation of a twenty-four hour telephone service in the Sacramento and Los Angeles offices, a prompt and efficient service has been afforded the police and county officials of the state. This modern, up-to-date method was substituted for the inefficient registration list formerly employed and has resulted in a saving to the department of fifty thousand dollars a year. The superintendent of this department has had Service for his watchword and has spared no pains to be of service to the automobile public. Through his efforts, with the United States postal department, plates, when accompanied by the registration cards, may now be mailed through the Sacramento office as fourth-class matter. This action alone will save the state nearly ten thousand dollars per annum. The department employs three hundred and fifty people regularly, augmenting the number to seven hundred during the renewal period, and operates branches in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Fresno. It maintains its head office at Sacramento and distributes plates through fifty clubs and agencies located in smaller cities and towns. It has a traffic officer squad of one hundred and thirty men located in forty counties. It keeps a three-way file on every automobile, a duplicate record in each of its branch offices, and handles in its Sacramento office from two to five thousand letters daily. Its mail during the renewal season runs from five to six sacks per day. Twenty-six carloads of plate licenses are necessary for the automobiles of the state.

There was a reduction in expenditures during the year 1923 over the year 1922 of twenty-five per cent and at the same time the efficiency of the department was increased. The legislature in 1923 reduced the license fee on automobiles and established a gasoline tax. A complete system of registration has been inaugurated so that the ownership of motor-driven vehicles may be easily and quickly established.

This department has been run on a civil service basis without any political interference whatever, and too much credit can not be given to the superintendent for his splendid service at a small compensation.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

The governor is ex officio regent of the University of California and president of the board of regents. I have made it a point to attend the sessions of the board and during the past two years I have attended practically every meeting, in contrast to former executives who rarely attended. In this way I have become familiar with the business of this great educational institution and have obtained valuable first-hand information. As one-eighth of the net budget is expended on the university, it deserves the governor's careful attention. I must commend the members of the board of regents, the president of the university, and the university comptroller for their earnest and active interest in the welfare of students who desire higher education. Every effort has been made to conduct the university on an economical basis and the result shows that the economy budget has not injured efficiency in any manner.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT.

The three commissioners and the engineer of this department have done good work as is shown by the results. All of these appointments were made on merit and without regard to politics. The department is now on an efficiency basis and roads are being constructed which will stand the test. The commissioners are business men of high standing and character. The engineer was selected by me solely on merit and has proved his worth.

BANKING DEPARTMENT.

This is another function designed to protect the people. The banks are carefully inspected so that there may be no loss to the depositors who place their money in them. This department has never been conducted on a higher plane of service and efficiency than during the past two years. The superintendent is able, honest and courageous and has ever kept in mind the best interests of the people and the necessity for their protection. Substantial economies have been effected.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The Civil Service Department has never worked more efficiently and rendered greater service than during the past two years. The budget appropriation while reduced has proved ample and the splendid work of the commission has been of great value to the state. This department has been maintained for the first time in its history absolutely free from political pressure or influence. Civil service, while having its defects, is vastly superior to the old spoils system. It is a protection to the employees of the state. It has been of great benefit to me in establishing a business administration. I have stood strongly against all efforts to break down the efficacy of the civil service. Civil service employees who become inefficient should be promptly recommended for dismissal by the various department heads in order that the state as well as the employees shall be properly protected. During the past two years there have been three elections in the State of California and not a single dollar of assessment has been levied against any civil service employee, or for that matter any noncivil service employee, in the State of California. This is in striking contrast to the old political methods where civil service employees were openly assessed. The investigations of the assembly committee at the last session of the legislature showed that the old political machine had openly violated the civil service law and had been in the 1922 elections notorious in its assessment of state employees.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT COMMISSION.

The new commissioners appointed by me have greatly increased the efficiency of this department and at the same time have saved the taxpayers a large sum of money. Every effort has been made to serve those who are injured in the trades and the payment of benefits has been greatly accelerated. The new commissioners are young, active and energetic men who are giving close attention to their work and serving the public to the best of their ability. The operating expenses of this department have been reduced from $805,000 for the previous biennium to an estimate of about $500,000 for the present biennium. For the past fiscal year the commission has decided 2898 cases. Of these only 2.2 per cent were appealed to the supreme and appellate courts for review, and only .3 of 1 per cent were decided against the commission. This establishes a remarkable record in compensation administration.

The state compensation fund which is operated under the direction of the commission has had a most gratifying business experience in the last two years, the premium business for the past fiscal year being the largest in the history of the fund, amounting to more than five and one-half million dollars, and exceeding that of the last previous fiscal year by 10.8 per cent.

The henchmen of the old political machine have made every effort to discredit and injure both the commission and the fund, so it is remarkable that there should have been any increase at all. Political traitors connected with the fund and the commission have resigned and gone out into private companies in order to injure and harass the fund. The fund is operated for the benefit of the people who work in various avocations, and it is gratifying to know that it has the support of the general public.

INSURANCE COMMISSION.

This department has been conducted efficiently and economically, and for the first time in its history is free from political manipulation. The commission was the citadel of the boss of the old discredited political machine. The citadel and the boss have been demolished. To protect the people has been the effort of the present able commissioner. The business of this department has increased 13 per cent, while the cost of running it has decreased 18 per cent. The present commissioner has put the department on an absolutely business basis.

STATE LIBRARY.

California has one of the finest libraries in the world. Here is to be found a collection of really worthwhile books. The state library is a dignified collection of real books which give real service to their readers. The people of Sacramento and the state are particularly fortunate in having this remarkable library at their command. This department is ably conducted by experts free from political domination of any kind. The economy budget applied to this library has proved a success and efficiency has been maintained.

IMMIGRATION AND HOUSING.

This department has been doing a big humane work and those who serve on the commission without pay are deserving of especial praise. I have noted that nonsalaried officials frequently do more work than the salaried. The economy budget has not hampered the functions of this department.

STATE PRINTING OFFICE.

The state does its own printing and the results of the past year show that one hundred and fifty thousand dollars has been saved the taxpayers over the cost had the work been done in private printing plants. The state printing office has, during the past two years, been put on a high plane of efficiency and has justified its existence. Too much credit can not be given the superintendent, who, at a meager salary, has performed a service worth several times the amount paid.

CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

This department is rendering a great and humane service to the people. As a member ex officio I have attended the sessions and observed its splendid work. There is no longer any friction between this department and others, due to the able and efficient secretary and the broadminded attitude of the new members I have appointed.

BOARD OF DENTAL EXAMINERS.

The State Board of Dental Examiners has been reorganized by appointing five new members to replace members whose terms had expired. The board has been placed on a more efficient basis and an endeavor will be made to help the people, only a small per cent of whom have any dental work done. Examinations are being held upon merit, free from political influence. The minutes of this board show that in previous years the boss of the old political machine was accustomed to attend the sessions of the board and to control its decisions. The complete story of the mechanism of this machine may never be known, but its slimy trail has been discovered in many departments.

BUILDING AND LOAN DEPARTMENT.

This department has been operated in a very efficient manner during the past two years, first under the old commissioner and the last year under the new commissioner. There has been an increase of nearly one hundred per cent in the business of the office and a consequent decrease in assessments placed upon associations which support the department. The salaries paid the commissioner and his employees are lower than those paid in any department of the state service for similar work.

ATHLETIC COMMISSION.

At the recent election the people, by initiative, created another commission, the Athletic Commission, thus showing public approval of commissions. This act repeals former prohibitions against prize fights, permits twelve-round fights, and places all fights, boxing matches and wrestling bouts under the supervision of this commission. While the cost of maintaining this commission will be collected from those operating under its permits, still the taxpayers will ultimately pay this as well as all other taxes. In appointing the commission, I exercised great care in selecting men of high standing and character and of knowledge. All three are reputable business men, skilled in the supervision of athletic contests, who will endeavor to conduct prize fights on as high a plane as possible. The commission has appointed an able and honest secretary. Regardless of my personal convictions with respect to the moral effect of prize fighting, I have bowed to the will of the people, and have appointed a commission that will give the new law every opportunity to function. If there is a failure the commission can not be blamed.

RECLAMATION BOARD.

At the end of 1922 work on the reclamation board had practically shut down because of the total failure of the credit of the previous board. I made possible the reorganization of this board by appointing a majority of new members. The board, before reorganization, had made contracts for 3,700,000 yards of levees on a warrant basis. After reorganization, legislation was introduced and passed allowing operation on a cash basis, and the contracts were then amended to permit payment of cash. This work has been completed at a saving to date of $133,203.98. Besides these levees, rights of way have been secured, a pumping plant has been installed, levee work accomplished, bridges constructed, and litigation, which has been encountered at every step, successfully fought. The total construction expenditures for the twenty-one months ending 1924, was $929,510.72, being an increase of 60 per cent over the work done by the old administration during a similar period. In spite of this great increase in construction work there has been a decrease in the overhead expenses of the board of 44 per cent. The overhead under the previous administration was 23 per cent, while under the present administration it has been reduced to 8 per cent. This reduction in the cost of operation has not been accomplished by the reduction of salaries of employees, but on the contrary salaries have in a number of instances been increased.

The reclamation board when I took office was one of the worst business tangles that confronted me in any department, and I desire particularly to commend the members of this board for their splendid cooperation in placing this department on a business basis and making it run economically and efficiently.

CORPORATION DEPARTMENT.

This department has been doing a valuable work in protecting the people, as far as the statute permits, against bogus stock schemes. While handicapped in some cases by the failure of district attorneys and other county officials to prosecute law violators, still the good accomplished warrants the cost of the department and indicates the necessity for an increase in the power of the commissioner. The present commissioner has been held over from the previous administration and has proved his worth. While the cost of operating the department has decreased 6 per cent, the number of orders issued has increased 40 per cent and the number of agents' licenses issued has increased 220 per cent. This is a particularly trying department to conduct, as corrupt promoters have used every endeavor to circumvent the commissioner. These men have repeatedly threatened to injure the commissioner, have sued him for libel, have sought to have him indicted, and have harassed him in every way. I have stood behind the commissioner and sustained his policy of running down rascals.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

The state institutions are in control of a director who has been particularly efficient. Under his department are the state hospitals at Patton, Norwalk, Napa, Stockton, Agnew and Mendocino, the state home at Eldridge, and the schools at Whittier, Ventura and Ione. While the economy budget reduced the allowance for these institutions, still savings were made without decreasing the service to the inmates or injuring the administration. In fact, business principles have made a marked improvement in their administration. The gross annual cost per person in these institutions under the former administration was $306.81. This amount has been reduced to $284.42 per annum, meaning a total saving of nearly three hundred thousand dollars annually, while the quality of the food and clothing has been improved. Here economy and efficiency have gone hand in hand with increased comfort for patients.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS.

This department has been reorganized by the statutes of 1923 and is operated with perfect freedom from political control. I have taken an active interest in its affairs and have frequently conferred with its head. This department is composed of the Division of Engineering and Irrigation, Division of Water Rights, and Division of Architecture. It has been of great assistance in the matter of the organization and operation of irrigation projects and in the examination and construction of impounding works. The Division of Water Rights as successor to the water commission, is now recognized as an important branch of the state government, and is functioning with ability and fairness. The increase in the business of this division has been eight per cent while the cost of operation has been decreased twenty-three per cent. The Division of Architecture is pursuing its important task of constructing new buildings and repairing old ones in an efficient manner.

STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

This board is composed of twelve members appointed by the Governor and serving without compensation. The state has been particularly fortunate in securing the services of intelligent, high-class men who are conversant with the various agricultural industries of the state and representative of the various sections. The State Fair annually held at the capital is one of the finest that is held in any state in the Union. Last year, notwithstanding the foot and mouth disease and the resulting absence of all cloven-footed animals, the fair was a greater success than ever and reflected particular credit on the directors. I have taken an active interest in their work and have cooperated with them in every way.

ADJUTANT GENERAL.

During the past two years the National Guard of California has been increased from 3575 members to more than 5500, and this great increase has been accomplished notwithstanding the budget was twenty-five per cent lower than under the former administration. The new adjutant general was appointed by me on the plebiscite method and absolutely because of his merit. His efficient work has reflected credit upon the state. This department is now, for the first time in the history of the state, absolutely free from political domination.

LABOR DEPARTMENT.

This department is run in the interest of those who toil. At its head is a man who has a sympathetic interest in his work. Much good has been accomplished in protecting from exploitation those who can not protect themselves. In the matter of wage collections alone, the department has justified itself. The economy budget made it possible for the commissioner to remove from the pay roll certain useless political parasites and thus increase the efficiency of the department.

MINING BUREAU.

This department has been managed in a very efficient and economical manner, and, notwithstanding the decrease in its allowance, has been able to run more efficiently than formerly. The new mineralogist is thoroughly skilled in his work and deserving of praise.

REAL ESTATE COMMISSION.

This commission is organized for the protection of the people against dishonest real estate schemes, and the commissioner has proved his courage and vigor and has prosecuted law violators as fully as the law will permit.

FISH AND GAME COMMISSION.

This department has been able to conduct its affairs on the economy budget in an efficient and businesslike manner. The savings effected in overhead has made it possible for the commission to build up a surplus and this surplus will be expended in building new fish hatcheries and in other improvements. The policy of economy has proved worth while. I have cooperated with the department in every way to put it on an efficient basis and to assist in seeing that fish and game are protected from commercialized exploitation. Every dollar of fees derived from the sportsmen has been, and will continue to be, expended in the interests of game preservation in California. No attempt has ever been made to take a dollar of the fund of the Fish and Game Commission and tranfer it to the general fund, notwithstanding the continued prevarication of yellow journals upon this subject.

WOMEN'S WELFARE WORK.

The women of the state have always taken an active part in all humanitarian measures. With the development of society many new problems have arisen calling for solution. Women, by their sympathetic interest in all such matters, are well qualified to consider these questions. I therefore suggest that you authorize me to appoint a committee representing different sections of the state and the various groups of women who are interested in welfare work, to the end that a thorough study be made of the entire field and well considered recommendations be presented to the legislature.

LAND SETTLEMENT.

When I took office I found that the land settlement operations at Delhi Colony were in a very bad condition, and it was nearly a year before I could, under the law, make the necesssary changes to put it on a business basis. The new president of the board is a man of practical experience and sympathetic ideas who has done a wonderful work in aiding the colonists and putting the settlement on a business basis. The feelings of the settlers can best be shown by calling attention to the fact that an expensive oil painting of a former director was taken out of the Community hall at Delhi by enraged settlers, cut from the frame, and hung in effigy on the state highway. This act must be condemned by all law-abiding citizens, but is recorded here solely to indicate the sentiment of the people over the failure of the former management.

DEPARTMENT OF FORESTRY.

The majority of the members of this board have been appointed by me and the department is being conducted in an intelligent and efficient manner. The State of California has no forests and no forest land except a grove in Mendocino County and another grove in the Big Basin in Santa Cruz County. This department has cooperated with the national government in helping to protect the forests and assisting the national government in its efforts to preserve the great area of forests in the state which are in the national reserves. This department has been given all the funds that it has requested to meet any emergency.

HARBOR COMMISSION.

The Harbor Commission of San Francisco has under its control one of the most important ports in the nation. Here the state has an immense investment and employs hundreds of men and expends thousands of dollars. This department is now absolutely on a business basis. Money is being expended on bids after fair competition, supplies are being bought on the bid system, and the employees, with very few exceptions are on the civil service list. Never in the history of California has the harbor been so well managed and so well conducted as at the present time. This board has made a creditable record for economy and efficiency. The state budget allowance for the first year was $1,626,982.88, and a balance of $221,374.30 remains to its credit at the end of the year, June 30, 1924. All sources of revenue show decided increases over the preceding year, particularly in rents, dockage and tolls, while the operating expenses for the same period show a decrease of $38,349, as compared with the operating expenses of the previous year. In the operation of the Belt Railroad the net revenue for the fiscal year exceeds the revenue of the previous year by $18,437.20, due to decrease in operating expenses, for which the belt line superintendent is entitled to full credit.

When the new commission took charge there was found an alarming decay in timber and disintegration in exposed works which had to be given early attention. During the first year betterments in the Ferry building, including California marble floors laid in the waiting rooms occupied by railroad companies, called for expense amounting to $63,750. Renovations in the interior of the building have transformed it from a dismal and uninviting assembly enclosure into a restful place in all sections, with light coloring and cheerful effects in decorations, most pleasing to the many thousands of commuters and travelers. Construction of a vehicular subway through which all traffic will be diverted from the crossing of Market street in front of the Ferry building and sent both ways a distance of four blocks, leaving the crowded street open for pedestrians, is a great achievement

Other improvements made by the board to encourage activity on the waterfront and assist the shipping industry are the opening and successful operation of a grain terminal; repaving the Embarcadero with smooth surfacing; reconstruction of the Belt Line Railroad; extending and covering piers; repairing ferry slips and making room for more ships in the southern extension of the harbor; building new pier No. 50, one of the three planned; reclamation of a large area of submerged lands along Islais Creek for commercial uses; and carrying forward a general plan to reclaim 280 acres of waterfront owned by the state. Meantime the well-organized forces of the commission have been giving good service to the shipping public, winning general praise for splendid business management and for the encouragement of commerce. Every dollar of revenue collected by the commission will be expended for the benefit of the harbor. Notwithstanding my frequent reiteration of this statement, certain San Francisco newspapers continue to misrepresent me. Their chronic lying is a habit they are unable to shake off.

VETERANS' WELFARE BOARD.

The interests of those who fought to preserve the nation in the World War, and who now desire to acquire farms and homes have been cared for in an intelligent and sympathetic manner by the Veterans' Welfare Board. My sole appointee on this board is the secretary, who is in fact the manager. He is young, honest and capable and has the best interests of the veterans at heart. If this good work is continued further a new bond issue must be provided. In this matter the state advances its credit and return payments are made easy for the veteran farmers and home-builders. The present plan under a business administration has proved successful.

PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION.

The charitable, humane and progressive laws of the state have been carefully guarded and protected by the various departments having to do with their administration. The budget allowances have been found ample for the full operation of the departments, but, should occasion warrant, assistance will be given from the emergency fund. California has become noted for its welfare legislation in the interests of the whole people. Such laws will be preserved and protected and any attack upon them will be resisted by me. During my career as a public official I have stood consistently for these laws and their sympathetic administration.

OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

There are other departments which have made an efficient and businesslike showing during the past two years but which I have neither the time nor the space to consider at this time. There are other subjects also which I would like to discuss, but will probably take them up with you in special messages from time to time during the session.

I want to assure you of my loyal support and desire to cooperate with you in every way for the best interests of the state, for the continuance of the present business policies of the state government, and for the maintenance in every department of the state of the principles of economy. Boiled down into one word, my policy has been economy, and will continue to be ECONOMY.

Respectfully submitted,

FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON,
Governor of the State of California.

ADDRESS BY SENATOR JONES.

During consideration of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1 Senator Jones addressed the Senate as follows:

This Child Labor Amendment, with its possibilities for the promotion of human welfare and the relief of human misery, is, beyond all comparison, the most important measure that the Legislature of California will be called upon to determine at this session. Nay, more, it is, in my judgment, the most important, in its enduring results, that the Legislature has been called upon to vote on in my fourteen years' service as a member of this Senate.

The contest over this amendment is a struggle essentially between the social service organizations of the Nation on the one hand, and the National Manufacturers' Association and kindred groups on the other hand. The report of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives on the proposed Child Labor Amendment sets forth the groups on the opposing sides. Among the advocates of the amendment, women's organizations are by far the greater part of its supporters. This struggle is a coming to grips of the organized womanhood of the Nation with the manufacturing and industrial interests that desire cheap labor. No worthier cause could be espoused by the mothers and the women of the Nation.

THE ISSUE.

Before discussing the amendment, it is well to have clearly in mind the issue involved. That issue is simple: Shall Congress have concurrent jurisdiction with the states in regulating child labor, so as to bring up backward states to the standard that the public opinion of the Nation demands? Shall the national government, as well as the states, have the right to prevent the exploitation of child labor, in order to protect children if the laws of some states prove inadequate, or if individual states are prevented by powerful industrial interests from acting? This amendment is merely a conferring of authority upon Congress so that it may secure uniformity throughout the Nation.

HISTORY OF THE AMENDMENT.

In order better to understand the occasion for the proposed amendment, a word of historical explanation may not be out of place. In 1916 Congress passed the first National Child Labor Act. That act prohibited the employment, in mills, canneries, factories, workshops and manufacturing establishments, of children under the age of 14 years, and in these same lines of occupation prohibited their employment between the ages of 14 and 16 for more than eight hours a day, and also in these same occupations prohibited night work for children under 16 years of age. In mines and quarries it prohibited work under 16 years of age.

That act was passed upon the theory that Congress had the right to prohibit interstate commerce in goods manufactured by child labor. The act was in effect nine months when the Supreme Court by a divided opinion—a five-to-four decision—held that the jurisdiction of Congress in interstate commerce did not extend to the enactment of legislation of this class. That four judges out of nine should hold that Congress had such authority shows how close was the question as to whether the constitution did not originally endow Congress with such authority.

After the first child labor law was declared invalid, a second child labor act was passed, in 1919, this time upon the theory that Congress had the right to tax goods manufactured by child labor; this second act being similar to the first act as to ages and occupations of children in industry, but imposing a tax of ten per cent of the net profits on goods produced by the labor of children under the specified ages in the specified occupations.

This act, also by a divided opinion of the Supreme Court, was declared invalid.

Thereupon President Harding in his message to Congress in December, 1922, stated that the decisions of the Supreme Court had put the regulation of child labor outside of the domain of Congress until the constitution could be amended. He recommended the submission of such an amendment. President Coolidge, in a message to Congress, also urged the adoption of such an amendment, stating that the Nation should provide "by constitutional amendment and appropriate legislation for the limitation of child labor."

Congress, in accordance with these recommendations, has proposed the amendment now before us, the amendment being approved by the House of Representatives in April, 1924, by a vote of 297 to 69, and in June, 1924, by the Senate by a vote of 61 to 23.

ARGUMENT.

It will be my purpose in discussing the resolution now before us to show two things:

(1) That the need exists for regulating child labor, and
(2) That federal action is necessary.

THE NEED.

In considering the need for stopping child labor I shall base the case against child labor, not upon the grounds of sentiment, but upon the grounds of sound economics.

Time does not permit, on this occasion, of the discussion of the causes of child labor. They are numerous, varied and interwoven. Of all these causes, however, the strongest, the one that constitutes the most formidable opposition to better laws, is the greed of employers—the desire for cheap labor.

EXTENT OF CHILD LABOR.

Taking up the extent of child labor, we find from the federal census of 1920 that there are enumerated as child laborers, between the ages of 10 and 15, 1,060,858. These figures, however, are universally recognized as being far below the actual number at the present time. This is due partly to the fact that the second national child labor act was then in effect, partly to the fact that the figures of the 1920 census related to the date of January 1, 1920, when industry was quiet, whereas the census of 1910 was taken in April, when industry, particularly agricultural, was active; and partly to the fact that the figures of 1920 were compiled at a time of industrial depression. Furthermore these figures do not include children under the age of 10, and of course fail to include many child workers whose parents evaded the census takers.

Even the figures of the 1920 census, however, show that one child in every twelve in the United States, between the ages of 10 and 15, is engaged in gainful occupation, this being defined by the Census Bureau, not to include children who work for their parents at home merely on general housework or chores, or at odd times on other work, but only children whose labor contributes materially to the family income.

The growth of child labor since the second child labor act was declared invalid has been serious. The increase for the last six months of 1922, as compared with the last six months of 1921, as shown by government statistics for 21 cities, was 43 per cent. During the first quarter of the year 1923, in the great cities, such as New York, St. Louis, Baltimore, Detroit, Hartford, and many others, the increase was 24 per cent.

As to age—the 1920 census disclosed that three-eighths of the children enumerated were under the age of 14 years. For example in the beet fields of Colorado 43 per cent of the children were under 11 years of age; in the beet fields of Michigan 38 per cent were under 11 years of age. In some cases they began work before 6 years of age. In the oyster canning industry nearly 25 per cent were under 11 years of age. Sweating has always exploited the smaller children. In Rhode Island over 45 per cent were under 11 years of age, and seven-eighths under 14 years of age. In Connecticut the same percentages are disclosed and in New York the percentages are even higher.

As to literacy and education—illiteracy exists to a startling extent among child labor. Illiteracy among the little folk in the oyster and shrimp canneries of the gulf coast is as high as 25 per cent, while for children of the United States as a whole it is only 4 per cent. Communities with the largest proportion of child workers have the smallest percentage of school attendance, and the highest rate of illiteracy. The following government statistics in different states show the average grade that child workers leave school:

Place	Grade on Leaving School
Woonsocket	3.6
Pawtucket	4.1
Columbus, Ga.	4.0
Georgia and Alabama Counties	3.1
Columbia, S. C.	2.9
Plymouth, Pa.	4.0

EFFECTS OF CHILD LABOR.

Physiological	Moral

PHYSIOLOGICAL EFFECTS.

In childhood the foundation of health is laid. During the years of infancy the body of the child is plastic. About the thirteenth year, physiologists tell us, is the period when the muscles are hardening. In these years of growth excessive strain may produce permanent injury. Particularly with the body undergoing transformation at the age of puberty do injuries often leave permanent effects. Long periods in certain positions, the dust in mines, the lint in textile mills, the poisonous fumes in tobacco factories, affect children much more severely than adults. Moist floors, laundry work, variations in temperature, fumes in varnish, paint, enamel and dye factories, find children their most susceptible victims. Night work is most injurious of all, being contrary to the order of nature. The employment of youthful children under the strain of these modern industrial conditions injures their physique.

Child labor stands condemned because of its physiological effects.

SOCIAL EFFECTS.

Society today needs men and women of physical vigor to become useful citizens, but child labor unfits for social and political life. The child worker is debarred from adequate education. If once started in industry, he seldom returns to school. Few are able to overcome the handicaps of premature labor. Few become factors in directing our civilization. Being unfitted for social and political life, they endanger the citizenship of the country. In the words of Beveridge,

> "Child workers see their inferiority in body, mind and soul, caused, not naturally, but by their slavery. They are robbed of intellect, health, character, and God's light, and they resent it. They turn into engines of wrath against society and breed the anarchistic spirit."

The failure to develop its potential citizens is a social waste.

Child labor stands condemned because of its social effects.

MORAL EFFECTS.

Figures compiled from government sources show that the number of delinquents among working boys runs from two times to ten times the percentage among other boys. The percentage of delinquency among young working girls is greater still. The atmosphere surrounding many trades is demoralizing. Messenger boys, newsboys, errand boys, are required to visit the haunts of vice. They become calloused morally and diseased physically.

The federal government has gathered in a comprehensive manner the data in the following table which shows the proportion of delinquents among working as contrasted with nonworking children:

	Proportion of boys delinquent		Proportion of girls delinquent
	Working	Non-working	Working	Non-working
Boston	15.71	1 46	1 36	0 08
Baltimore	2 87	0 66	0.51	0.02
Newark	3 74	0 89	0 28	0 04
Pittsburgh	6 56	1.54	2 47	0.14
Philadelphia	1 66	0 55	0 34	0 04
Minneapolis	6 67	3.15	1.41	0.31

Long hours and overwork result in excesses and the breakdown of restraint. Night work is particularly objectionable. The development of the character of boys and girls requires more schools, more parks, more playgrounds, better homes—not more child labor.

Child labor stands condemned because of its moral effects.

ECONOMIC EFFECTS.

In its economic effects, the counts against child labor may be listed as follows:

It shortens the period of trade life;
It prevents the developing of efficiency;
It produces unstable labor;
It reduces the wages of adults;
It produces poverty;
It causes race deterioration.

The period of trade life is shortened due to physical depletion from premature labor, and the inability to endure the strain of work at early age. The Nation's available labor power is diminished by drawing prematurely on its economic assets. By early exhaustion trade life is shortened. This economic loss is due to:

(1) Death of the worker in middle life.
(2) Loss of earning power in latter life through injury or physical breakdown.

The mortality of children is high in some industries. The accident rate is high among children. In the tending of machinery, requiring the utmost care of adults, the carelessness and inability of children to concentrate, produces a high rate of accidents. In the cotton mills of the south this rate is 48 per cent higher for children of 14 and 15 than for those of 16 and over. With machinery having shafts and belts it is 133 per cent higher, and with machinery having gears 350 per cent higher.

This mortality among children is an economic loss that can not be replaced. Even though death does not result from accident or in middle life, stunted physiques, deformity, incapacity for hard work, mean loss of productive power. Governmental action is necessary to extend the industrial career.

Child labor prevents the developing of efficiency. Child workers enter industry without a trade education. They join the ranks of the unskilled and remain the victims of low wages throughout their industrial career. They do not receive proper training, but become adapted to routine or specialized work, which is not for their best interest in securing positions.

Child labor is unstable labor. Children being untrained frequently enter positions that do not lead to promotion, short-lived jobs, "blind alley" occupations. With no special training and no opportunity for increasing wages, they go from one job to another. Habits of irregularity are formed. These younger years spent in industry are wasted years. Two years of such irregular work result in instability.

Child labor reduces the wages of adults. In this day of machinery, in many positions, boys displace men, and girls displace women. Frequently there is no difference in the work of the adult and the child, yet the child is given lower wages. The standard rate of wage is thereby reduced and the adults have to accept low wages. This reduces other parents below the poverty line, and the little children of these other parents are driven to the mills and factories to help eke out the family existence. Statistics and investigations show that in communities where child labor exists extensively, the income of the entire family is not materially larger than in localities where the support rests on the economic head of the family.

Child labor produces poverty. The handicap of the child worker, his lack of training in any trade, his lack of education, make him incapable of rising in the scale of living. He is not developed and unable to use foresight. Through early breakdown of physique and lack of ability to better himself, he increases in numbers the dependent class, with its consequent burden upon society.

Child labor causes race deterioration. The injured physique, the sapped energy, the devitalized constitution, the dwarfed and stunted body, and the undeveloped mind that child labor produces affect the health and standard of the race. The physical decline of the English people is traceable in part directly to child labor. The producing and conserving of the best type of physique is inexorably necessary in the complicated civilization of today. A nation which works its boys and girls exhibits the same wisdom as the farmer who grinds his seed corn.

Child labor stands condemned because of its economic effects.

It is a crime against childhood because it prevents the growth of manhood and womanhood. It is a menace to the nation's economic and industrial development because it shortens the trade life of the nation's workers and draws prematurely on its economic assets. It is a crime against the Nation because it prevents the growth of a host of children into strong, patriotic and intelligent citizens.

To legislators of California, I deem it unnecessary to proceed further with the case against child labor. We already have on our statute books a law ahead of the provisions contained in the two national child labor acts. The protection of the children of the state is an established policy of California; a policy which we universally approve, and in which we glory.

Let us turn now to the objections that we hear to the proposed federal amendment. These objections are two:

(1) That it invades the rights of parents.
(2) That it invades the rights of states.

NO RIGHT OF PARENT INFRINGED.

As to the first objection: This is an argument now repeated, with a hundred variations, throughout all the states where this amendment will be up for ratification. Its validity admits of a simple test. Does any parent in the United States now enjoy the right, beyond the possibility of legislative invasion, in disposing of his child's labor as he sees fit? "No." The states can now do everything that it is proposed to empower the federal government to do. In every one of the states of this union, the right of the state is superior to the right of the parent. This amendment does not deprive the parent of any liberty he now enjoys. It does not involve any new principle of government. It simply confers upon Congress an authority which the states have had ever since the adoption of our federal constitution.

THE HOME.

Organizations that have never before done anything in behalf of children are now taken with a sudden attack of interest in the welfare of the nation's children. They talk about the "sacred institution" of the home. I have here in my hand a clipping quoting a speech of a business man from Texas who denounces this amendment as a "step in the direction of the Socialistic plan to make the children the chattels of the state instead of the jewels of the home." I also hold in my hand newspaper clippings from Texas showing what they are doing down there.

> "Merkel, Nov. 2.—Clayton, five-year-old son of D. D. Coats of Merkel, has picked 2,002 pounds of cotton since Aug. 29. His best day's work was 81 pounds."
> "Rotan, Nov. 2.—Lincoln Ernest, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cleveland, picked 72 pounds of cotton before sundown on Oct. 27. He has averaged over 50 pounds a day all fall."

Jewels of the home! When I read those accounts of infants only five years old toiling all through the season, there comes before me the picture of my own little five-year-old girl at home, and I say to myself: Childhood is endowed with certain inalienable rights that tower over and above all material things; among these rights are freedom from earning their daily bread by the sweat of their brow; the right to play and to dream; the right to sleep when night steals over the day; the right to be educated and to pursue and enjoy the happiness of childhood and the company of other children.

If wages are adjusted to the fact of child labor, the parent is no longer free as to putting his children into the factory or keeping them out. The "home" from which children are hurried away every morning to the factory and from which they return every night broken with weariness no longer exists. Child labor is destructive of liberty—of the liberty of the child, of the child's parents who are thrust into a position where they must choose between starvation and the enslavement of their children.

NATIONAL ACTION REQUIRED.

As to the second objection: that this amendment invades the rights of states. It does not take from them their authority to legislate concerning child labor, for its very terms recognize and continue the authority the states now have. It is true, however, that the amendment does confer authority, not to the exclusion of the states, but concurrently with the present authority of the states, upon the federal government to regulate child labor.

There come times when national action becomes necessary. No less than the Senator from Modesto, my preference would have been to have had the abuses of child labor obliterated by the states. But when states refuse to act, a state's right becomes a state's wrong. When, after 135 years, a state refuses to act, is it not time that the federal government be allowed to act in order that the public opinion of the Nation may not be outraged? The gentleman from Modesto, in the year 1919, was not willing to leave to the action of the individual states the regulation of the liquor traffic; he would not be willing to have left the abolition of slavery to the action of individual states. He was not willing, the journals of the extra session of 1919 disclose, to leave the matter of woman suffrage to the action of the individual states. In fact, two years ago, I find from the records of this Senate, he joined in the unanimous action of this body in memorializing Congress to submit an amendment under which Nation-wide and uniform action could be taken for the abolition of the evils of child labor.

FEDERAL ACTION CAN NOT BE BLOCKED.

Federal action is necessary to bring into line those states where the grip of powerful industrial interests throttles every effort at reform. In some states there are industries using child labor that dominate the political action of the state. They crush out the lives of countless little children in the name of states' rights. With the possibility of federal action, these exploiting interests, no matter how powerful or dominating in a particular state, would not be able longer to block relief.

Year after year humanity has battled inhumanity to stop this curse. When states have sought to end it, inhumanity has said: "If this state merely ends it here, other states will flood you with their child-labor products; the only way to end it is by national law." Now, when humanity seeks a national law, inhumanity appears and cries: "This violates states' rights." The time has come to kill this cruel duplicity.

FEDERAL ACTION UNIFORM.

National action is necessary to secure uniformity, and uniformity is necessary to protect the states that have adequate child labor laws. With national legislation, no habitual employer of child labor can escape the law by migrating to another state. If he migrates to a foreign country, we can protect ourselves by the tariff barrier. But if there is only state action fixing a high age limit for child labor, the exploiter of children has only to move across the nearest state boundary. He is free to ship the product of child slavery back into the state, to compete with the products of free labor. The state loses business and taxable property, without being able to bring about any betterment in the adjoining states. In our own state, with our new cotton industry, is it right that we should be penalized in protecting the young children of the state? Should we be put into competition with other states whose standard of child labor legislation is far below ours? Even if half of the states prohibited child labor, about as many children in the United States could still be found in factories, though concentrated in the states of slack laws. Uniformity through federal action prevents this evasion, and protects the progressive states.

FAIR PLAY BETWEEN STATES.

Another reason for federal action is to save or protect certain states from the burden of dependents, broken down by premature strain, coming from other states. In our own State of California, we have a large proportion of immigrants from other states afflicted with tuberculosis, coming here to regain health, having impaired their health through the dust, the moisture, the lint and the fumes of childhood employment. Child labor notoriously involves an immediate profit to the employer at the cost of the efficiency and health of the adult worker. We are migratory people. Under existing conditions the profit is too often enjoyed by one state while the cost is borne by another. The prevention, by federal action, of ill-health would cut off at the source an amount of dependency that now has to be carried by some states which is caused in other states.

PROPAGANDA.

The present propaganda against the Child Labor Amendment seems to know no restraint. The attempt to amend the constitution in the constitutional way is denounced as revolutionary. The supporters of the amendment are branded as bolshevists; and the amendment itself alleged to eminate from communist Russia. Has not the time come when denunciation as a substitute for argument should cease? When four presidents of the United States—Coolidge, Harding, Wilson and Roosevelt—have advocated this amendment; when four members of the Supreme Court of the United States claim that the authority sought by this amendment really was a part of the constitution from the beginning; when the Senate of the United States and the House of Representatives have approved this amendment, it is the utmost limit of propagandist effrontery for parties interested in preserving the privilege of exploiting child labor to continue to talk about Russian Reds!

FOMENTING DISTRUST OF GOVERNMENT.

The opposition seeks to arouse apprehension, misgivings and terror as to what Congress might do. This argument is based upon the supposition that Congress can not be entrusted with this power because it will misuse its authority. Gentlemen of the Senate, this attack is fundamental. It goes to the essence of our representative system of government. Theoretically it is possible for a legislative body to defy the people, to ruin industry, to wreck the country. It is possible for this Legislature to throw the State of California into anarchy. We can withhold the appropriations for the courts, for the prisons, for the militia. Representative government, however, must stand upon the theory that the representatives of the people carry out the will of the people. Human experience has found nothing better as a form of government than a democratic republic. The evils that come from disparaging our system of representative government may become serious. When has Congress shown any inclination to disregard the public will? It has the right to levy taxes, but it does not, through that power, confiscate property or destroy industry. It has the right to declare war, but only exercises this authority when the public opinion of the nation demands. If Congress can be entrusted with the authority to tax, to borrow money, to declare war, it certainly can be entrusted with the authority to protect little children from their exploiters. There has been nothing in the history of our republic to justify the fear that Congress will attempt to say that the boy can not drive the cow to pasture, or mow the lawn, or bring in the kindling, or the girl wash the dishes or tend the baby. Certainly there has been nothing in the two national child labor acts, passed at a time when it was supposed that Congress had unquestioned authority, to justify any misgivings or apprehension.

On the one side are real issues—on the other side are imaginary issues. The evils of child labor are actual. The fear of congressional abuses, imaginary.

It is unthinkable that a great nation should not have the authority to protect its children. Child labor prevents physical, mental, moral and economic development. Its horrors, in the words of President Roosevelt's message to Congress, are "a blot on our civilization."

Gentlemen of the Senate, more earnestly than I have ever pleaded before, do I now ask you that you make the vote in favor of this amendment unanimous. If your vote today is cast for the emancipation of the children of the nation, you will never have any troubled conscience; you will always look back on this vote as one of the matters of pride in your legislative career. Let us flash the word over the nation that California regards little children as something more than the appendage of machinery. Earnestly do the mothers, the women of California, hope—fervently do they pray, that this curse may speedily pass away.

The pure white of that star in our flag that represents California in the sisterhood of states is undefiled by this crime against the little children. May the day soon come when every star shall be undefiled by this blot, when every star shall gleam with the spotless whiteness of purity and freedom from the enslavement of God's little children—when the flag shall float over a land where the lives of little children are not permitted to be crushed out by the wheels of industry nor sacrificed on the altar of greed, a land that is great enough and rich enough not to have to exist off of the labor of little children, a land where every child is given an opportunity to grow up in physical vigor, and to become a useful, happy and patriotic citizen.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR REGARDING ACTS OF EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California.

I am submitting to you herewith a statement of the various acts of executive clemency done by me during my term of office with full reasons for each act. I have not followed the precedent of giving you abbreviated notes, as I believe you should know all of the reasons actuating me in exercising this very important power.

Every request for executive clemency has been given thoughtful and sympathetic consideration. All cases of capital punishment have been looked into carefully whether request has been made or not. I have made it a rule to require arguments and statements regarding pardons to be submitted in writing so that they may be calmly perused and be a part of the public record. This policy has placed the humblest prisoner without friends on a basis of equality with the one able to employ competent counsel, and thus has spared the executive the pain of frenzied oratory and emotional eloquence.

As soon as a case has a complete record it has been acted upon promptly, and cases have not been held back for decision in order to be released on particular days for spectacular effect. Most of the cases denied have appeared to be more proper for parole than for pardon. The parole system has proved its value and should have the support of all good citizens. It has restored many men to society and made them useful citizens. The paroled man has a better chance than the released criminal who has served his term. The paroled man has the aid of the parole officers and the prison board, while the released criminal has usually no one to guide or help him.

I have exercised twenty acts of executive clemency, but only four men have been released from the state's prisons and two from the county jails. Of the four released from the state's prisons three were upon recommendation of the District Attorney of Los Angeles County, who admitted that the men had been wrongfully convicted and were innocent of the crimes charged. The two released from county jails were chiropractors whose action in practicing without licenses seems to have been legalized by affirmative vote of the people upon an initiative amendment.

I have exercised but few acts of executive clemency, as I have found that the verdicts of juries and the decisions of judges can be relied upon, as being just and right. When juries err it is usually in being too lenient with the person accused. I have exercised great care in these matters because I believe it the prime duty of the Governor to uphold the officers of the law and to protect society by convincing criminals and would-be criminals that they can not escape punishment in California and that the era of the sob sister of both sexes is at an end.

The acts of executive clemency can be classified as follows:

Released from state prison	4
Released from county jail	2
Restriction removed	1
Insane nonresident deported	1
Restored to citizenship	5
Commutations of sentence	4
Short reprieves	3

PARDONED FROM STATE'S PRISON.

CLARKE MORTON was pardoned November 8, 1923. He plead guilty to the crime of rape in the county of San Mateo on the second day of April, 1923, and was sentenced under the indeterminate sentence law to be imprisoned from six months to fifty years. On the twenty-seventh day of October, 1923, the Board of Prison Directors fixed his sentence at one year.

Morton, although a boy barely nineteen years old at the time of being sentenced, had a wife and a small baby in Oregon. He was working in Redwood City with his wife's consent, and was attempting to establish a home for his family at the time he met the complaining witness. This witness subsequently charged another young man with the same offense, but he was acquitted. Morton would probably have been acquitted if he had stood trial.

The Judge, District Attorney and Sheriff of San Mateo County, as well as former employers and others, speak well of him and strongly recommend that he be pardoned. It is sufficient to quote from the letters of the District Attorney and Sheriff. District Attorney Franklin Swart writes as follows:

"I believe this is the first instance in which I have addressed the Governor directly in recommending a pardon of a man who has been sentenced to San Quentin. This young man pleaded guilty under a charge of statutory rape and was thereafter sentenced by our Superior Court. At the same time there was a charge pending against another man on a similar charge. The latter was tried and there seemed no question as to his guilt, but the circumstances surrounding the complaining witness and her mother were such that a good jury absolutely refused to convict this man, who in fact had been intimate with the girl in question before Clarke Morton had even seen her. She was a very attractive looking young girl, raised by a mother who perhaps meant well, but who in her handling of the girl was a first-class fool. She threw the girl in contact with men in such a way that a young man could hardly escape. Clarke Morton was working at the time as a dispenser in a candy store. I had been taking lunch at this store and had had occasion to watch the young man for some weeks.

"I do not hesitate to say that he should not be in the penitentiary. I felt this so much just after the trial of the other man referred to, that I directed a letter to the Prison Board and asked that the matter be presented in a proper way in order to have this young man spared from a long prison term.

"I want you to understand that I never knew the young man before. I don't know any of his relatives and I wrote the letters in his behalf upon my own suggestion. The present letter is requested by an attorney who now represents Mr. Morton, but it expresses the same views which I expressed voluntarily to the Prison Board when the defendant was without any attorney or any representative here.

"I appreciate more than anyone your attitude toward the ordinary petition for the pardon of a dangerous man, but this is one case in which I feel that you should give the most careful consideration, and as the prosecuting officer in the case, I freely tell you that I think this young man should not be in the penitentiary."

Sheriff H. W. Lampkin writes as follows:

"On or about February 1st of this year I became acquainted with Clarke Morton, who was employed by John Trahan in his restaurant and confectionery business at Redwood City, and had almost daily occasion to observe the boy in his conduct of the business and his treatment of the people who came into the restaurant. He always conducted himself in a gentlemanly manner and gave every evidence of having been raised right at home. He was pleasant and courteous to the customers and undoubtedly increased the trade of his employer.

"During the time that he was in Redwood City, I never heard anything but good things of him and of the manner in which he deported himself. No complaints were ever made of his conduct and I formed a very high opinion of the boy during the time that I knew him. His conduct while an inmate of our county jail was of the highest order and he never gave us the slightest cause for complaint.

"The girl involved in this case was married to a man in this county within two weeks after the date of the occurrence of the offense charged in this case, and is living in San Mateo County now with her husband. I hope that Clarke Morton's application for executive clemency will receive favorable consideration at your hands, for through my thorough acquaintance with the circumstances and facts of this case, I feel that a great injustice is being done the boy to have him further incarcerated at San Quentin."

Now, therefore, in conformity with the recommendations above referred to and because of the character of Clarke Morton, the fact that he has sufficiently paid for his offense, that he is in no sense a criminal, and that he will return to care for his wife and child, I do hereby pardon him.

PARDONED ON RECOMMENDATION OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY WHO ADVISED PRISONER WAS INNOCENT.

SALVADOR MENDIVAL, San Quentin Prison No. 37157, was pardoned May 2, 1924. He, with Jose Hernandez and Broulio Galindo, was convicted of the crime of robbery in Los Angeles and on November 6, 1922, was given an indeterminate sentence of 1 to 10 years. He was immediately transported to San Quentin, where he has ever since remained.

Mendival, with Hernandez and Galindo and a fourth Mexican, who afterwards died, was arrested and charged with the robbery of the National Bank of Arcadia a few hours after that bank had been robbed. The evidence presented against them at the time of trial was circumstantial and no direct connection was ever shown between the defendants and the crime charged. After their conviction and sentence, a thorough investigation was made by Sheriff William I. Traeger and District Attorney Asa Keyes of Los Angeles County, which convinced them that Mendival and his companions had no connection with the crime and were wrongfully convicted.

District Attorney Asa Keyes and his deputy, W. Maxwell Burke, who personally conducted the trial, strongly recommend that Mendival and his companions be pardoned, and writes as follows:

"All three, Salvador Mendival, Jose Hernandez, and Broulio Galindo, stoutly protested their absolute innocence. * * * They continued to protest their innocence in a dramatic way at the time of sentence. * * * They even amongst themselves protested their innocence.

"These men were tried on September 27, 1922, and after they had gone to the penitentiary, one Jack Thomas appeared in Mr. Burke's office and told him that four other men had told him that they, and not the Mexicans, had committed the robbery at Arcadia; practically at the time of the trial four men were arrested in Los Angeles upon a liquor charge, and at the same time there were counterfeit government strip stamps found at the house. The four men were lodged in jail and Major McReynolds of the United States Internal Revenue Service made an investigation in regard to these men and discovered that these men, particularly one Frank Sullivan and one W. F. McMahon, were two of the men that Jack Thomas had implicated as having in their possession certain of the United States bonds which were stolen from the Arcadia bank; also, there was discovered by the District Attorney and by a Mr. Johnson, a Burns Detective Agency employee, that Sullivan had used one of these United States bonds stolen from that bank in the purchase of illicit liquor. There did not seem to be enough information to hold any of these men for trial at that time, and they were released. Later, Mr. Al Manning, who was Deputy Sheriff and Superintendent of the Criminal Division of the Sheriff's office, was relieved of his position summarily, and Mr. Harry Wright was put in charge. When Mr. Wright took possession of Mr. Manning's office, he discovered in the drawer of the desk about $600 worth of American Express Company checks unsigned. These were proven to be a part of the securities taken from the Arcadia Bank.

"Upon investigation it was found that one Tom Gray, who was one of the four heretofore implicated by Thomas and McReynolds, had buried those checks in a Mason jar in a flower bed upon a ranch of one Sam Lawrence in Artesia, about twenty miles from Arcadia. About the same time a convict by the name of Harold Brownlee, who is now in San Quentin for robbery, was being used by Al Manning as a stool pigeon; that Brownlee told Al Manning that those four men, to wit, Frank Sullivan, W. F. McMahon, Eddie Burns and Tom Gray, had confessed to him that they, and not the Mexicans, were the ones who had robbed the Arcadia Bank.

"In the meantime, the American Express Company had detailed an investigator to trace their checks, which had been stolen from this bank, and a part of which had been cashed at Tia Juana and San Diego, through a bank. It was then discovered that one Hubert Kittle and one David McGregor had received these checks from Frank Sullivan, either directly or indirectly, and had cashed them, or a part of them, under the name of G. McDonald, forging that name in two places upon these checks. Incidentally, Kittle and McGregor have been indicted, and their trial for receiving stolen property is now pending, and Hubert Kittle has made a partial or complete confession of this matter implicating directly Frank Sullivan, Tom Gray, W. F. McMahon and Eddie Burns.

"Some time in March, 1924, one J. B. O'Neill was arrested for robbing a bank at Norwalk in Los Angeles County, and confessed, and in his confession also told that Frank Sullivan had requested him to participate in the Arcadia Bank robbery some time in April of 1922, but that he refused, and later Frank Sullivan told O'Neill that he, Sullivan, together with Burns, Gray and McMahon, had robbed the Bank of Arcadia. In his confession he also told how Sullivan and his wife had helped rob the bank in Norwalk, particularly in helping the actual robbers to escape from the scene, and that Sullivan had received one-third of the proceeds of that robbery. None of these bonds, so far as I have been able to discover, were ever recovered by the bank, or the insurance company.

"Upon all of this information being presented to the Grand Jury of Los Angeles County, six men were indicted for the robbery of the Arcadia Bank, to wit: Frank Sullivan, Tom Gray, Eddie Burns, W. F. McMahon, E. S. McCardia and Sam Fair."

Sheriff William I. Traeger strongly recommends that they be pardoned and writes as follows:

"At the time the four defendants were arrested no moneys or securities were found in their possession, or, in other words, nothing other than the firearms, that would lead the officers to believe that they were the men who committed the crime.

"Although the four defendants were found guilty by a jury, I was somewhat skeptical as to whether or not we had actually apprehended the guilty parties, and, being of this frame of mind, I personally thought it necessary and so instructed, that the investigation be continued, and, although this investigation was rather continuous, I was unable to properly unravel the mystery and cloak myself with sufficient evidence to make further arrests that would bring about convictions, until here recently.

"Mrs. Lelia Sullivan, Hubert M. Kittle, and David G. McGregor, having been apprehended, the latter two, Kittle and McGregor, each made statements connecting each other with possession of the stolen property in the county of Los Angeles, and the encashment of American Express Company's travelers' checks at Tiajuana, Mexico, and San Diego, California, also showing the connection of Frank J. Sullivan, Tom Gray, Eddie Burns, Wm. McMahon, and E. S. McCardie as the actual participants in the bank robbery.

"I then began to accumulate further information, which resulted in actual evidence that proved beyond any doubt that the Mexicans who were arrested and are serving time for having robbed the First National Bank of Arcadia on April 5, 1922, were innocent of that charge, and the men who have been previously mentioned herein are the actual participants, and the guilty parties, and shall be apprehended and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

"Recently the officials and some of the bank employees of the First National Bank of Arcadia, who were connected with the First National Bank of Arcadia on April 5, 1922, and who, to some degree, identified the Mexicans who were apprehended and who are at the present time serving a sentence, are now to a certain degree skeptical as to their identification of the Mexicans, and especially one employee who made verbal statements that the men who actually held up the bank were not Mexicans at all, and furthermore, he stated during a recent interview with him, that at the time the four Mexicans were brought into the bank by the officers for identification, he had a mental reflection as to the contrast between the men brought back by the officers and the men who held up the bank, particularly as to their height, the men brought back to the bank being considerably shorter than the participants. This man's name is Martell Stover.

"At this time, while I am dictating this memorandum, I have just been advised that Hubert M. Kittle, who was out on bail, has just committed suicide, which might be taken as a substantial indication of his guilt, inasmuch as it seems that he preferred death rather than to stand trial.

"* * * the Mexicans are not guilty of the Arcadia Bank robbery; that the men and women now indicted are the ones who committed the robbery, and I therefore recommend that you pardon Salvador Mendival and Broulio Galindo, who are serving a sentence of twenty-five years at Folsom, and Jose Hernandez, serving a ten-year sentence at San Quentin, for the crime for which they are now serving the sentences above enumerated."

Mendival's companions, Hernandez and Galindo, having been twice convicted of felonies, can not be pardoned by me at this time. Section 1 of article VII of the constitution provides that in such case a pardon must be first recommended by the Supreme Court. This recommendation has not been received to date.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the recommendations above referred to, which show that he was not guilty of the robbery charged, I do hereby pardon Salvador Mendival.

PARDONED AND DEPORTED ON RECOMMENDATION OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY WHO ADVISED PRISONER WAS INNOCENT.

JOSE HERNANDEZ, Folsom Prison No. 12208, was pardoned May 26, 1924. He, with Salvador Mendival and Broulio Galindo, was convicted of the crime of robbery in Los Angeles, and on November 6, 1922, was given an indeterminate sentence of 1 year to life. He was immediately transported to Folsom, where he has ever since remained.

Hernandez, having been twice convicted of a felony, could not be pardoned under section 1, article VII of the constitution, until such pardon was recommended by a majority of the Justices of the Supreme Court. This recommendation has been received.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the recommendations of the members of the Supreme Court, and other recommendations above referred to, which show that he was not guilty of the robbery charged, I do hereby pardon Jose Hernandez. This pardon is being granted with the understanding that Hernandez be delivered to the United States immigration officials, and that he be deported to Mexico.

PARDONED ON RECOMMENDATION OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY WHO ADVISED PRISONER WAS INNOCENT.

BROULIO GALINDO, Folsom Prison No. 12286, was pardoned September 30, 1924. He, with Salvador Mendival and Jose Hernandez, was convicted of the crime of robbery in Los Angeles, and on November 6, 1922, was given an indeterminate sentence of one year to life. There did not seem to be enough information to hold any of these men for trial at that time, and they were released. Later, Mr. Al Manning, who was Deputy Sheriff and Superintendent of the Criminal Division of the Sheriff's office, was relieved of his position summarily, and Mr. Harry Wright was put in charge. When Mr. Wright took possession of Mr. Manning's office, he discovered in the drawer of the desk about $600 worth of American Express Company checks unsigned. These were proven to be a part of the securities taken from the Arcadia Bank.

"Upon investigation it was found that one Tom Gray, who was one of the four heretofore implicated by Thomas and McReynolds, had buried those checks in a Mason jar in a flower bed upon a ranch of one Sam Lawrence in Artesia, about twenty miles from Arcadia. About the same time a convict by the name of Harold Brownlee, who is now in San Quentin for robbery, was being used by Al Manning as a stool pigeon; that Brownlee told Al Manning that these four men, to wit, Frank Sullivan, W. F. McMahon, Eddie Burns and Tom Gray, had confessed to him that they, and not the Mexicans, were the ones who had robbed the Arcadia Bank.

"In the meantime, the American Express Company had detailed an investigator to trace their checks, which had been stolen from this bank, and a part of which had been cashed at Tia Juana and San Diego, through a bank. It was then discovered that one Hubert Kittle and one David McGregor had received these checks from Frank Sullivan, either directly or indirectly, and had cashed them, or a part of them, under the name of G. McDonald, forging that name upon two places upon these checks. Incidentally, Kittle has made a partial or complete confession of this matter, implicating directly Frank Sullivan, Tom Gray, W. F. McMahon and Eddie Burns.

"Some time in March, 1924, one J. B. O'Neill was arrested for robbing a bank at Norwalk in Los Angeles County and confessed, and in his confession also told that Frank Sullivan had requested him to participate in the Arcadia Bank robbery some time in April, 1922, but that he refused, and later Frank Sullivan told O'Neill that he, Sullivan, together with Burns, Gray and McMahon, had robbed the Bank of Arcadia. In his confession he also told how Sullivan and his wife had helped rob the bank in Norwalk, particularly in helping the actual robbers to escape from the scene, and that Sullivan had received one-third of the proceeds of that robbery. None of these bonds, so far as I have been able to discover, were ever recovered by the bank or the insurance company.

"Upon all of this information being presented to the Grand Jury of Los Angeles County, six men were indicted for the robbery of the Arcadia Bank, to wit: Frank Sullivan, Tom Gray, Eddie Burns, W. F. McMahon, E. S. McCardia and Sam Fair."

Sheriff William I. Traeger strongly recommends that they be pardoned, and writes as follows:

"At the time the four defendants were arrested no moneys or securities were found in their possession, or, in other words, nothing other than the firearms, that would lead the officers to believe that they were the men who committed the crime.

"Although the four defendants were found guilty by a jury, I was somewhat skeptical as to whether or not we had actually apprehended the guilty parties, and, being of this frame of mind, I personally thought it necessary and so instructed, that the investigation be continued, and, although this investigation was rather continuous, I was unable to properly unravel the mystery and cloak myself with sufficient evidence to make further arrests that would bring about conviction, until here recently.

"Mrs. Lelia Sullivan, Hubert M. Kittle, and David G. McGregor, having been apprehended, the latter two, Kittle and McGregor, each made statements connecting each other with possession of the stolen property in the county of Los Angeles, and the encashment of American Express Company's travelers' checks at Tijuana, Mexico, and San Diego, California, also showing the connection of Frank J. Sullivan, Tom Gray, Eddie Burns, Wm. McMahon, and E. S. McCardie as the actual participants in the bank robbery.

"I then began to accumulate further information which resulted in actual evidence that proved beyond any doubt that the Mexicans who were arrested and are serving time for having robbed the First National Bank of Arcadia on April 5, 1922, were innocent of that charge, and the men who have been previously mentioned herein are the actual participants, and the guilty parties, and shall be apprehended and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

"Recently the officials and some of the bank employees of the First National Bank of Arcadia, who were connected with the First National Bank of Arcadia on April 5, 1922, and who, to some degree, identified the Mexicans who were apprehended and who are at the present time serving a sentence, are now to a certain degree skeptical as to their identification of the Mexicans, and especially one employee who made verbal statements that the men who actually held up the bank are not Mexicans at all, and, furthermore, he stated during a recent interview with him, that at the time the four Mexicans were brought into the bank by the officers for identification, he had a mental reflection as to the contrast between the men brought back by the officers and the men who held up the bank, particularly as to their height, the men brought back to the bank being considerably shorter than the participants. This man's name is Martell Stover.

"At this time, while I am dictating this memorandum, I have just been advised that Hubert M. Kittle, who was out on bail, has just committed suicide, which might be taken as a substantial indication of his guilt, inasmuch as it seems that he preferred death rather than to stand trial

"* * * the Mexicans are not guilty of the Arcadia Bank robbery; that the men and women now indicted are the ones who committed the robbery, and I therefore recommend that you pardon Salvador Mendival and Broulio Galindo, who are serving a sentence of twenty-five years at Folsom, and Jose Hernandez, serving a ten-year sentence at San Quentin, for the crime for which they are now serving the sentences above enumerated."

Galindo, having been twice convicted of a felony, could not be pardoned under section 1, article VII of the constitution, until such pardon was recommended by a majority of the justices of the Supreme Court. This recommendation has been received.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the recommendation of the members of the Supreme Court, and the other recommendations above referred to, which show that he was not guilty of the robbery charged, I do hereby pardon Broulio Galindo.

RESTRICTIONS OF PREVIOUS PARDON REMOVED.

On January 13, 1923, the limitation upon the pardon of Dr. William Card was removed by me. Card was convicted in the Superior Court in the city and county of San Francisco on July 7, 1918, of the crime of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to serve a term of from ten years to life imprisonment in San Quentin Prison. On January 8, 1923, a pardon was issued to him by the Honorable William D. Stephens, Governor of California, which pardon was conditioned upon Card leaving the State of California immediately upon his release from state prison, and never returning to the state.

It appeared to me that it would be a dangerous precedent for California to banish its criminals to other states, and that if we adopted such a policy the forty-seven other states might banish their criminals to California. The power of a governor in this matter is unquestioned, and if a governor can banish from California he could banish to a particular state. The question of the merits of the pardon issued by my predecessor was not at issue for the reason that I had the right to assume that the pardon was issued for good reasons and for worthy purposes. The only question that confronted me was that of removing the restriction of banishment.

In addition to the bad policy of banishing prisoners to other states, it appeared to me to be an unfair handicap upon Card to exile him from his own state and thus make it difficult to support his wife and family. For these reasons on January 13, 1923, I amended the pardon of January 8, 1923, issued by Governor Stephens, by removing the restriction.

CHIROPRACTOR PARDONED FROM COUNTY JAIL.

H. C. SAUNDERS, a chiropractor, was pardoned August 2, 1923. He was convicted in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the county of Orange, for practicing chiropracty without a license or certificate to do so, and was sentenced by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams of that county to be imprisoned in the county jail of that county for a period of 120 days. The defendant is now confined in the county jail of Orange County.

As the people by their vote at the last election made the practice of chiropracty legal, I believe I am expressing the will of the people by pardoning the defendant, and I do hereby pardon the said H. C. Saunders.

CHIROPRACTOR PARDONED FROM COUNTY JAIL.

J. E. WILLIS, a chiropractor, was pardoned August 2, 1923. He was convicted in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the county of Tulare on the second day of March, 1922, of practicing chiropracty without a license or certificate to do so, and was sentenced by Superior Judge W. B. Wallace of that county on the sixth day of March, 1922, to be imprisoned in the county jail of that county for a period of five months. The defendant appealed from this conviction to the Appellate Court of the Third Appellate District and that court affirmed the judgment of the Superior Court on the thirtieth day of June, 1922. The defendant is now confined in the county jail of Tulare County.

As the people by their vote at the last election made the practice of chiropracty legal, I believe I am expressing the will of the people by pardoning the defendant, and I do hereby pardon the said J. E. Willis.

RESTORED TO CITIZENSHIP WHILE ON PAROLE.

EDWARD MCCAMISH was pardoned November 1, 1923. He was convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree in the Superior Court of Los Angeles County, and on the twenty-eighth day of September, 1897, was sentenced to life imprisonment. He served continuously from that time until the ninth day of April, 1910, when he was paroled by the Board of Prison Directors, from which date until the present time he has been under parole, reporting regularly to the parole officer.

McCamish's conduct on parole has been exemplary as evidenced by the report of State Parole Officer Ed. H. Whyte, and by letters of recommendation which have been received from practically all his employers, as well as from the Mayor, Chief of Police, and police officers of the city of Berkeley, in which city he has spent most of his time since being paroled. Part of Whyte's statement is as follows:

> "McCamish's conduct since his release on parole has been exemplary and he has complied with the parole rules to the letter. To every one employing him, McCamish has given entire satisfaction.
> "He has filed his monthly report promptly each month since his release, and it has been a pleasure to note each month an increase in his savings. At the present time McCamish has to his credit in savings the sum of $3,490, which to my way of thinking is the best indication of his industry, thrift and good intentions. I know of no other way to describe his record than to say he has made good in all respects, and feel that after all those years of excellent conduct he is deserving of a pardon."

Under the indeterminate sentence law, McCamish, undoubtedly, would have been given his full freedom long ago by the Board of Prison Directors, but this law was not passed until recently, and hence the board has had no power to take such action.

Now, therefore, in conformity with the recommendations above referred to, and because of his exemplary conduct for more than twenty-six years, thirteen in prison and thirteen and one-half years on parole, and because of the fact that a technicality of the law prevents him from being given his freedom by the Board of Prison Directors, I do hereby pardon the said Edward McCamish.

RESTORED TO CITIZENSHIP AFTER PAROLE AND EXPIRATION OF TERM.

ARTHUR E. MOUFFE was pardoned December 14, 1923. He was sentenced from Los Angeles County on the twelfth day of December, 1918, to be imprisoned under the indeterminate sentence law for the crime of forgery. On December 20, 1919, the Board of Prison Directors fixed his sentence at eighteen months with immediate parole. On the 12th day of March, 1920, his sentence expired, and he was given a certificate of discharge.

Mouffe's forgery was committed against his employers, the Union Oil Company of California at Los Angeles. Upon his release from prison he returned to his old home and has remained there ever since. His conduct in prison and while on parole was exemplary, and ever since his release he has proved himself to be a good citizen. These facts are testified to by numerous persons who have known Mouffe since his release, as well as by his employers. The officials of the Union Oil Company of California are among those who have petitioned that he be restored to citizenship. C. W. Ralph, director of sales and transportation of that company, writes in part as follows:

"The writer was authorized some weeks ago by W. L. Stewart, president, and E. W. Clark, executive vice-president, to act for the Union Oil Company in the matter of request for executive clemency in the case of the above mentioned. Since his parole I have made it my personal business to follow up the activities of this young man, so that when we were satisfied he had learned his lesson that we might in every possible way assist him to start along new lines.

"I am very glad of the opportunity to state that Mr. Mouffe has conducted himself in a manner which is a credit to himself, his family and friends, that he has provided, to the best of his ability, for his family and he has earned the confidence of his present employer, and on requesting the Union Oil Company of California to endorse his application for clemency, we wish to say that we are pleased of this privilege and will willingly reemploy this young man should he desire to enter our service. We believe this is the disposition that should be shown by the former employers of those who err and who show an honest desire to once again take up their burdens and conduct themselves along proper lines.

"We believe this young man has earned the confidence of his fellow citizens and we sincerely hope that after a review of his application, you will conclude to grant his request.

"If there is any further information desired, kindly advise.

Respectfully yours,

UNION OIL COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA.
(Signed) C. W. Ralph."

Mouffe's former employer writes as follows:

"Having known Mr. A. E. Mouffe, of 509½ So. Pacific Boulevard, Huntington Park, California, both before and since his unfortunate experience, I am of the opinion that he is a fit and worthy person to be restored to citizenship.

"Mr. Mouffe was formerly employed by me and I can not speak too highly of his services.

Yours truly,

THE GRANT FORGE SHOP.
(Signed) John Grant."

Mouffe's present employer writes as follows:

"A. E. Mouffe has been working under the writer's personal supervision for the past four years as steel heat treater and general forge shop work. I have always found him a good, steady, obedient and reliable workman, faithful in the discharge of his duties. He is a man of the highest character, and very good to his family. Am proud to have him in this plant, and would be pleased to have more men like him.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) R. B. ADAMS,
Superintendent, Wilson & Willard Mfg. Co."

Now, therefore, in conformity with the recommendations above referred to, and because of his excellent conduct in prison, while on parole, and since his release, which conduct shows him to be entitled to be restored to citizenship, I do hereby pardon Arthur E. Mouffe.

RESTORED TO CITIZENSHIP WHILE ON PAROLE.

THOMAS A. PATTON was pardoned December 22, 1923. He pleaded guilty to assault to commit rape on May Goeller in the month of January, 1917, and was sentenced by the Superior Court of Sacramento County on January 29, 1917, to be imprisoned for twenty years. He was paroled January 30, 1920.

At the time the crime was alleged to have been committed, Patton was so drunk that he had no recollection as to what occurred. He fell into the hands of an inexperienced attorney, who misrepresented the prosecution's case and prevailed on him to plead guilty so as to get probation.

Dr. James T. Christian, who at the time of the alleged offense was employing the prosecuting witness, writes as follows:

"Some months ago I addressed you relative to Thomas A. Patton. I again address you in his behalf to bring out a few more points in his case, which I understand is up for a complete pardon.

"As I stated before in my letter, May Goeler, his accuser, is an epileptic and is mentally deficient, and has a mania for making accusations against other persons similar to those made against Mr. Patton. On one occasion she accussed a Mr. Dwight Comstock of this place of attempting to rape her, but the charge was proven absolutely false upon investigation. She also accused her brother-in-law, Henry May, of attempting to rape her—the circumstances are as follows: I was called to Mr. May's residence about ten p.m. to attend Miss Goeler. I found her in a hysterical condition and upon demanding the reason for her condition she informed me that she was alone with her brother-in-law and that he had assaulted her. I at once called Mr. May, and, upon telling him in her presence what she had said, she admitted that she had told a lie and that the real reason for her condition was that she was angry because she had not been allowed to go to Ione with her sister. Upon another time, while she and several girls were picking flowers near Carbondale, she came running to the girls and said a man had tried to assault her near an old mine shaft. There was a searching party organized, but no trace could be found of anyone having been in that vicinity.

"I have every reason to believe Mr. Patton innocent. First: I know that the girl is absolutely irresponsible and insane. Second: I sent swabs from the vagina of Miss Goeler, taken one-half hour after the time of the alleged assault, to the Dameron Laboratory at Stockton and they were found to be free from any evidence of semen. Third: Mr. Cameron, an attorney, was in his offices just about nine feet away and heard nothing that would indicate that a struggle was going on. Fourth: Mr. Patton was in such a condition physically at the time of the alleged assault that it would have been a physical impossibility for him to have actually raped the girl. He was intoxicated almost to a stupor.

"I personally know that Mr. Cameron, his attorney, was afraid to proceed with the trial, and desired to get out as quickly as possible, no matter who suffered.

"I feel that Mr. Patton is a victim of unlucky circumstance and has suffered for a crime for which he is absolutely not guilty. He is deserving of help at this time, and if you can see fit to grant him a complete pardon, I know that he will never act in any manner that will make you regret that you have done so, and your kindness will be greatly appreciated by his many friends in this vicinity."

The Judge, District Attorney, prosecuting witness, and numerous responsible persons, recommend that Patton be pardoned. District Attorney Bradford writes as follows:

"He has been on parole for several years and has 'made good.' During this time, I have seen him quite a number of times and often heard of his work. He now is asking for a pardon, and, in view of his conduct while on parole, I very heartily recommend his request to your favorable consideration. Especially, I do this because doubt has since been cast upon the story of the girl."

Patton's conduct in prison and while on parole has been exemplary, as testified to by officials, employers, and others.

Now, therefore, because of the recommendations above referred to, and of the fact that there is very grave doubt of his guilt, and because of his exemplary conduct in prison and while on parole, I do hereby pardon the said Thomas A. Patton.

RESTORED TO CITIZENSHIP AFTER PAROLE AND EXPIRATION OF TERM.

VINCENT J. STEFFAN, formerly known as Vincent Steffanke, was pardoned August 4, 1924. He pleaded guilty to second degree burglary in Sacramento County and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in Folsom Prison. He was received there January 11, 1911, and was given No. 7763. On August 11, 1914, he was discharged and went to San Francisco, where he pleaded guilty to violating probation given him by Judge Wm. P. Lawlor of that county in 1910, and to second degree burglary committed in San Francisco in September, 1914. For these crimes he was sentenced to be imprisoned for seven and three years respectively, such sentences to run concurrently. He was received at San Quentin November 20, 1914, being given No. 27975, and was released on parole January 10, 1918. He continued on parole until August 20, 1919, when he was discharged.

During his incarceration in San Quentin, Steffan became converted to Christianity and a complete reformation took place in his life. He carried on evangelistic work among his fellow prisoners and has continued such work ever since his release. In 1923 he was ordained a minister of the Presbyterian Church and elected prison chaplain at large for the state by the Presbyterian Synod.

The Supreme Court of California has unanimously recommended that Steffan be pardoned. Honorable George H. Cabiniss, Judge of the Superior Court of San Francisco, who sentenced Steffan to San Quentin, likewise recommends and writes as follows:

"I earnestly recommend that V. J. Steffanke's application for pardon be granted. Whilst in prison Steffanke underwent a genuine change of heart. After leaving prison he became closely identified with the Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of which he has done much good work. I am in full accord with your view that criminals should be punished and not coddled; and yet in exceptional cases (of which the Steffanke case is one), I believe the full clemency of the law should be extended to one who has already been severely punished and seeks now a pardon, only that he may be restored to all of his rights as a citizen."

Several officials connected with the state's penal institutions who have been in touch with Steffan for several years have recommended that he be pardoned. Among them are Warden J. A. Johnston of San Quentin Prison, Superintendent O. H. Close of Preston School of Industry, Trustee B. F. Pearson of Whittier State School and state parole officer, Ed. H. Whyte. Mr. Whyte writes as follows:

"His case was called to my attention on many occasions while he was in San Quentin on account of the great transformation in him. He not only set out to redeem himself but also helped many of the prisoners. I met and conversed with him and became convinced in my own mind that should he continue on the outside with the course he started in prison he would make good.

"From January, 1918, until August 20, 1919, I kept close observation of his conduct and deportment and found him sincere in his work and studies. Since his discharge, I have not only kept in personal touch with him but have inquired of his friends and the clergy with whom he is carrying on missionary work, and I am thoroughly convinced that Steffanke has not only staged a comeback but through his position as missionary of the Presbyterian Church I feel he will continue lending a helping hand to the unfortunate. I take great pleasure in recommending him to your excellency."

A large number of ministers of various denominations from all parts of California who have had occasion to work with Steffan, and to observe his conduct since his release from prison, have written letters strongly urging that he be pardoned. Rev. Lapsley A. McAfee of Berkeley, past moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of California, writes as follows:

"This is my most cordial commendation of Vincent J. Steffan, who is now making an application before you. I know him very well and have known him for the past several years. I know his record previously and I honor him very highly. Knowing the detail of his application and knowing his genuine worth, I am eager to be counted among those to urge favorable action for him."

Rev. Augustus B. Prichard of Los Angeles writes as follows:

"He has continued since his liberation in a course of life which gives yet further evidence of the reality of his transformation. He has been very closely observed by a large number of intelligent Christian people and I have yet to learn of a single misstep on his part, or of even a word escaping him that would continue to link him with the old life. He is assuredly a new creature in Christ Jesus. As one of those who have had especially good opportunity to know the man and witness his manner of life, I take great pleasure in asking that clemency be shown him to the extent of granting him a full pardon."

Rev. G. A. Briegleb of Los Angeles, present Moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of California, writes as follows:

"For the last seven years he has been doing evangelistic work and is now the Chaplain-at-Large to Penal Institutions of California of our Presbyterian denomination. He is an ordained Presbyterian clergyman, a member of the Presbytery of Los Angeles. I know of no man that deserves the approbation of men in a greater degree than does Mr. Steffan. He has made good, has a tremendously powerful message and is being used in a very large way in our denomination in evangelistic work. He married a young woman who was for some time my church secretary, and it has been a source of personal joy to me to see the growth in grace of this good brother."

Now, therefore, in consideration of his meritorious conduct in prison, on parole, and since his release, which shows his worthiness to be restored to citizenship, and in reliance upon the recommendations above referred to, as well as many others, I do hereby pardon Vincent J. Steffan, formerly known as Vincent Steffanke.

RESTORED TO CITIZENSHIP AFTER PAROLE AND EXPIRATION OF TERM.

SAM F. KENNEDY, San Quentin Prison No. 31252, was pardoned December 4, 1924. He pleaded guilty of the crime of burglary in Santa Barbara County and was sentenced January 10, 1918, to an indeterminate period of from one to fifteen years at San Quentin Prison. The State Board of Prison Directors in due course fixed his term at four years. On July 12, 1919, he was released on parole and on January 12, 1921, his term expired.

Ever since his release on parole Kennedy has lived with and supported his wife and two children and has kept steadily employed. His exemplary life during that time and his fitness to be restored to citizenship are testified to by many responsible persons who have observed his conduct, and recommend that he be pardoned. Among those who do so are the following:

J. F. Frick, Supervisor, Fourth District.
M. G. Wenz, Pastor, M. E. Church.
L. E. Heiges, M.D., District Surgeon, S. P. R. R.
V. A. Kennedy, Editor, Lompoc Review.
G. W. Meals, Attorney at Law.
W. S. Bland, Chief of Police.
A. C. Whittemore, President Board of Trustees.
F. A. Mann, Justice of the Peace.
W. E. Talbott, M.D., Health Officer.
R. S. Lagier, Vice President, Commercial Trust & Savings Bank, Lompoc.

Dr. L. E. Heiges of Lompoc writes as follows:

"I am family physician and fraternal brother to Mr. Kennedy and his family. In this connection I have had opportunity to observe Mr. Kennedy not only in his home life but in community and social life as well. Believing that he is able and willing to reestablish himself on the firm and sound footing of good citizenship, I do not hesitate to recommend any favorable action you may take in this matter."

W. S. Bland, Chief of Police of Lompoc, writes as follows:

"He reported to me regularly during his parole and I have had opportunity for the several years he has been employed by his brother, editor of the Lompoc Review, to observe his conduct, which has been in every way becoming. He has been hard-working and regular in his habits, making a home for his wife and children."

The Honorable A. C. Whittemore, president of the Board of Trustees of the City of Lompoc, writes as follows:

"I have had opportunity to observe the young man and have never heard of anything to his discredit, since his return to this city on parole. From what I can learn I believe that he will make good use of citizenship if it is returned to him and will not abuse this privilege."

H. J. Moore, Keeper of the Records and Seal of Lompoc Lodge No. 57 of the Knights of Pythias, writes as follows:

"I personally am acquainted with Mr. Sam F. Kennedy and believe his conduct in his home and our community to be of an exemplary nature. Since his release from San Quentin on parole Mr. Kennedy has been employed by his brother, Mr. V. A. Kennedy, editor of the Lompoc Review, and has been in constant support of his wife and two children. I would heartily recommend any favorable action your office might care to take in this action, believing that Mr. Kennedy would prove himself to be one of our average citizens."

Ronald M. Adam, Editor and Proprietor of the Lompoc Record writes as follows:

"In reply to your letter of November 19th, regarding Sam F. Kennedy of Lompoc, will state that his conduct and behavior have been good. He has been working steadily for a long time for his brother, V. A. Kennedy, in the printing business in Lompoc. He has attended to his own business and has not been into any trouble since his release from prison. I made inquiry and he appears to be paying his bills and is going straight. Therefore, from my own observation and from the investigation that I have quietly made, I believe that he is worthy of your pardon."

The Honorable W. L. Talbott, member of the Board of Supervisors of Santa Barbara County, writes as follows:

"I have known the family for several years and am familiar with the trouble this young man got into and his life since his release from sentence and parole. He is raising a family and seems to be making every effort to overcome his past record, and is doing it here among the hardest circumstances possible, among people who know his past. I believe he will make proper use of citizenship if it be returned to him, better use probably than many who have never made the first slip."

All the officials connected with the prisoner's trial, to wit: The Honorable S. E. Crow, Superior Judge; Honorable James Ross, Sheriff; and Honorable E. W. Squier, District Attorney, have recommended that he be pardoned.

Now, therefore, in view of the recommendations above referred to, as well as those of many other responsible citizens, and because of the exemplary life he has led, which shows him to be worthy, I do hereby pardon the said Sam F. Kennedy, for the purpose of restoring him to citizenship.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.

The sentence of MICHAEL PARASKEVOPOULOS was commuted December 18, 1923, from life to fifteen years. He plead guilty in the month of October, 1917, to murder in the first degree, and on October 31, 1917, was sentenced to life imprisonment by the Superior Court of Napa County. He was immediately imprisoned in San Quentin, where he has ever since remained. His conduct while in prison has been exemplary.

On the night the offense was committed, the defendant, who is a Greek, was engaged in a drunken brawl with two fellow countrymen. His brother, Christos, seeing him so engaged, rushed up and fatally shot one of the defendant's opponents. For some reason the defendant's attorneys, who are now dead, compelled him to plead guilty in spite of the fact that he had had nothing to do with the firing of the fatal shot.

In May, 1922, Governor Stephens commuted the sentence of the defendant's brother Christos to time served, because he had fired the fatal shot believing his brother's life in danger.

Both the trial judge and the District Attorney, among others, have recommended commutation of the defendant's sentence. The District Attorney recites the above facts, and writes as follows:

> "As conclusion from the foregoing facts and particularly in view of the excellent character and reputation which said applicant had prior to this unfortunate trouble, and the excellent character and reputation which he has borne during his entire incarceration, and believing that he can again become a useful member of society, I have no hesitancy in recommending a commutation of sentence and I therefore recommend that your Excellency commute the sentence of the aforesaid Michael Paraskevopoulos, San Quentin Register No. 31044, to one which will be the approximate punishment of manslaughter.
> NATHAN F. COOMBS, > Prosecuting District Attorney."

Now, therefore, upon the recommendations of the Judge, District Attorney, and others, and in order to prevent a miscarriage of justice, I do hereby commute the sentence of the said Michael Paraskevopoulos from life to fifteen years.

SENTENCE OF EXECUTION COMMUTED, PRISONER BEING UNDER EIGHTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

The sentence of WILLIAM ALEXANDER HARD was commuted April 14, 1924, to life imprisonment. He was convicted of murder in the first degree in the Superior Court of Siskiyou County on the fourth day of March, 1924, and was sentenced to be hanged at San Quentin prison on Friday, the twenty-third day of May, 1924.

Since the conviction of Hard I have made a careful investigation and have discovered that he was not of the age of eighteen years at the time of the commission of the murder. This is shown by his birth certificate and the record of his baptism. This evidence was not presented to the jury. From the evidence presented to the jury it decided that Hard was of the age of eighteen years.

Section 190 of the Penal Code provides that the death penalty shall not be inflicted upon any person for murder committed before such person shall have reached the age of eighteen years.

Now, therefore, in view of the above facts and the law, I do hereby commute the sentence of the said William Alexander Hard to life imprisonment.

This action is taken solely for the reasons stated above. The murder committed was cruel, cold-blooded and deliberate. There were no extenuating circumstances. Hard has the appearance of being nineteen years of age, as he stated to officers when arrested, and his conduct on the witness stand showed keen intelligence and force.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.

The sentence of HERBERT W. REED was commuted April 18, 1924, to ten years' imprisonment. He pleaded guilty to the crime of sodomy committed in San Joaquin County on March 27, 1921, and was sentenced to an indeterminate sentence of from five years to life on June 14, 1921. He was immediately transported to San Quentin Prison, where he has since remained.

At the time Reed was sentenced, the law in such cases provided that the sentence could not be less than five years. However, on July 29, 1921, this law was amended changing the sentence in such cases to not less than one nor more than ten years. It is, therefore, apparent that if he had pleaded guilty he would have been sentenced under the amended statute.

While confined in San Quentin his conduct has been exemplary, and he has been of great assistance to the prison officials. Reverend Spence Burton, representative of the Episcopal Church at San Quentin, writes as follows:

> "Mr. Reed holds a responsible position in charge of the University Extension Work in the prison. He is trusted by the authorities and liked by his fellow prisoners. I shall not presume to make any suggestions to you in regard to Mr. Reed, but I beg of you to consider his excellent record both for usefulness and trustworthiness while in San Quentin."

William R. Blumenthal, assistant to the chaplain at San Quentin, writes as follows:

"I have known Mr. Reed during two years that I have made regular monthly visits to the prison, and have had opportunity to observe his work and conduct. I am happy to be able to say that I always found him gentlemanly, considerate and courteous. The guards and inmates all speak of him in terms of highest praise.

"As assistant to former Chaplain Laizure and as the one in charge of the University Extension Division, he has fulfilled and filled full his duties in a most able and efficient manner. Mr. Reed rendered my Committee for Personal Service aid in helping us conduct our holiday services for the past two seasons, for which we are all duly grateful.

"I bespeak your consideration of his case, for I am convinced that he is worthy of a chance to show that he can make good."

C. D. Seacrist, the complaining witness against Reed, recommends clemency, and writes as follows:

"I am asking a favor in regard to Mr. Reed, now in San Quentin, that he be pardoned or paroled. I am the man who made the charges against him that he pleaded guilty to, but I feel that he has paid full penalty for his crime and am more than willing that he be pardoned or paroled. Hoping you may find it possible to grant this favor."

Judge George F. Buck of San Joaquin County, who sentenced Reed, recommends that his sentence be commuted to ten years, and District Attorney Edward Van Vranken of that county approves this recommendation. Judge Buck writes as follows:

"The offense charged against the defendant was committed on the twenty-seventh day of March, 1921, and the information charging the same as a crime was presented by the District Attorney on the fourteenth day of June, 1921. And on the fourteenth day of June, 1921, the defendant appeared in court, waived right to counsel, and entered his plea of guilty, and waived time allowed by statute before the pronouncing of judgment, and judgment was forthwith on said fourteenth day of June, 1921, pronounced against him, ordering 'that he be imprisoned in the state prison of the State of California for such period of time as provided by law.' It now seems that at the time of the commission of the offense the punishment provided by law was 'imprisonment in the state prison not less than five years.' (Penal Code, 286.)

"But on April 29, 1921, the Legislature enacted an amendment of this section of the Code so as to provide that the punishment should be 'imprisonment in the state prison not less than one nor more than ten years,' and further providing that this amendment should go in effect ninety days after date, to wit, on July 29, 1921. This amendment was approved by the Governor on May 13, 1921. From the foregoing it will therefore appear that on June 14, 1921, when the defendant appeared and pleaded guilty, without counsel, and waived time for pronouncing judgment, that he inadvertently deprived himself of the benefit of the amendment enacted by the Legislature on April 29th, and approved by the Governor on May 13th, even though that amendment did not in law become effective until July 29, 1921. For he could very easily have availed himself of that amendment by prolonging the time of his sentence beyond July 29, 1921, by entering a plea of not guilty and having the case set for trial at some later day and then either standing trial or withdrawing his plea of not guilty and entering his plea of guilty after July 29, 1921, and not waiving time for pronouncing sentence, but insisting upon his statutory rights. It would therefore seem that the mere failure on the part of the defendant through ignorance or inadvertence in availing himself of his statutory rights should not deprive him of the slight benefit accruing to him by virtue of an amendment to the statute duly enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor. For in this case, since the amendment was a modification of the punishment provided by the statute in effect at the time of the commission of the offense, the amendment is not rendered ineffective, so far as the defendant is concerned, by the rule prohibiting ex post facto legislation. (16 Corpus Juris, page 70, 22 N. Y. 95, 21 Pick 492.)

"It would therefore seem to me that it would be highly in conformity with the spirit of the law that this defendant should be given the benefit of the amended statute which provides that the punishment shall be not less than one nor more than ten years' imprisonment, and that he should not be burdened with the penalty of the old statute as a result simply of his own inadvertence and ignorance which followed from his evident and praiseworthy desire not to delay but to speed the process of the law."

Now, therefore, in consideration of the defendant's exemplary conduuct in prison, the assistance rendered by him to the prison officials, the recommendations above referred to as well as others, and in order to make his sentence conform to the present law. I do hereby commute the sentence of Herbert W. Reed to ten years' imprisonment.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.

The sentence of JOHN E. BRISCOE, San Quentin Prison No. 34200, was commuted April 25, 1924, to ten years' imprisonment. He was convicted of the infamous crime against nature in Napa County, and on November 21, 1920, was sentenced to a term of from five years to life. He was immediately transferred to San Quentin Prison, where he has ever since remained. He has conducted himself properly as a prisoner and is given a clean record in the prison report.

At the time Briscoe was sentenced, the law in such cases provided that the sentence should be from five years to life. However, on June 29, 1921, this law was amended changing the sentence in such cases to not less than one nor more than ten years.

Honorable Henry C. Gesford, who is Judge of the Superior Court of Napa County, sentenced Briscoe, recommends that his sentence be commuted, and writes as follows:

> "* * * in view of the change of law since the conviction of this man, which has resulted in his not being eligible for parole at this date while those who have been convicted of the same crime since the change of law are now eligible for parole and are being paroled. I can not see that there would be any disadvantage to the state nor anything but good come of such a commutation of sentence in the premises. It would place this prisoner upon the same footing that he would now be on had he been convicted under the new law."

Clarence N. Riggins, who was District Attorney of Napa County at the time Briscoe was convicted, recommends that his sentence be commuted, and writes as follows:

> "At the time of his conviction, the law provided that sentence be from five years to life. The legislature of 1921 amended this section so that punishment is from one to ten years. Briscoe was intoxicated at the time of the offense and he was an industrious man when sober. I think that he has already been sufficiently punished, and, since the Legislature has amended the law and reduced the penalty, I think it would be just to give him the benefit of the amendment and reduce his sentence."

Jas. R. Harris, Sheriff of Napa County, recommends that Briscoe's sentence be commuted, and writes as follows:

> "Regarding the case of John E. Briscoe, convicted in the Superior Court of Napa County in 1920 for violation of Section 286 of the Penal Code, and who, I am informed, has applied for commutation of sentence, I wish to state that I believe that his application should be granted.
> "The amending of this section by the legislature of 1921 so that it now reads from one to ten years should be taken into consideration when passing upon his application. Briscoe was a very industrious man while here in Napa and was at the time of the offense intoxicated.
> "Further, after the trial was over, it was rather a general opinion that the complaining witness was a moral pervert, at least bore that reputation."

Eight of the jurymen who rendered the verdict against Briscoe have also recommended that his sentence be commuted.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the defendant's clean record in prison, the recommendations of the Judge, District Attorney, Sheriff and jurymen above referred to, as well as others, and in order to make his sentence conform to the present law, I do hereby commute the sentence of the said John E. Briscoe to ten years imprisonment.

DEPORTED TO HOME STATE ON ACCOUNT OF INSANITY.

HARRIS HALL, also known as Dallas Pope, was pardoned October 6, 1924. He was convicted of grand larceny in San Diego County on February 28, 1924, and was sentenced March 15, 1924, to San Quentin Prison for an indeterminate term of one to ten years. Upon being received at San Quentin it was discovered that he had been previously convicted of a felony. He was thereupon transferred to Folsom Prison where he was given prison number 13026.

Hall's peculiar actions attracted the attention of Warden Smith and Dr. Rogers, warden and prison physician respectively of Folsom, and after careful examination and observation, on April 3, 1924, they petitioned the Superior Court of Sacramento County to examine into the prisoner's sanity. After such examination by the Insanity Commission of Sacramento County, Hall was declared insane by the Honorable Peter J. Shields, Judge of the Superior Court of Sacramento County, on April 4, 1924. He was ordered committed to Stockton State Hospital for the insane, where he has remained over since. He has been closely observed by the hospital physicians and they have advised me that his insanity is incurable. Dr. Fred P. Clark, Medical Superintendent of the institution, writes me as follows:

"This man is a convict and was sent to us from the Folsom State Prison. He is suffering from a mild form of dementia praecox, an incurable disease. Since he has been with us, he has not shown any violent tendencies—has been quiet and well behaved, but makes peculiar grimaces and acts in a peculiar manner. He will sit and stare into space and when answering questions, gives his answers slowly and in a very low tone. He has had one or two marked periods of excitement.

"We would recommend to you that you issue a pardon to this man in order that he may be deported to Oregon, where he belongs."

After Hall was committed to Stockton Hospital, it was discovered that he was a resident of the State of Oregon. Negotiations were taken up with the Board of Control of that state and that board has consented to receive and keep him at the Oregon State Hospital. The Department of Institutions was advised that because Hall was under sentence to state prison he could not be deported and upon the matter being submitted to the Attorney General's office of this state, that office has rendered me the following opinion advocating Hall's pardon for purposes of deportation:

"Upon the record as presented, it appears to be manifestly to the interest and advantage of the State of California to deport this man to the state of his residence, and thereby relieve this state of the burden of his maintenance throughout the balance of his natural life. Under these circumstances you request to be advised whether or not it will be necessary for you to pardon, or commute the sentence of, the said Harris Hall, in order that he may be legally removed from the custody of the Superintendent of the Stockton State Hospital and delivered into the custody of the proper authorities in charge of the Oregon State Hospital at Salem.

"In answer thereto, I write to advise you that I am of opinion such action, upon your part, will be necessary.

"In contemplation of law, the status as a convict remains unaltered and the Superintendent of the Stockton State Hospital is without authority to deliver him into the custody of the deportation agent of this state, for transportation to Oregon, until his status as a convict is terminated. This termination can be had only through the medium of the exercise of executive clemency, either in the form of a pardon, or of a commutation of sentence."

Honorable Walter D. Wagner, Director of Institutions, also recommends Hall's pardon for purposes of deportation and writes as follows:

"The Attorney General has informed us that before this man can be deported his prison record must be cleared, which would require that he be pardoned by Your Excellency. I am informed that Hall is incurably insane and will probably require custodial care the rest of his life.

"In view of the above facts, I respectfully request that you grant a pardon to Harris Hall, Folsom Convict No. 13026, so that he may be deported to the State of Oregon, which state has agreed to receive him."

Now, therefore, relying upon the above recommendations and solely to enable him to be deported thus saving this state the expense of maintaining him for the rest of his life, I do hereby pardon the said Harris Hall, also known as Dallas Pope, Folsom Prison No. 13026.

Respectfully submitted.

FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON,
Governor of the State of California.

Dated: January 7, 1925.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS—(OUT OF ORDER).

The following petitions were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Dennett:

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS,
COUNTY OF MONO, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.
Regular Session, January 5, 1925.

At a regular meeting of the board of supervisors of the county of Mono, held January 5, 1925, the following resolution was unanimously adopted by said board:

WHEREAS, It appears as a matter of fact, as shown by the official maps, plats and records of the county roads and State highways within the county of Mono, that there are about thirty-two miles of county road, extending from the Inyo County line northerly from Chalfant through Mono County, to the Nevada-California state line near Montgomery Pass, said road and route being usually known and designated as the "Montgomery Pass Road"; and

WHEREAS, The aforesaid Montgomery Pass Road has been practically completed as a Mono County road, entirely at the expense of Mono County, and in accordance with plans and specifications in conformity with the plans and specifications of regular State highways of California, in order that the same would ultimately be taken over and accepted as a part and portion of the California State highway system, and available for public travel during all seasons of the year; and

WHEREAS, There has been heretofore laid out, designated and surveyed an established route for a State highway, commencing at a point near the Mono-Inyo county line, known as "Sherwin Hill" and extending northerly through Long Valley, Mono Lake Valley, Bridgeport Valley, and Antelope Valley, to the State line between Nevada and California, near Topaz Lake; and

WHEREAS, A large portion of said State highway has already been constructed and completed, and only small disconnected portions of said State highway remains to be completed and taken over by said State Highway Commission; and

WHEREAS, That portion of the California State Highway System, commonly known as the "Sonora Pass Road" commencing on the east in Mono County, at a point known as Blackburns Station, and extending westerly, over the summit of the Sierra Nevada Mountains to the town of Sonora, on the west, has long been established as a State Highway, and during the history of the State of California has been deemed one of the most necessary and important portions of the State Highways of California, from all points of view, scenic, useful, and necessary in point of distance, and

WHEREAS, Said last named Sonora Pass Highway, during recent years, has been allowed to become neglected for want of necessary repairs, and such repairs sufficient to place said road in good order and condition for public travel could be made at a very small expense to the State, thereby restoring and reclaiming one of the most important highways of the State; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Board of Supervisors of the County of Mono, that on behalf of the people of Mono County, and of the people of the entire State, we urge our representatives in the State Legislature, as well as the members of the California State Highway Commission to do their utmost towards effectuating the necessary measures required to connect up the various roads and highways through Mono County, by taking over the said Montgomery Pass Road, as a State Highway and placing the Sonora Pass Road in condition to be used by the traveling public, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed to our representatives in the State Legislature, and also to the California State Highway Commission.

PRESENTATION OF PETITION—(OUT OF ORDER).

The following petition was presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Sample:

To the Senate and the Assembly of the California Legislature.

We, the undersigned, hereby beg to submit the following statement in form of a petition asking your honorable bodies to take favorable action on Senate Bill No. 93, introduced by Senator Hollister and Senator Sample.

USURY, GREATEST OF BOOTLEGGING BUSINESSES, FINDS WORTHY FOE IN BILL INTRODUCED AT THIS SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Prior to the time of the war the number of credit unions in existence in all parts of the world has been estimated to be more than 65,000, with a membership approximating 15,000,000 and an annual business amounting to $7,000,000,000.

Impressive as these figures are, they are less striking than the economic and social results which this form of effort has achieved wherever it has found a foothold. It has regenerated and accelerated agriculture, commerce and industry. It has stamped out usury and raised millions of human souls from the depths of despair to lives of hopefulness and service. It has supplanted shiftlessness by industry; improvidence by thrift; individual effort by concerted action—in fact, has proved to be one of the most potent moral, educational, and social forces in the history of civilization and in the enrichment of the life of the common people.

In Canada the first credit union was founded in 1900 by Alphonse Desjardins, in the town of Levis, Province of Quebec. Through his enthusiasm, enery and self-sacrifice, over 150 credit unions have been formed and are in successful operation in the Canadian provinces. Credit unions of various types are also known to exist in many of the countries of South America.

The wedge of credit unionism was driven into the United States by the enactment of the Massachusetts credit union law in 1909. Since then legislation has been enacted in the following States: New Hampshire, Rhode Island, New York, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Mississippi, Nebraska, Louisiana, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee, Indiana, Wisconsin, Texas, Oregon, Utah.

Some of the functions of a credit union follow: (1) It encourages thrift by providing a safe, convenient and attractive medium for the investment of the savings of its members through the purchase of shares and the investment certificates. (2) It promotes industry by enabling its members to borrow for productive and other beneficial purposes. (3) It eliminates usury by providing its members, when in urgent need, with a source of credit at reasonable cost, which they could not otherwise obtain. (4) It trains its members in business methods and self-government, endows them with a sense of social responsibility, and educates them to a full realization of the value of cooperation. (5) It diverts money into legitimate channels of investments and thus reduces the great number of frauds practiced by unscrupulous stock sellers.

Edward A. Filene says: "There are two primary products of credit union operation and many interesting and valuable by-products. The primary product is thrift promotion. The credit union promotes thrift through a system of saving which specializes in the smallest individual units of saving. May I repeat that in this service the credit union is concerning itself with the smallest individual savings, too small individually to interest any other form of banking.

"Statistics indicate that the average saver in the United States saves more than the average saver in other countries. This would naturally be expected. Statistics, however, also indicate that, as compared with other much less favored nations, the number of savers in the United States is relatively small. In other words the individual who can save appreciable totals is well taken care of. The acute need is to greatly increase the number of small savers. The credit union is designed to meet this specific need.

"Some credit union shares are payable in as small weekly installments as ten cents on each share subscribed. Whether we investigate the extraordinary credit union development abroad, the splendid development initiated by Desjardine in Canada over twenty years ago, or the Massachusetts experience, we find credit unions gauged down to the saving capacity of the individual least able to save. By this I do not mean that individual savers who can save large amounts avoid the credit union. They are most welcome and some credit union members have very appreciable deposits. What I do mean to indicate is that the credit union welcomes the individual saver within its specific group who, of necessity, can save but little. Further, the whole credit union plan purposes to make saving habitual. Shares are payable in weekly installments and, despite the fact that the individual weekly payments may be small, the member gets the saving habit and eventually his total savings become appreciable. Some of the inevitable by-products of thrift will later be discussed in this article.

"The other primary product of the credit union system is legitimate credit resources for those otherwise without normal credit facilities. This results normally as credit union funds are used for 'loans to members for provident purposes.' At this point the credit union locks horns with the problems of usury. What is usury? It is an inevitable result of a given combination of circumstances. When an individual needs credit and must have credit and has no normal credit facilities—the result is usury. How general is the practice of usury? That question does not permit of definite answer. We know that there is a law in fifteen states legalizing 42% on the small loans. This sounds like a usurious rate, but this law was designed to prevent rates which in comparison make 42% seem reasonable.

"A careful investigation has disclosed as much usury in states where there is a legal interest rate limit as in states without preventive legislation. Why? Because usury is the first and still, perhaps, the greatest of 'bootlegging' businesses. It is based on acute human need, a need that knows no law and as a practice it defies effective detection. The credit union meets this problem the only way it can be met, namely, by recognizing that the only solution is the creation of credit facilities at legitimate rates of interest.

"In Massachusetts we have seen credit union loans increase in annual total in a few years from a half million to five million dollars, while the capital invested in the small loan business (let out in Massachusetts at 36%) has decreased within that period over fifty per cent. Here again the credit union is a specialist. It specializes in problems too small individually to interest any other existing agency which deals in credit problems.

"Having, then, in mind that the credit union is of material value to the member in that it promotes thrift and creates credit facilities at normal rates of interest, we come to a consideration of the by-products of the credit union system and at this point it becomes even more obvious that the credit union helps not only the employee but the employer.

"The first of these by-products is stabilization. There can be no doubt but what the employee with savings is of more value to himself and to his employer than the employee without savings. He is less apt to reflect in his attitude towards the business every change in general economic conditions. Having established a margin between what he earns and what it costs him to live, he is anxious to preserve and to increase that margin.

"EMPLOYEE CAN BUY STOCK.

"Further the fact of a margin opens up to the man who establishes it, many interesting possibilities for self improvement. In some credit unions employees have acquired appreciable holdings of the stocks of the companies by which they are employed through credit union loans. The employee who has a stake in the business by which he is employed has entered into a new relationship with it which, of necessity, is a better relationship.

"Further, the credit unions have a distinct educational value. They teach their members what to do with their savings and the tendency is to save their members from 'wildcat' speculation, to teach them to buy and pay cash rather than to buy extravagantly on credit by mortgaging their future earning power. The very fact of the solution of the employee's credit problem is a great boon to the average executive who has to struggle with this problem without finding a satisfactory solution of it. In the credit union the employee solves his own credit problem in a perfectly satisfactory and business-like way.

"Henry S. Dennison, president of the Dennison Manufacturing Company, speaking of the credit union said recently: 'The credit union furnishes facilities for making small loans quite as necessary as larger business loans and which our ordinary financial machinery neglects.' Howard Coonly, president of the Walworth Manufacturing Company, has said of it: 'The credit union is the soundest method ever conceived for making it possible for worth-while people of modest means to obtain funds necessary from time to time at a reasonable rate of interest. Even more important it is a wonderful method of teaching the principles of thrift and the benefits to be derived from setting aside a portion of the income, no matter how small the income may be.'

"There is a credit union of 6000 members organized among the employees of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in Massachusetts and similar credit unions of many employees in New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Maine.

"Matt B. Jones, president of the company, says of these credit unions: 'They have encouraged thrift and have made it possible for their members to borrow needed funds with self respect and at reasonable rates of interest.'

"In a booklet recently issued by the Georgia Bankers' Association in favor of a credit union bill at the time pending before the Georgia Legislature the following appears: 'In the frenzied whirl for the past two or three years, we have overlooked in our excitement an agency for self-help which deserves more attention and more encouragement. This agency is the credit union. Better still, it teaches the principles of banking to a class of people in whose lives, heretofore, banking has meant less than nothing.' The bank commissioner of Massachusetts, who has jurisdiction over the credit unions in the state and speaks, therefore, from most intimate knowledge, says of the credit unions: 'They promote thrift in the form of systematic saving. As a member of a credit union a person of limited financial means is afforded an opportunity of obtaining credit facilities at reasonable rates of interest for legitimate purposes.' Finally, the advice given by William Howard Taft, when President of the United States, in a letter to the governors of the states, October 1, 1912, still holds good: 'A very good law has been enacted by the state of Massachusetts allowing the incorporation of credit unions which should furnish an example for the other states. Their establishment is generally a matter of state legislation and encouragement, their organization and management wonderfully simple, as the European experience shows and their success is practically inevitable where the environment is congenial and where proper laws are passed for their conduct.'

"Roy F. Bergengren, Secretary, Credit Union National Extension Bureau, has this to say: 'Many attempts have been made to solve the problem of usury. An investigation conducted a few years ago among employees of the city of Boston disclosed that many were completely in control of loan sharks. A careful examination of one hundred loans indicated that an average rate of 180 per cent interest was being paid on them, by the employees of the city who had contracted debts. Not only that, but these men and women were being obliged to lose each week a half day's pay while they took time off to straighten out their ever-recurring difficulties with the collectors, sheriffs, attachments of wages, garnishee processes, etc. In some plants this difficulty of attachment is so great that it is the practice to discharge any employee whose wages are subject to it. The source of annoyance resulting from attachment is great, yet this solution is illogical. Debt is not always the fault of the debtor, and certainly a man is not helped to get out of debt if his immediate earning power is destroyed. On the other hand, some employers loan money to their employees without interest, which is also unscientific. Practically all trying it have found that loaning money to employees is unsatisfactory from every viewpoint.'

"A credit union within an industrial unit solves this problem. Credit union funds are used for loans to members at legitimate rates of interest, under the various conditions and restrictions contained in the law, and in accordance with the rules laid down in the individual case by the credit committee, which committee, along with the directors and auditing committee, is chosen by and from the members at the time of organization. Loans are repayable in installments prorated over a year. The purpose of the loan is carefully investigated and the business of loaning is so conducted that the borrower is protected. As a matter of fact, repeatedly employees within a given plant come to recognize the credit union as their bank, and the getting of credit under the right conditions and for proper purposes is recognized to be a perfectly legitimate and dignified process.

"May I illustrate with a case as related to me by the treasurer of a credit union in one of the largest and most important industrial units in Massachusetts, a plant which does not only a national but an international business? These cases are typical of thousands which might be taken from the experience of the industrial credit unions alone: A girl in the employ of the company found that her wages had been attached. The employment manager called her to his office to find out what was the difficulty. Just prior to Easter she had gone to Boston with a friend. They had gone together to an installment clothing house and had completely outfitted themselves. Because of the lure contained in the installment system which makes for waste and extravagance and improper buying, they had bought more than they would have purchased under normal conditions. The other of the two girls induced the girl in question to assume responsibility for their joint purchases, setting forth that it would be much more convenient to handle the account that way so that they would be sending in but one payment a week. All went well for a while, until the second girl got married, moved away, and ceased to contribute to the joint account. The sole responsibility remained with the first girl. She found herself with her wages attached, with a relatively large debt hanging over her head, and with the possibility of unemployment, if she could not make some adjustment. The employment manager asked her if she belonged to the credit union. She did have a single share. The employment manager took the matter up with the credit union manager, made an adjustment of the account with the installment house, getting the promise of a substantial discount for cash. He submitted the matter to the credit committee. There resulted a loan at six per cent interest, repayable in small weekly payments, which enabled her not only to save her job, but to get out of debt and to establish a personal relationship with her credit union. The history of any credit union within a factory, mill, large store, jobbing house, etc., would be simply a compilation of many cases such as this. Last year Massachusetts credit unions made loans of this character totaling over five million dollars.

"But the most valuable product of the credit union is contained in its value as a stabilizer at a time when there are many influences loose in the world that make for instability.

"Let us consider two groups—one of them consisting of men and women gathered possibly at some public place to listen to an agitator. Most of these men and women are without permanent employment largely because they cannot hold a job. It is quite probable that the reason they cannot hold a job is contained in the fact that their wages are constantly being attached and harassed by debt; they are inefficient, discontented, restless and unhappy. Not one of these men and women has a stake in the world. They do not own an equity in a home; they have no savings, and the only thing they are particularly conscious of is the fact that living is a very difficult business and that life is a pretty dreary affair. The agitator is preaching a millenium. He plays on every disappointment that these men and women have suffered. He plays skilfully on their dissatisfaction. He charges their unemployment to the present economic system. He paints glowing pictures of an industrial condition in which his hearers will operate factories, and that the process of so operating them will not involve any harder work than possibly writing checks 'payable to bearer' and cutting coupons.

"Consider another group consisting of men and women who are wage workers. They have permanent jobs. They have savings accounts. Many of them have savings in credit unions and through credit unions loans have acquired homes of their own. They know that they have a source of credit available in time of need at legitimate rate of interest. Their minds are free from worry of debt. They are not being embittered by the fact of a clandestine relationship with some loan shark who is sucking away their very life blood. Some of them have a little stock in the company which operates the factory where they work. They work in a factory where there is a credit union and mutual benefit association, where there has been developed, through cooperative effort, an caprit de corps between executive and employee which makes not only for loyalty but for a joy in working which makes work worth while.

"The same agitator, having finished his speech on the common, addresses this gathering possibly at the noon hour. Which group has been fertilized to produce the kind of social and economic revolution which makes for chaos? A search for the answer may possibly indicate something of the value of the credit union in a developing democracy.

"The Municipal Credit Union of New York City was incorporated during the latter part of 1916 and was authorized to do business October 3d of that year, so that its eighth birthday will be celebrated October 3, 1924. Its growth is shown by the following table:

Members	19	2,332	4,712	7,365
Shares	$570	$141,492	$305,598	$600,335
New loans	none	$274,639	$607,465	$1,031,780
Number of loans	none	2,242	3,745	5,287

"When 70,000 Americans with next-to-no capital can in ten years and in fifteen states, build, operate, and completely control over two hundred of these credit unions, with combined assets of more than $12,000,000, most of which is safely and beneficially loaned out among themselves in amounts individually very small, what's the answer?

"Certainly that the United States needs low-cost, small-loans service. Such credit was formerly available only at usurious interest. Ordinary banks find this type of business both troublesome and unprofitable. These credit associations, doing much or all their own work without pay and using the cheapest quarters, so lower overhead that they frequently show a surplus when ordinary banks performing similar service show a loss. They answer a widespread, legitimate demand without interfering with ordinary banks; in fact, usually benefiting them. Credit union funds are deposited in an institution approved by the bank commissioner. One credit union on record did $1,000,000 business with its depository bank in a year.

"A host of humble, thrifty persons have found that by pooling their tiny savings they come into substantial capital. It is significant when, instead of depending on some one else to keep their money safe and earning, they take full, independent responsibility concerning how their combined fortune shall be used. Directly controlling its employment, they get the first use of it. Use, not dividends, is the main aim; lest this should be lost sight of, dividends are usually limited. Yet, whatever profit there is, they themselves receive, severally or together, to the last penny. From the command of this group capital they obtain in marked degree that sense of conscious power that appears in men of substantial private capital. It often makes new men of credit union members.

"W. P. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, said this at the eighth delegates' meeting of the Credit Union League: 'I am in sympathy with the credit union movement and fully appreciate its importance. I hope to see the credit unions as firmly established about the country as any banking system. I can see no reason for any of the larger banks looking upon this movement with anything but favor and encouragement. The banks do not touch such small loans. The unions do not prevent money from getting back into the banks. They keep thousands of persons from the clutches of loan sharks.' Other endorsers of the credit unions are as follows: William Howard Taft, ex-President of the United States; Henry S. Dennison, President Dennison Manufacturing Co.; Howard Coonley, President Walworth Manufacturing Co.; Honorable James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston; Matt B. Jones, President New England Telephone and Telegraph Company; Hon. Joseph C. Allen, Bank Commissioner of Massachusetts."

The following periodicals and magazines are behind the credit union movement: Collier's, The National Weekly, World's Work, United States Investor, Boston Post, Wall Street Journal, London Daily Herald, San Francisco Chronicle, Babson's Reports, Illinois Journal of Commerce, Leighton's Magazine, Manufacturer's Record, Kansas City Star.

RESERVE OFFICERS ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES, POMONA VALLEY CHAPTER.

POMONA, CALIFORNIA, January 17, 1925.

Honorable Cadet Taylor,
State Legislature,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: I am inclosing herewith a model resolution which was adopted by a State Legislature, expressing their views on the question of national preparedness.

We feel that the Legislature of the State of California should interest themselves to the extent, at least, of passing a similar resolution on this subject, the importance of which should not be minimized at this time of world unrest, mutual distrust and hatred and uncertainty of the future. We believe in peace, but not in peace at any price, and we also believe that disarmament on the part of the United States at this time without similar action of all other powers would be the rankest folly. We feel that a favorable expression from the Legislature of the State of California would bear great weight, and ask that you lend your assistance and take whatever steps you consider necessary to advance the passage of a resolution similar to the inclosed.

Very respectfully yours,

ROBERT O. McFALL,
Captain, Infantry, O. R. C.,
President.

TREWHITT F. HARRISS,
Second Lieut., Infantry, O. R. C.,
Secretary.

For the Pomona Valley Chapter, R. O. A. U. S.

(This has been adopted by the Legislature of the State of Louisiana.)

Resolutions requesting the Congress of the United States to appropriate funds to carry out certain recommendations of the Chief of Staff of the United States Army made in furtherance of the National Defense Act of 1920.

WHEREAS, The President of the United States in a recent message to the Congress of the United States has stated that the Army and Navy of the United States should be strengthened and that a people who neglect their national defense are putting in jeopardy their national honor; and

WHEREAS, In furtherance of the National Defense Act of 1920 and in order to increase and promote the strength and effectiveness of the Army, the Chief of Staff of the Army of the United States has recommended substantially as follows:

(a) That the Regular Army be brought back to the strength of one hundred fifty thousand enlisted men and thirteen thousand officers, and that it be suitably housed and enabled to conduct annual maneuvers on a moderate scale;

(b) That the National Guard be given the support necessary to permit its progressive development toward a strength of two hundred fifty thousand;

(c) That the skeleton organization of the organized reserve be adequately maintained;

(d) That all reserve officers receive an average of fifteen days' training in each three years;

(e) That the Reserve Officers' Training Corps units be further developed;

(f) That provision may be made for a gradual increase in the number accommodated annually in the Citizens' Military Training Camps; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Louisiana, the House of Representatives concurring, respectfully and earnestly urge upon the Congress the necessity of appropriating such funds and enacting such legislation as will adequately provide for the effective carrying out of the provisions of the National Defense Act of 1920, and also the recommendations of the Chief of Staff of the Army of the United States herein before set forth; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent by the Secretary of the State to the President of the United States, the presiding officers of both branches of Congress, to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from this state, and to the members of the Congressional Committee on Appropriations and on Military Affairs.

By Senator Creighton:

RESOLUTION.

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Fellom:

WHEREAS, There have been a number of conflicting statements from high official administrative and executive sources, with reference to what the biennial cost of State government in California has been and what the cost for the next biennium will be, and

WHEREAS, Consequent upon this conflict in statements there is serious confusion in the public mind on this vital subject and there exists a need for an official and impartial statement setting forth with such exactitude as possible, just what the biennium cost of State government has been and will be, and

WHEREAS, The widely reported announcements of estimated costs of State government for the coming biennium have ranged from approximately $103,000,000 to as high as $188,000,000 and this huge discrepancy of some odd $85,000,000 has tended to undermine public confidence in all published statements having to do with State government costs, and has also impaired the efficiency of the Senate in its treatment of the State's financial problems due to uncertainty regarding this subject, now therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Revenue and Taxation Committee of this body be charged, and the same is hereby charged, with conducting an investigation into the expenses of State government with the purpose of determining the actual cost of carrying on the affairs and the business of the State of California, in all its departments, for the past fiscal biennium, as well as for the purpose of arriving at an approximation of the estimated cost for the next biennium period; and that this committee be further charged with presenting a report of its findings to this Senate at the earliest possible time after the constitutional recess, and be it further

Resolved, That the Revenue and Taxation Committee be, and it hereby is, authorized and empowered to call upon the members of the State Board of Equalization, the State Controller, the State Treasurer, the members of the State Board of Control, and other heads of State departments, to appear before the committee and give information relative to the above described inquiry, and the committee is further authorized and empowered, hereby, to do all that is necessary to make a full and complete investigation of the matters and subjects pertaining to State government costs, as above alluded to, and to that end said committee is hereby authorized to summon witnesses, require the production of books, accounts, documents, records, to issue subpoenas and take all the necessary means to compel the attendance of witnesses and to obtain testimony; and the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, is hereby authorized and directed to serve all subpoenas and orders that may be issued by the committee through its Chairman.

WHEREAS, None of said cars now in use in this State are of a type later than 1919; and

WHEREAS, It was not the intent of this Legislature to work a hardship upon the owners of said cars in the passage of any law; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That it be the sense of this Legislature that said Motor Vehicle Act should be so amended at a proper time to provide that any automobile manufactured prior to 1919, the lights of which are provided by a magneto, should not be deemed to be operated in violation of the law; and be it further

Resolved, That it be the sense of this Legislature that, during the period of time from January 1, 1925, to the time when said amendment heretofore mentioned should

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Kline:

WHEREAS, It has been brought to the attention of this body that the San Joaquin Valley grape growers are formulating plans to have saccharine content of 17 per cent minimum of grapes raised to 19 per cent on Malagas, Muscats and Thompson Seedless grapes;

WHEREAS, If the present 17 per cent saccharine content of grapes is raised, it will mean the harvesting of grapes of the entire State at the same period of the year so that we will face a more serious labor problem, as well as increase the serious car shortage which has confronted the growers for the past four years;

WHEREAS, If the present standard is raised we would give to the out-of-state grape growing districts, who have no maturity for grapes, our early high markets;

WHEREAS, The shipment of grapes with less than the present 17 per cent saccharine content has resulted in a loss to the grower of as much as $2,000 per car;

WHEREAS, The shipment of table grapes from southern California for over a period of twenty years, which conformed with the present requirements of the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Standardization Law has been found satisfactory to both consumer and grower;

WHEREAS, The premise of this test is an unsound one, that it should be on the acid content rather than the sugar, and as proposed will do untold damage to Imperial Valley agriculture; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Calexico Chamber of Commerce in regular session on this fifteenth day of January with a quorum present, that the saccharine content be allowed to remain as it now stands, at 17 per cent minimum on Malagas, Muscats and Thompson Seedless grapes; further, be it

Resolved, That we believe that a thorough policy of uniform enforcement of the California Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Standardization Law throughout the State would be the most effective remedy for the present unsettled market conditions.

H. H. CLARK, President.

Attest: W. E. HARMUTH, Secretary.

Also:

WHEREAS, The citrus white fly, an extremely injurious pest of citrus in Florida, occurs in a limited area in the cities of Sacramento, Marysville and Yuba City, and so constitutes a serious menace to the citrus sections of the State, and,

WHEREAS, The California State Association of County Horticultural Commissioners after discussion at their convention have endorsed a tentative plan for the eradication under the direction of the State Department of Agriculture of the citrus white fly in California; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Calexico Chamber of Commerce in regular session this fifteenth day of January, with a quorum present, recommends the immediate appointment by the Director of Agriculture of a committee of experts to decide upon a plan of eradication and estimate the cost thereof, and we urge the introduction of an appropriation bill and an enabling act empowering the State Department of Agriculture to undertake the work of eradication.

SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON TEACHERS' RETIREMENT SALARY ACT.

To the Senate and Assembly.

The financial condition of the Public School Teachers' Retirement System is in such an alarming state that it deserves your earnest consideration. The report of the actuary to the Board of Education shows that the fund is now from an actuarial standpoint insolvent to the extent of more than thirty million dollars. In 1919, an actuary reported to the former Board of Education that the fund was then insolvent to the amount of twenty-five million dollars. At the 1923 session of the Legislature, Senate Bill 127 was passed amending the Teachers' Retirement Salary Act, and delivered to me on the day the Legislature adjourned. I declined to sign the bill for the reason that the whole scheme appeared unsound and the great majority of the teachers who were paying into the fund would never receive a dollar in return. In a statement issued at that time I said:

"I have made a careful examination of the Teachers' Retirement Act and of Senate Bill 127 amending the act. I have read the report of the actuaries who have investigated the subject; have conferred with the Insurance Commissioner, the Board of Control, and others in regard to this matter. From this investigation I am forced to conclude that the present law is unsound, that the fund is now insolvent, and that it is only a question of a few years when the crash will come. Senate Bill 127 will not improve this desperate condition but may make it worse. This bill increases the pension to teachers from $500 to $720 a year, increases the tax on teachers from $12 to $24 a year, and changes the State payment from 5 per cent on inheritance taxes to an amount similar to that paid by teachers. The increase in the cost to the State, in the opinion of the State Controller, would be $350,000 for the next biennial period.

"On first investigation it was my desire to sign the bill, but when my attention was called to the report of the actuary and I dug deeper I found the proposition so fundamentally unsound that I could not, in justice to the teachers, double their assessments when there is so little hope of the great majority ever receiving a cent of benefit; and in justice to the taxpayers sinking their money in a scheme having so little financial stability.

"Notwithstanding the warning of the actuary, the sponsors of this plan have gone ahead with seeming little dread of the insolvency that awaits the fund within the next few years. It is evident that the pension plan will be of help to those teachers who are now receiving pensions for a very few years, and that when the crash comes these older teachers will receive no further compensation, and that the great majority of young teachers who have poured their savings into this financially unsound scheme will receive nothing whatever in return. For me to approve this bill and double the tax on teachers in the face of the instability of the plan, would be a gross injustice to which I will not be a party.

"I propose to have this matter looked into during the next two years in the hope that some plan may be devised for the 1925 Legislature which will rescue this fund from insolvency."

After the adjournment of the 1923 Legislature, I took the matter up with the Insurance Commissioner and he employed a high-class actuary who made a careful examination and reported to the Board of Education. The actuary states that the commitments at the present time are no less than $32,848,543.05, while there is only $2,300,000 on hand and invested. The actuary says that the condition of the retirement fund is not unique but is simply a repetition of the history of nearly every public and private pension system. He says that the present plan has been unsound and unsafe from the start. I am submitting to you herewith the report of the actuary for your careful consideration. As I am not an expert on insurance and was not the author or in any way responsible for this pension plan, I have no advice to give you other than that contained in the report of the actuary.

I am submitting the report to you because I believe the public should have the fullest information and that the thousands of teachers who are paying money into this fund every month should know the full facts, and how little the possibility of their ever receiving a dollar in return. Whether it is possible to make this plan workable without too great an assessment upon the teachers and too heavy a financial burden upon the taxpayers is a subject which I leave for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted.

FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON.
Governor of the State of California.

Dated January 21, 1925.

ACTUARIAL REPORT ON FINANCIAL CONDITION OF PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS' RETIREMENT FUND AS OF NOVEMBER 30, 1924.

January 12, 1925.

To His Excellency, Friend W. Richardson,
Governor of the State of California,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR—At your suggestion, the members of the State Board of Education, under date of October 27, 1924, authorized my appointment as actuarial expert, for the purpose of investigating the financial condition of the Public School Teachers' Retirement System.

I now have the honor, after an unavoidable delay, of submitting to you the attached report, copies of which I am transmitting today to the State Board of Education.

The condition as revealed in the report can only be considered in the light of an estimate, but one sufficiently reliable for immediate purposes to indicate a crying need for reorganization, thus confirming the views expressed by you two years ago, when you declined to give your approval to a temporizing amendment of the retirement law.

I bespeak your earnest consideration of the recommendations incorporated in the report, which aim at the solution of what undoubtedly constitutes one of the major financial problems confronting the State of California.

A no less disturbing phase of the present system is the certainty that the great majority of contributing teachers will be almost totally deprived of the benefits which they are being led to expect, unless energetic steps are taken to remedy the situation.

To permit this great injustice to continue on the convenient ground that it is neither generally known nor immediately being felt, is entirely inconsistent with the traditional solicitude of the people of California for the welfare of its public school teachers.

Respectfully submitted

S. GUNDELFINGER,
Actuary.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,
January 12, 1925.

To the Honorable, the State Board of Education,
Sacramento, California.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: In compliance with the authority conferred upon me pursuant to your letter to the Honorable Will C. Wood, Secretary of the State Board of Education, dated October 27, 1924, I have examined the available records of your board with a view to estimating the financial condition of the Public School Teachers' Permanent Fund and the Public School Teachers' Retirement Salary Fund from an actuarial point of view.

Subject to the qualifications hereinafter made, I estimate that on November 30, 1924, the commitments of the State of California arising from the operation of the laws dealing with the retirement of public school teachers exceed present and future resources arising from the operation of the same laws by a sum not less than $32,848,453.05.

This means that adequate provision under present laws for the obligations of the State to the present force of both active and retired teachers necessitates the accumulation of funds equivalent to a present investment of $33,000,000 earning 4 per cent interest per annum, in addition to the $2,700,000 now on hand and invested, and in addition to the contributions to be made in the future by and on behalf of the present teaching force.

Any increase in the number of active teachers will require further provisions on a similar scale.

The continuing ability of the system to meet its currently maturing obligations is being maintained solely at the expense of, and at a practically total loss to, the great majority of the present force of approximately 32,000 public school teachers.

BASIS OF ESTIMATE.

The statistical data underlying the estimate are incomplete, and this has necessitated the substitution of certain broad assumptions which are open to criticism from an actuarial point of view and render the valuation less reliable than that made five years ago by Mr. William Leslie on the basis of fairly complete and up-to-date information.

The number of active school teachers has increased in the interval from 21,000 to approximately 32,000. No information is available as to age, length of service, and location of service of the new entrants. It has, therefore, been assumed that the new entrants are composed in these respects of groups substantially similar to those existing in 1919, with an appreciable modification in favor of the younger ages and of a lesser service record.

It has also seemed advisable, in order to avoid the possibility of overstating the deficiency, to assume between the ages 18 and 33 substantially higher rates of withdrawal from active service than were used in the valuation of November, 1919. This has been done in deference to the view frequently expressed, although by no means substantiated by proof, that such withdrawals show a higher frequency in California than elsewhere.

As a result, the estimate here presented and more fully analyzed in the accompanying financial statement and schedules, cannot claim scientific accuracy, but it can and does claim to be an informed estimate of the financial condition of the system considered in the most favorable light compatible with safety. In short, the estimated deficiency of approximately $33,000,000 is almost certainly understated.

INTEREST.

It has been assumed that the funds of the system not disbursed for annuities earn interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, compounded annually, and it is believed that this rate is capable of attainment, although it is doubtful whether it has been attained in the past. No attempt has been made to determine the actual rate of interest earnings, but a cursory examination of the record of the past ten years indicates that it does not exceed, and probably does not reach 3½ per cent per annum. This is due partly to unavoidable periods of illness to which not inconsiderable portions of the funds are from time to time condemned, and partly to the necessity of occasional purchases of securities above par value.

CAUSE OF DEFICIENCY.

The unfavorable condition of the retirement funds is not unique, but constitutes a repetition of the history of practically every public and many private pension systems. Two principal causes are responsible for it. To begin with a great number of prospective beneficiaries entering the system at the time of its establishment had to their credit a service record involving a large commitment on the part of the State, which then had no commensurate resources in the fund to offset these commitments. In the second place the contributions exacted from the teachers and made on their behalf in accordance with law are insufficient. As a result, a fraction only of the funds now on hand, invested, and accrued, has been contributed by retired teachers now drawing annuities, and nearly $2,000,000 more is required in contributions from and on behalf of active teachers to enable the fund to meet its liability to those retired.

NEED FOR REORGANIZATION.

In its decennial report covering the period August 10, 1913, to June 30, 1923, the Public School Teachers' Retirement Salary Fund Board said:

> "It is the impression of those in charge of the fund that the financial basis of the fund eventually will have to be revised, but that we have not yet had enough experience to show just what should be done, and that it is not wise to hurry about making a change, since the fund will evidently run on for a number of years before the expenditures will exceed the income."

The impression that the financial basis of the fund requires revision is not only completely confirmed as correct, but it is also apparent that the situation demands a speedy and fundamental reorganization. The State of California is now diverting funds contributed by active teachers to the benefit of retired teachers, with no prospect of being able to continue the process for an indefinite period. The remarkable growth in the number of active teachers, which is characteristic of the past, cannot go on forever. On the other hand, the number of annual retirements is bound to increase with the passage of time. The relative volume of cash expenditures to cash receipts, so far from being an index of safety, has no bearing on the question of solvency other than being dangerously misleading.

CALIFORNIA EXPERIENCE.

To establish a basis for a scientifically unassailable and practically accurate determination of rates of contribution, it is imperative that the rates of separation and retirement actually obtaining among teachers in California be currently observed and currently recorded. To this end, information similar to that gathered in 1919, and pertaining to new entrants, is essential. In addition, current reports of all changes in the status of active teachers are indispensable. Without the former data, successive valuations become less and less reliable; without the latter, no intelligent adjustment of rates to changing conditions is possible.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

It is therefore urgently recommended that the Public School Teachers' Retirement Salary Fund Board secure legal authority to exact the information and reports above referred to from individual teachers and from the proper school officials, as the case may be, and that complete experience observation records be currently maintained, commencing at the earliest feasible date, under competent actuarial direction.

The inadequacy of present rates of contributions, and the consequent inevitable state of insolvency into which the fund is rapidly drifting, forbids the application of these rates to new entrants. It is therefore recommended that public school teachers entering the service after a convenient fixed date in the near future be relieved from the burdens and excluded from the benefits of the present retirement law, without prejudice to vested, accrued and inchoate rights, and that enactment be secured of a new retirement law, applicable to all public school teachers entering the service after such date, and embodying provisions, insuring a continually sound financial condition.

For the latter purpose, any one of the four plans suggested by Mr. William Leslie in connection with the valuation made by him in 1919, possesses the virtue of adequacy. Periodical adjustment of rates, based upon experience indications of the observation records hereinbefore recommended, should be expressly provided for.

For reasons which will presently appear, the choice of a plan is suggested which provides for the return, upon separation from the service for any cause except retirement with an annuity, of the teacher's individual contributions, together with interest at 4 per cent per annum, compounded annually.

It is apparent that the elimination of new entrants from the operation of the present retirement law has no effect upon the condition of the present system. To reduce the deficiency in the present system to manageable proportions, it is necessary that the system be relieved of the commitments incurred by it in respect of a considerable contingent of the 32,000 active teachers now embraced by it. This, it is believed, can be accomplished in the case of a large number of teachers not too far advanced in age or service, by according them the optional right to enter the new system with its refund and interest features, in consideration of a waiver of all rights vested in and accrued to the optionee under the present law. Adequate rates of contribution for such teachers can be developed, and it is believed that such a plan would be welcomed and accepted by many as a valuable inducement. The transfer of a large number of teachers from the old to the new system involves, of course, a curtailment of the current revenue of the former, equal to $12 per annum for each teacher transferred. The revenue from inheritance tax, however, would remain unimpaired, and the deficiency thus greatly reduced. This reduced deficiency, however, offers a far less difficult problem than the present excess of liabilities over assets. It is believed that the remaining deficit will be amenable to gradual amortization by a series of annual appropriations of relatively modest proportions.

The establishment of a new system for new entrants, with adequate rates of contribution, gives rise to a question concerning the source of such contributions. In this connection, I venture to suggest for your consideration the desirability of requiring the school districts, the immediate employers of the public school teacher, to share with the State and the teacher the cost of providing retirement salaries.

CONCLUSION.

I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered me by the Assistant Secretary of your board, Miss Marion H. Ketcham, and to place myself at your disposal for any service which I may be able to render you.

Respectfully submitted.

S. GUNDELFINGER,
Actuary.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR—OUT OF ORDER.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, January 22, 1925.

To the Senate and Assembly.

In compliance with chapter 241 of the Statutes of 1923, I appointed a State Highway Committee for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon the State highway system.

The statute provided that the committee should be composed of one Senator, one Assemblyman, the State Engineer, one member of the Highway Commission, one member of the State Board of Control, and four others. I appointed as members of this committee:

Hon. A. H. Breed, Senator,
Hon. Elmer P. Bromley, Assemblyman,
Louis Everding, member, California Highway Commission,
George G. Radcliff, member, State Board of Control,
J. B. Gill, San Bernardino,
J. H. Newman, Tulare,
E. E. East, Los Angeles,
A. E. Loder, San Francisco,
R. M. Morton, State Engineer.

This committee spent several months in careful and thorough investigation and has visited every county in the State. It has been left absolutely free to use its own judgment and to come to its own conclusions. I have not attended a single meeting of the committee or gone on any of its trips, and have sought in no way to control or influence its judgment or its report.

It has made a preliminary report which I am submitting to you herewith for your consideration. A complete report, the committee advises me, will be ready within the next thirty days. I am submitting the preliminary report without comment, for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted.

FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON, Governor.

To Friend W. Richardson, Governor.

Your committee, appointed in accordance with chapter 241, Statutes 1923, to make a study of the State highway situation for the purpose of rendering a report for the benefit of the 46th session of the Legislature, with sole instructions from you to perform our duty according to law, herewith presents a summary of its recommendations.

A complete and detailed report setting forth our findings and supporting our conclusions and recommendations, as set forth below, is in course of preparation and will shortly be submitted.

1. We recommend a classification of the roads in the present highway system into two general systems hereafter designated as primary system and secondary system. Classification has been made in accordance with the importance of the various highways based on their functional use.

The primary system to consist of—

1. Inter-city highways.
2. Major interstate connections.
3. County seat laterals.
4. Other important lateral connections.
5. Major recreational highways.

The secondary system to consist of—

1. Minor interstate connections.
2. Minor recreational highways.
3. Local development highways.

We find that it is necessary to add certain highways to the State highway system for the purpose of closing obvious gaps in the various routes, thus providing for the more economic and efficient operation of traffic on the primary road system.

To this end we recommend that the following roads be made State highways, which we classify as a portion of the primary system:

San Rafael to Point San Quentin, 3 miles.
Crescent City to the Oregon line, Coast route, 19 miles.
Alturas to the Oregon line, near New Pine Creek, 44 miles.
From Coleville to the Nevada state line in Mono County, 10 miles.
From Bakersfield to Mojave, 65 miles.
From Needles to Topoc, 16 miles.
From Shavers Wells to Coachella, 25 miles.
From Blythe to the Colorado River, 5 miles.
From Oxnard to the main Coast highway, 2 miles.
From San Diego to Tia Juana, 7 miles.

We recommend that the primary system consist of the roads outlined in red and that the secondary system consist of the roads outlined in green upon the maps hereto attached and made a part hereof.

We recommend that no other additions be made to the primary system, and that any additional roads which, in the opinion of the Legislature, should be included in the State highway system prior to the completion of the primary system be classified into the secondary system.

The committee has been requested to recommend for inclusion in the State highway system 3000 miles of additional road, the estimated future expenditure on which would approximate $117,000,000.

This is divided 2050 miles in the forty-five northern counties at an estimated cost for construction and reconstruction in a fifteen or twenty-year period of about $86,000,000, and 951 miles in the thirteen southern counties at an estimated cost in a fifteen or twenty-year period of $31,000,000.

Of these requests, we recommend ten sections, hereinbefore named, aggregating 196 miles, to be included in the primary system for reasons stated above.

The committee is unwilling to recommend any further additions, although not disputing the merit of some of the roads requested, because of the magnitude of our obligation on the present highway system.

2. Financing:

We recommend further financing of State highway construction by one or more methods, which will insure a revenue of approximately $10,000,000 in 1926 and thereafter.

Four general methods of financing are available.

1. By general State bond issue. The sum of $200,000,000 will probably be required to be expended over a term of at least fifteen years. If this method is adopted, we recommend successive bond issues for portions of this amount.

2. Ad valorem tax may be levied on the general property of the State at rates necessary to produce a minimum of $10,000,000 per year.

3. Direct legislative appropriation might be made at the rate of not less than $20,000,000 per biennium.

4. Increased taxes on motor vehicles through either—

(a) Increased gasoline tax.
(b) Increased plate tax.
(c) Graduated weight tax.

to produce additional revenue of $10,000,000 in 1926.

Of the above four methods, we recommend increased taxes on motor vehicles in combination with the following recommended bond issue.

We recommend that steps be taken by the Legislature preliminary to placing before the voters at the next general election a bond issue of $25,000,000, all proceeds of which shall be used to defray the cost of construction of major bridges on the primary road system, and in cooperation with railroads, division of expense to be fixed by the California Railroad Commission for each project, for the elimination of railroad grade crossings on the primary road system.

We recommend that at least 75 per cent of construction funds be devoted annually to the construction of the primary road system until completed.

3. We have found the following situation:

The southern thirteen counties, San Luis Obispo, Tulare, Kern, Mono, Inyo, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Diego and Imperial, comprise about 50 per cent of the area of the State. They have an estimated population of about 45 per cent of the total population of the State. (U. S. Bureau of Census estimate for 1923.) These counties contain only 35 per cent of the existing State highway mileage, and record of past expenditures shows approximately 34 per cent of State highway construction expenditures in these counties. In these counties is found 57 per cent of the motor vehicle registration. We further find that not less than 60 per cent of the future expenditures for State highway construction on the primary road system will be required on roads located in the northern forty-five counties.

This situation has given the committee much concern, but we have been unable to agree on any method for apportionment of future expenditures, which would correct this situation. We consider it advisable, however, to concentrate future State highway construction expenditures, in so far as possible, on the primary trunk system, which is of general State importance, and we recommend that construction be prosecuted by the State Highway Commission on the primary system at equal rates of annually completed highway mileage in each section of the State.

An alternate method for allocation of funds would be to district the State for State highway expenditures, allotting to each district the amount raised therein.

We recommend that the policy of the California Highway Commission should be to assume all cost of construction on the road system, including bridge construction and rights of way, accepting such donations as may be offered.

We recommend that the convict labor camps be expanded or increased in number, to utilize at least 1000 prisoners on highways, the cost to be payable from any monies in the highway construction funds, and that the savings in prison maintenance expense be paid from general State funds to the highway fund from which operation of convict camps is defrayed.

We recommend that maintenance be extended by law to all unconstructed State highways open to travel, this for the reason that many years will elapse prior to construction of all the State highways, and the best possible road service should in the interim be furnished to the public.

We are informed by the State Highway Commission that the additional annual cost to extend this class of work to those roads not now maintained is estimated from $600,000 to $700,000 per annum.

We recommend that the amount of the existing revenue for maintenance and reconstruction purposes be not reduced on account of the requirements for maintenance and the urgency of reconstruction needs due to traffic conditions.

We recommend that the present law be so amended as to give the California Highway Commission authority to relocate and realign constructed roads.

We recommend that as a procedure for adding roads to the system that any district or county asking for the inclusion of additional roads to the highway system, should make survey, plans and estimates of the cost of same in proper form and submit to the California Highway Commission, which, in turn, should submit the same to the first succeeding session of the Legislature with its recommendations as to importance and classification.

Reasons which lead us to make these recommendations will be set forth in detail in our final report now in course of preparation, which will be filed shortly.

WHEREAS, There is at the present time a great prevalence of crude oil and petroleum in the waters along such beaches which is washed upon and scattered along the beaches themselves, making them undesirable for pleasure purposes and preventing their use and enjoyment; and

WHEREAS, The value and desirability of maintaining such beaches in a condition in which they may be used for pleasure purposes by the people of the State is a matter of concern to the entire State and has already been recognized by the Legislature by a provision of the act of 1921 reserving minerals in State lands which prohibits the leasing of tidelands in front of an incorporated city and for a mile on either side for the purpose of drilling for oil; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That the Surveyor General of this State be and hereby is authorized and directed to make a complete survey and investigation of such situation and to determine the causes for the presence of such crude oil or petroleum on the beaches and to arrive, if possible, at a method for preventing the same; and be it further

Resolved, That the Surveyor General shall make a full and complete report of his findings with all data so obtained to the Governor of this State together with any plans and suggestions he may deem expedient."

I have made every effort to present to you a report completely and accurately covering the situation. I have carefully inspected the beaches where the most trouble has been experienced and I have conferred in person or by correspondence with federal, State, county and city officials, private geologists, the California State Mineralogist, State Oil and Gas Supervisor, State Fish and Game Commission,

State Attorney General, with oil company officials, and with chambers of commerce, bath house men, and many private citizens, some of whom were entirely disinterested. I have collected all clippings, articles and data that have come to my attention.

I have secured particularly valuable data from the United States Bureau of Mines, the National Coast Anti pollution League, and from the State Fish and Game Commission. I have taken advantage of every source of information available, that I might make an accurate and fair presentation of the facts, together with such recommendations for methods of prevention as appear best suited to meet the situation.

Respectfully submitted.

W. S. KINGSBURY, State Surveyor General.

CHAPTER II.

General Review of Situation.

The problem of oil on bathing beaches is a very serious one. It is not confined to California alone nor even to the United States, but it is a world wide condition which has arisen and grown steadily worse, since oil has come into use as fuel. The United States Bureau of Mines has made a thorough investigation to determine the cause of this condition. Hearings have been held before the Committee on Rivers and Harbors of the House of Representatives and before the Commerce Committee of the United States Senate, finally resulting in the passage of an act by Congress (Public No. 238—68th Congress.) (S. 1942.) to protect navigation from obstruction and injury by preventing the discharge of oil into the coastal navigable waters of the United States.

The act makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment or both, to discharge oil from vessels into the coastal navigable waters and authorizes the Secretary of War to ascertain what polluting substances are being deposited into certain waters of the United States.

Following is a copy of the act:

"[PUBLIC — No. 238 — 68TH CONGRESS.]

[S. 1942.]

An act to protect navigation from obstruction and injury by preventing the discharge of oil into the coastal navigable waters of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this act may be cited as the 'Oil Pollution Act, 1924.'

SEC. 2. When used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires—

(a) The term 'oil' means oil of any kind or in any form, including fuel oil, oil sludge, and oil refuse;

(b) The term 'person' means an individual, partnership, corporation, or association; any owner, master, officer or employee of a vessel; and any officer, agent, or employee of the United States;

(c) The term 'coastal navigable waters of the United States' means all portions of the sea within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, and all inland waters navigable in fact in which the tide ebbs and flows;

(d) The term 'Secretary' means the Secretary of War.

SEC. 3. That, except in case of emergency imperiling life or property, or unavoidable accident, collision, or stranding, and except as otherwise permitted by regulations prescribed by the Secretary as hereinafter authorized, it shall be unlawful for any person to discharge, or suffer, or permit the discharge of oil by any method, means, or manner into or upon the coastal navigable waters of the United States from any vessel using oil as fuel for the generation of propulsion power, or any vessel carrying or having oil thereon in excess of that necessary for its lubricating requirements and such as may be required under the laws of the United States and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder. The secretary is authorized and empowered to prescribe regulations permitting the discharge of oil from vessels in such quantities, under such conditions, and at such times and places as in his opinion will not be deleterious to health or sea food, or a menace to navigation, or dangerous to persons or property engaged in commerce on such waters, and for the loading, handling, and unloading of oil.

SEC. 4. That any person who violates section 3 of this act, or any regulation prescribed in pursuance thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,500 nor less than $500, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year nor less than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each offense. And any vessel (other than a vessel owned and operated by the United States) from which oil is discharged in violation of section 3 of this act, or any regulation prescribed in pursuance thereof, shall be liable for the pecuniary penalty specified in this section, and clearance of such vessel from a port of the United States may be withheld until the penalty is paid, and said penalty shall constitute a lien on such vessel which may be recovered in proceedings by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for any district within which the vessel may be.

SEC. 5. A board of local inspectors of vessels may, subject to the provisions of section 4450 of the Revised Statutes, and of the act entitled 'An act to provide for appeals from decisions of local inspectors of vessels, and for other purposes,' approved June 10, 1918, suspend or revoke a license issued by any such board to the master or other licensed officer of any vessel found violating the provisions of section 3 of this act.

SEC. 6. That no penalty or the withholding of clearance, or the suspension or revocation of licenses, provided for herein, shall be enforced for any violation of this act occurring within three months after its passage.

SEC. 7. That in the administration of this act the secretary may make use of the organization, equipment, and agencies, including engineering, clerical, and other personnel, employed under his direction in the improvement of rivers and harbors, and in the enforcement of existing laws for the preservation and protection of navigable waters. And for the better enforcement of the provisions of this act, the officers and agents of the United States in charge of river and harbor improvements, and the assistant engineers and inspectors employed under them by authority of the secretary and officers of the Customs and Coast Guard Service of the United States, shall have power and authority and it shall be their duty to swear out process and to arrest and take into custody, with or without process, any person who may violate any of said provisions: Provided, That no person shall be arrested without process for a violation not committed in the presence of some one of the aforesaid officials: And provided further, That whenever any arrest is made under the provisions of this act the person so arrested shall be brought forthwith before a commissioner, judge, or court of the United States for examination of the offenses alleged against him; and such commissioner, judge, or court shall proceed in respect thereto as authorized by law in cases of crimes against the United States.

SEC. 8. That this act shall be in addition to the existing laws for the preservation and protection of navigable waters and shall not be construed as repealing, modifying, or in any manner affecting the provisions of those laws.

SEC. 9. That the secretary is authorized and directed to make such investigation as may be necessary to ascertain what polluting substances are being deposited into the navigable waters of the United States, or into nonnavigable waters connecting with navigable waters, to such an extent as to endanger or interfere with navigation or commerce upon such navigable waters or the fisheries therein; and with a view to ascertaining the sources of such pollutions and by what means they are deposited; and the secretary shall report the results of his investigation to the Congress not later than two years after the passage of this act, together with such recommendations for remedial legislation as he deems advisable: Provided, That funds appropriated for examinations, surveys, and contingencies of rivers and harbors may be applied to paying the cost of this investigation, and, to adequately provide therefor, the additional sum of not to exceed $50,000 is hereby authorized to be appropriated for examinations, surveys, and contingencies of rivers and harbors.

Approved, June 7, 1924."

The centers of the zones of greatest pollution appear to be Redondo, San Pedro, Long Beach and Huntington Beach.

Oil is drained from Los Angeles fields through storm sewers draining into Ballona Creek, which empties into the ocean at Playa del Rey north of Redondo. The beaches to the north at Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica have at times been polluted from Ballona Creek, but at these points I am convinced that practically all the trouble comes from shipping.

Directly west of Redondo about two miles, there is a submarine oil spring which doubtless has been a large contributing factor to the pollution of Redondo, Hermosa and Manhattan beaches.

Practically all the pollution at San Pedro comes from the shipping and from spillage at the oil loading stations. Secretary of Commerce H. C. Hoover estimated that generally about ninety per cent of oil pollution comes from ships. (See Hearings on Pollution of Navigable Waters, Committee on Rivers and Harbors, House of Representatives, Sixty-eighth Congress, page 12.)

Oil is also drained from Signal Hill field through storm sewers and the open ditch leading into the flood control channel, which empties into the ocean at Long Beach. At Huntington Beach oil has been drained from the oil field through storm waterways. At these points the oil field drainage is largely, but not altogether, responsible for the pollution of the beaches.

At Pismo Beach, a great deal of damage to the clam industry was done, at one time, but through several court actions initiated by the State Fish and Game Commission, the trouble was overcome.

CHAPTER III.

The Shipping Situation.

One of the greatest sources of pollution is the shipping, including both tankers and cargo vessels. This occurs principally in four ways, as follows:

1. Discharge of ballast water.
2. Pumping out bilges.
3. Cleaning out tanks for inspection or repairs.
4. Spillage in transferring oil.

Ballast water is carried in the empty oil tanks of tankers and in the empty fuel tanks of practically all oil burning vessels, to preserve stability. If the weather is fair upon approaching the port of destination, the ballast water is discharged, and with it a certain amount of oil. As the tanks are pumped from the bottom, the oil scum which floats on the top does not begin to appear until the depth of the water in the tank is reduced to about three feet. It is now the general practice of the tankers operated by the large oil companies to reduce the depth to about three feet while out at sea, retaining the balance for discharge and salvage, while at the loading station. This reduces the loss of oil through the discharge of ballast water to a very small amount.

The ability of a ship to handle any oily water which may accumulate is dependent upon the design of the ship. Most of the modern ships should have little difficulty in properly retaining ballast water for discharge at the loading station, and the installation on each ship of a successful oil separation device will prevent pollution from all others. This will undoubtedly be the ultimate solution of this phase of the problem.

The largest part of the pollution of the Southern California beaches has been due in the past to improper discharge of ballast water, but it is believed that enforcement of the recent legislation enacted by Congress will prevent practically all the pollution from this source.

Pumping out bilges. This source of pollution has always existed, since steamships have come into general use, but particularly since the steamships have been using oil as fuel. It is doubtless a contributing factor in the Pacific Coast problem, but not a large one. It was not noticeable before oil came into general use as fuel. The installation of a small separator and a little care in operation will probably eliminate this source of pollution.

It is believed that this phase of the situation will be remedied through the operation of the new United States law.

Cleaning out tanks for inspection or repairs. This is sometimes done at sea. It is probable that the secretary of war will make rules and regulations governing, and provide facilities for, the discharge of waste products of this kind in every case.

Spillage in transferring oil. In the past there had been a great deal of spillage at the loading stations in San Pedro Harbor, but the city of Los Angeles employed watchmen at these places to prevent carelessness in operation, and conditions have since improved greatly. As the amount of oil being shipped is constantly decreasing, the pollution from this source will decrease proportionately.

CHAPTER IV.

Oil Field Drainage.

Aside from the shipping, this is the most prolific cause of pollution of the beaches.

The principal region affected by this condition is that around Long Beach. It also occasionally occurs at several other places, particularly at Huntington Beach, and at the mouth of Ballona Creek. At Long Beach, where the largest amount of oil has been produced and where, consequently, the greatest amount of trouble has been experienced, the situation appears to be fairly well under control. The oil and water which escape from the sumps at the wells, drain into a ditch which leads to a settling basin. As the oil accumulates on the top of the water in the settling basin, it is skimmed off and pumped into the pipe line, and the water is allowed to flow down a storm drain to the Flood Control Channel. Just before reaching the Flood Control Channel, the water goes through another system of sumps and the waste oil recovered is burned. In normal times, with a small amount of water coming down, the system is very successful in preventing practically all oil from entering the Flood Control Channel from Long Beach Field.

However, due to the close spacing of the wells in both Long Beach and Huntington Beach fields, and the small size of individual holdings, there is often not enough room for proper storage space for waste oil and water. Inadequate sumps maintained by individual operators are a constant menace, for in a heavy rainstorm, the great amount of water will carry down large quantities of oil which have accumulated in the sumps. The capacity of the settling basins cannot be increased in proportion, and the oil will be swept out through the storm drains, into the Flood Control Channel, and from thence carried to the bay and brought back on the beach, by the tide. This has happened in the past at Long Beach, Huntington Beach and through Ballona Creek, and will continue to happen until successful preventive action is taken. The sides of the Flood Control Channel, at Long Beach, particularly near the high water mark, bear the evidence of many such occurrences. At Huntington Beach I found oily masses which were attached to chips of wood in such a way as to indicate very clearly that they had come from an oil sump. The only practical solution to the problem is a cooperative separation system of sufficient capacity to meet any emergency.

The city officials of Long Beach have done everything in their power to prevent pollution of their beach and have succeeded in reducing the damage to a minimum. The board of supervisors of Los Angeles County passed a resolution to assist in every way possible to prevent the pollution of beaches by oil. However, there appears to be some doubt as to the applicability of the sections of the Penal Code covering the situation and I believe that a specific provision of law should be enacted directly prohibiting pollution by oil of waters which drain into the ocean, or which may in time of flood, drain into the ocean at or near a bathing beach.

CHAPTER V.

Submarine Oil Springs.

There are several places along the cost of California where oil and gas are continually escaping from points in the bed of the ocean. They are opposite Naples, Carpinteria, Manhattan, Redondo and San Juan Capistrano. The principal one that concerns the southern California beaches is directly west of Redondo and is shown extending from a point about one and one-half miles off shore to a point about three miles off shore, on the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey Chart of Santa Monica Bay corrected to May 29, 1923. The depth of the water at the center of this spot is 72 fathoms. It lies at the head of a canyon and is practically all in water too deep for divers to work in, so that at present there appears to be no practical way of exploration of the bottom of the sea at this point, or any remedy or method of prevention of pollution from this source.

Harry H. Rogers, being first duly sworn, deposes and says: I have been fishing off Hermosa and Redondo for the past nine years, and during this time have known of two oil seepages which cover the surface of the ocean for acres. One is about three miles off Redondo and the other is off Manhattan about four miles. This oil at times drifts up on the beach.

H. Carstensen, being first duly sworn, deposes and says: I have been fishing for the market for about 28 years, off Redondo, and during this time have always found crude oil on the surface of the water along the shore between Manhattan and Redondo. At times this oil is carried on to the beach by the wind and currents. It is common knowledge that this oil comes from a natural oil spring off shore.

CHAPTER VI.

Refineries, Industrial Plants and Pipe Lines.

Refineries. I do not believe that much damage is being done from this source. As a rule, refineries find it profitable to save every drop of oil possible, and they are well equipped to prevent any loss of oil into the discharge water, except possibly under extraordinary circumstances. The Standard Oil Refinery at El Segundo has been accused of polluting the beaches, in times past, but it does not appear that this accusation has any foundation in fact. On April 25, 1921, C. S. Bauder, Assistant Fish and Game Commissioner at San Pedro, after a thorough investigation, including an inspection of the Standard Oil Refinery and a chemical analysis of the discharge water, reported that the real cause of the oil on the beach at this point, is the submarine oil spring off Redondo, and that every effort was being made by the officers of the Standard Oil Company to prevent any pollution of the ocean waters at El Segundo.

Industrial Plants. I was unable to find any case where the discharge from an industrial plant was polluting the water with oil.

Pipe Line Breaks. There have been several very bad breaks in pipe lines, resulting in the pollution of the vicinity for many months. The oil companies are taking every possible precaution to prevent such accidents and I do not think anything could be done that would entirely eliminate this source of pollution.

CHAPTER VII.

City Sewers.

There appears to be a great deal of oil and grease in city sewage, but the city officials of Los Angeles, where the greatest amount of pollution from this source would naturally be, are doing everything in their power to keep this condition under control, as the oil and grease interfere with sewage treatment and assimilation by the ocean water and are consequently very undesirable. I do not think that enough oil escapes through the sanitary sewers to noticeably pollute the beach, but I am satisfied that oil from oil fields escapes at intervals through storm sewers.

CHAPTER VIII.

Summary.

Sources of Pollution and Remedies:

1. Shipping. This will probably be properly taken care of by the War Department.
2. Oil Field Drainage. Enactment of law recommended.
3. Submarine Oil Springs. No remedy.
4. Refineries, Industrial Plants, and Pipe Lines. Little pollution from these sources.
5. Sewage. Proper regulation of oil field drainage will practically eliminate this source.

WHEREAS, The Southern Branch is at present quartered in the old normal school buildings, on a fifteen-acre tract in the city of Los Angeles, which, by reason of its small size, and the high valuation of surrounding contiguous territory is eliminated from practical consideration for further development; and

WHEREAS, At the instigation of a site committee composed of representatives of Farm Bureaus, Chambers of Commerce, Women's Clubs, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs from every section of southern California, some thirteen different site offers have been prepared for presentation to the regents of the University of California, these sites containing from 200 to 1300 acres each; and

WHEREAS, Recent investigations have revealed the probability that, in case an adequate site is selected, where all undergraduate college degrees may be conferred upon one campus, beautifully laid out from architectural and scientific standpoints, many wealthy citizens of California are waiting to contribute toward buildings and equipment; and

WHEREAS, There is to be a meeting of the board of regents of the University on Tuesday, February 10, 1925, in Los Angeles, at which the matter of possible sites is to be considered; therefore, be it

DIVISION OF PRINTING,
SACRAMENTO, January 24, 1925.

Hon. Cadet Taylor,
Chairman Committee Revision and Printing,
State Senate, Sacramento.

MY DEAR SENATOR: My attention has been called to the numerous petitions from various sections of the State urging that the bills be printed and distributed as promptly as possible.

May I say that the work of printing the bills is further advanced than has been the case at the close of any recent first session, and it is our expectation that all of the bills will be printed by Thursday, January 28, and that the final history will be mailed to the members of the Legislature by Saturday evening, January 31. This is at least ten days in advance of the time the work was completed two years ago.

The State Printing Office is working twenty-four hours daily, and will continue to do so until the printing for the present session is completed.

Naturally the printing office expects and undoubtedly will receive the cooperation of the officials of the Senate and Assembly having to do with the preparation of material for the publications of the Legislature.

Cordially,

JOHN E. KING, State Printer.

RESOLUTIONS TREATED AS BILLS.

6. Joint resolutions, concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall be treated in all respects as bills; except that they shall be read but one time in each House, and that they shall not be deemed bills within the meaning of section 2 of article IV of the constitution and shall not be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills, and shall not require a vote to authorize their introduction. As in the case of bills, they shall be engrossed in the House in which they originate before being voted upon.

PREPARATION AND INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

TITLE OF BILL.

7. The title of every bill introduced shall convey an accurate idea of the contents of the bill and shall be indicative of the scope of the act and the object to be accomplished. In amending a code section, the mere reference to the section by number shall not be deemed sufficient.

Bills which are not amendatory of existing laws shall be divided into short sections, where this can be done without destroying the sense of any particular section, to the end that future amendments may be made without the necessity of setting forth and repeating sections of unnecessary length..

CHANGES FROM EXISTING LAWS TO BE MARKED BY AUTHOR.

9. In case of a bill amending a code section, or general law, all omissions must be shown by the insertion of heavy parentheses or brackets without including the omitted matter; all additions must be shown by underlining the new matter. When printed, the new matter so underlined shall be enclosed in heavy brackets in the printed bill and also heavy brackets shall be retained to show omissions.

COMMITTEE ON REVISION AND PRINTING TO EXAMINE BILLS WHEN INTRODUCED.

10. Unless otherwise ordered by the House in which the bill was introduced, all bills before being printed shall be immediately sent to the Committee on Revision and Printing, which shall examine the bill, with the aid of the Legislative Counsel Bureau. The committee, by and with the written assent of the author filed with it, shall have authority to correct any clerical error such as in orthography, adding or correcting the enacting clause, mistakes in numbering sections and references thereto, errors in grammar, phraseology, or in the form of the bill; provided, that no bill which bears the stamp of the Legislative Counsel Bureau showing that before introduction it has been examined as to form, shall be sent to the Committee on Revision and Printing.

NOTE.—The submission of bill copy to Legislative Counsel Bureau for approval of form before introduction will expedite its course.

BILLS INTRODUCED TO INDICATE CHANGES IN EXISTING LAWS.

11. The Committee on Revision and Printing shall see to it that Rules 7 and 9 of these Joint Rules are observed by the author, and that the bill shall not be sent to the printer until the provisions of these rules have been carried out.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEE ON REVISION AND PRINTING.

12. The Committee on Revision and Printing shall return to the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly all bills in the order in which they were sent to it, but shall not retain any bill for longer than three legislative days, unless otherwise ordered.

(b) All titles of bills, resolutions, etc., shall be set in italics, statute form, and the length of the lines used in the bills shall not exceed that of the body of the bill.

(c) The lines of all printed bills shall be numbered by page and not by sections, and amendments shall be identified by reference to title, page and line only; provided, however, that concurrent resolutions approving city or county or city and county charters or amendments thereto may be set in smaller type without line numbers.

(d) Enrolled bills may be inclosed in stock cover.

PRINTING OF AMENDMENTS.

15. All bills amended by either House shall be immediately reprinted; in the case new matter is added by the amendments, such new matter shall be inclosed in heavy parentheses in the printed bill, and in the case of matter being omitted, the omission shall also be indicated by heavy parentheses. When a bill is amended in either House, the first or previous markings, except that showing change from code provision or former law, shall be omitted. When a bill amendatory of a code section is engrossed, all figures or symbols shall be removed.

On the second day after the close of the recess provided for in section 2, article IV of the constitution, the Senate and Assembly shall each adopt and provide a special file upon which shall be placed: In the Senate, only Assembly bills that have passed the Assembly; and in the Assembly, only Senate bills that have passed the Senate. Such special file shall be taken up at two o'clock p.m. of each day in the Assembly and at two o'clock and thirty minutes p.m. of each day in the Senate and be considered at least one hour and a half after being so taken up unless its consideration shall be completed in a lesser period of time. This rule shall not be suspended in either House except by a three-fourths vote of such House.

REPORTS FROM ONE HOUSE TO THE OTHER AS TO ACTION ON BILL.

BILL OR RESOLUTION IN ONE HOUSE, REJECTED IN THE OTHER, REQUIRES NOTICE.

28. When a bill or resolution which shall have passed one House is rejected by the other, notice thereof shall be given immediately to the House in which the same shall have passed.

EACH HOUSE TO TRANSMIT PAPERS.

29. Each House shall transmit to the other papers on which any bill or resolution shall be founded.

NOTICES TO BE IN WRITING UNDER PROPER SIGNATURES.

30. Notice of the action of either House to the other shall be in writing, and under the signature of the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House from which such notice is to be conveyed.

SECRETARY, CHIEF CLERK, ETC., TO DISPATCH MESSAGES.

31. Messages shall be sent to the other House by an officer or attache to be designated by the Secretary, if it be a Senate message, or by the Chief Clerk, if it be an Assembly message.

MESSAGES MUST BE ANNOUNCED BY THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS.

32. When a message shall be sent from either House it shall be announced at the door by the Sergeant-at-Arms, and shall be respectfully communicated to the presiding officer by the person by whom it may be sent.

PASSAGE AND ENROLLING OF BILLS.

PASSAGE OF BILLS TAKING EFFECT IMMEDIATELY.

33. Each House shall act in the usual course upon all bills that may be made to take effect immediately, under the provisions of section 1, article IV of the constitution.

PASSAGE OF URGENCY PROVISIONS IN BILLS.

34. Upon the third reading of an act which is an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, article IV of the State constitution, the presiding officer shall direct that the section of said act setting forth the facts constituting the necessity for such urgency (which shall be known as the urgency section) be then read and put to vote. The question shall be thus stated: "Shall this section setting forth the urgency features of this bill be passed?" If upon such final vote two-thirds of all the members elected to the House in which the vote is being taken shall not vote in the affirmative, no further action shall be taken on the bill; but, in case an identical bill without such an emergency clause be again introduced into such House, such bill shall be placed on file without reference to any committee.

PASSAGE OF BILLS PRECEDING FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

35. No Senate bill shall be passed by the Senate and no Assembly bill shall be passed by the Assembly within seven days of the time set for adjournment sine die of the two Houses of the Legislature, unless permission to vote on such bill shall be granted by a three-fourths vote of the House of its origin after being recommended by the presiding officer thereof.

ENROLLMENT OF BILL AFTER PASSAGE.

36. After a bill shall have passed both Houses, it shall be duly enrolled after being carefully compared, by the Engrossing and Enrolling Clerk and committee of the House in which it originated, with the engrossed bill, as passed in the two Houses. It shall then receive the signatures provided for in Joint Rule 37, and be presented to the Governor of the State.

ENROLLING COMMITTEE TO PRESENT BILLS TO GOVERNOR.

37. After a bill shall have been thus passed in each House, it shall be presented by the Engrossing and Enrolling Committee of the House in which it originated to the Governor of the State for his approval (it being first endorsed by the presiding officers of the two Houses, and by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly). The said committee shall report the day of presentation to the Governor, which time shall be carefully entered on the Journal of the House in which the bill originated.

AMENDMENTS AND CONFERENCES.

AMENDMENTS TO AMENDED BILLS MUST BE ATTACHED.

38. Whenever a bill or resolution which shall have been passed in one House shall be amended in the other, it shall immediately be reprinted as amended by the House making such amendment or amendments. Such amendment or amendments shall be attached to the bill or resolution so amended, and endorsed "adopted," and such amendment or amendments, if concurred in by the House in which such bill or resolution originated, shall be endorsed "concurred in," and such endorsement shall be signed by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary of the Senate, or the Chief Clerk or Assistant Chief Clerk of the Assembly, as the case may be; provided, however, that an amendment to the title of a bill adopted after the passage of such bill shall not necessitate reprinting, but such amendment must be concurred in by the House in which such bill originated.

TO CONCUR OR REFUSE TO CONCUR IN AMENDMENTS.

39. In case the Senate amend and pass an Assembly bill, or the Assembly amend and pass a Senate bill, the Senate (if it be a Senate bill) or the Assembly (if it be an Assembly bill) must either "concur" or "refuse to concur" in the amendments. If the Senate concur (if it be a Senate bill), or the Assembly concur (if it be an Assembly bill), the Secretary or Chief Clerk shall notify the House making the amendments and the bill shall be ordered to enrollment.

WHEN SENATE OR ASSEMBLY REFUSE TO CONCUR.

40. If the Senate refuse to concur (if it be a Senate bill), or the Assembly refuse to concur (if it be an Assembly bill), the Secretary or the Chief Clerk shall notify the House making the amendments of such refusal, and ask that they recede from their amendments. If they refuse to recede, the presiding officer shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference and the Secretary or the Chief Clerk shall immediately notify the other House of the action taken and request the appointment of a like committee. Two of the members comprising such committee from each House shall be selected from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from each House of such committee shall be selected from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote. The first Senator named on the conference committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the Senate, and the first Assemblyman named on such committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the House, and the chairmen thus selected shall arrange the time and place of all meetings and prepare or direct the preparation of reports. The Committee on Conference shall report to both the Senate and Assembly.

COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE.

41. In every case of an amendment of a bill agreed to in one House and dissented from in the other, if either House shall request a conference and appoint a committee to confer, the other House shall appoint a like committee; and such committee shall meet at a convenient hour, to be agreed upon by the respective chairmen of the committees.

COMMITTEE ON FREE CONFERENCE.

42. If the conference fail to agree or either House refuse to adopt the report of the committee, a Committee on Free Conference shall then be appointed, which shall consist of three members from each House, to be constituted and appointed in the same manner as a Committee on Conference. The Committee on Free Conference is hereby directed to include in its report any amendments which it may adopt as a committee, and such amendments shall be attached to the bill.

The report of the Committee on Free Conference shall not be subject to amendment, and if either House refuse to adopt such report the conferees may be discharged and other conferees appointed.

It shall require the affirmative vote of not less than four of the members constituting the committee to agree upon a report. No member who has served on a Committee on Conference shall be appointed a member of a Committee on Free Conference on the same bill.

WHEN CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT IS IN ORDER.

43. The presentation of the report of a Committee on Conference or Free Conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read or a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending, or during roll call, and, when received, the question of proceeding to the consideration of the report, if raised, shall be immediately passed upon, and shall be determined without debate.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

44. The Committee on Joint Rules shall be empowered to compile a list of suggestions as to the form of bills and resolutions prepared for introduction into the Legislature.

PRESS RULES.

45. A person desiring recognition by the Senate or Assembly as a newspaper correspondent shall make application in writing to the President of the Senate or Speaker of the Assembly.

(a) The applicant shall state in writing the name of the newspaper or newspapers he represents and that he is not engaged, and will not become engaged as a lobbyist for any person, copartnership, corporation or interest and that he is not and will not become the agent or representative of any person, copartnership, organization or corporation in advocating or attempting to defeat any measure pending in either branch of the Legislature, that he is not employed in any executive, administrative or legislative department of the State government and will not become so employed while accepting the privileges of a press representative.

(b) It shall be the duty of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly to assign one or more rooms for the exclusive use of correspondents during the legislative session, which room shall be known as the Press Room. The Press Room shall be under the control of the Superintendent of the Capitol Building and Grounds; provided, that all rules and regulations shall be approved by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the Assembly.

ADJOURNMENT.

46. Adjournment for the constitutional recess and adjournment sine die shall be made only by concurrent resolution; and the resolution for adjournment sine die shall be passed by both Houses at least fourteen days before the date of such adjournment.

JOINT ADDRESS TO GOVERNOR.

47. When the Senate and Assembly shall judge it proper to make a joint address to the Governor, it shall be presented to him in his audience chamber by the President of the Senate in the presence of the Speaker of the Assembly and a Select Committee of six members from each House appointed by the respective presiding officers.

DISPENSING WITH JOINT RULES.

48. No Joint Rule shall be dispensed with except by a vote of two-thirds of each House; and Joint Rules 27 and 35 can be dispensed with only in the manner provided for in said Joint Rules. If either House shall violate a Joint Rule, a question of order may be raised in the other House and decided in the same manner as in the case of the violation of the rules of such House; and if it shall be decided that the Joint Rules have been violated, the bill involving such violation shall be returned to the House in which it originated, without further action. Or, at the option of such House, the President or Speaker may direct the Secretary or the Chief Clerk to mark the section or sections in conflict with the rules as nonconcurred in or negatived.

It shall also be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to keep the accounts for pay and mileage of Senators.

21. Any Senator desiring to introduce a bill shall rise in his seat and address the President, and upon being recognized shall present the same. The title shall be announced by the Secretary, the bill shall be read the first time and thereupon referred by the President to a standing committee.

Joint and Concurrent Resolutions and Constitutional Amendments.

22. Joint and concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall be treated the same as bills; provided, that they shall have but one reading, which reading shall occur after they have been reported by committee.

Introduction of Bills by a Committee.

23. Any committee may introduce a bill germane to any subject within the proper consideration of such committee, whereupon the bill shall immediately be read the first time, ordered to print and placed upon the second-reading file.

Introduction of Bills after the Constitutional Recess.

24. The Committee on Rules shall constitute a standing committee on introduction of bills to serve after the constitutional recess. All motions for leave to introduce bills after the constitutional recess shall be sent to the desk in writing, under the order of "Introduction of Bills." The motion shall give the title of the bill and shall be accompanied by the bill. The bill shall thereupon be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills.

The committee shall examine bills referred to it with particular reference to the question as to whether there is already any bill in either house of the same character which might be amended to effect the result sought and generally as to the advisability of introducing the measure.

No bill shall be introduced without the consent of three-fourths of the members after report thereupon by the Committee on Introduction of Bills, nor shall more than two bills be introduced by any one member after the constitutional recess.

Joint and concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall not be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills, and shall not require a vote to authorize their introduction, nor shall the number to be introduced by any one member be limited.

Bills in Committees—Reference of Senate Bills.

25. At the time of introduction the President shall first indicate to what committee a bill or resolution ought to be referred, and it shall be so referred, unless upon a motion, without debate, the Senate by a majority vote refer it to some other committee. No debate shall be allowed on any motion to refer a bill or resolution to a committee.

Order of Reference.

26. When a resolution shall be offered, or a motion made to refer any subject and a different committee shall be proposed, the question shall be taken in the following order:

1. The Committee of the Whole Senate.
2. A Standing Committee.
3. A Select Committee.

Reference with Special Instructions.

27. No amendment shall be received for discussion at the third reading of any bill; but it shall at all times be in order, before the final passage of such bill, to move its reference to a select committee under special instructions to amend.

Reference of Assembly Bills.

28. When an Assembly bill has been received by the Senate, with a message announcing that it has passed the assembly, such bill shall be read the first time and be referred by the President to a standing committee; provided, however, that when an Assembly bill is received, the text of which is stated by a member to be identical with that of a Senate bill which has already been considered and reported by a standing committee of the Senate, such Assembly bill shall be referred to the Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment for comparison, which committee shall report without delay, whether or not such bill is identical with the Senate bill. If reported identical, such Assembly bill shall be substituted for the Senate bill, shall take its place on the second-reading file and be considered as having received the same committee recommendation as the Senate bill; provided, that the fact that the bills are identical shall be entered in the Journal. Such Senate bill shall thereupon be placed upon the file of unfinished business.

Reference of Appropriation Bills.

29. All bills appropriating money from any fund shall be referred to the Committee on Finance before being read the second time. Concurrent resolutions for adjournment sine die shall in all cases whether originating in the Senate or coming from the Assembly be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Notice to Author of Bill.

30. The chairman or clerk of each committee of the Senate shall notify the author of any bill or resolution pending before such committee of the hour and place of hearing or acting upon such bill or proceeding.

Committee Amendments to Bills.

31. When amendments to a bill are reported by a committee, the clerk of such committee shall prepare three copies of each amendment, one to go with the bill to the Superintendent of State Printing, one to the Minute Clerk, and one to the Secretary of the Senate.

Reports of Committees.

32. All committees shall act upon bills referred to them as soon as practicable, and when acted upon each bill shall be reported back to the Senate forthwith, and the chairman of each committee is charged with the observance of this rule; provided, that the Senate may at any time, by a majority vote, recall a bill from any committee.

Order of Considering Bills—Order of Making File.

33. When bills are reported from committees they shall be placed upon the General File, to be kept by the Secretary as follows: All bills when reported to the Senate by the committee shall be placed at the foot of the second-reading file, in the order in which the reports are made, and after the second reading they shall be placed at the foot of the third-reading file, in the order of reading, and precedence shall be given in the consideration of bills in the following order: Second-reading file and third-reading file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. The bills upon third reading shall be considered in the order in which they appear upon the file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by vote of majority of the members present; such vote to be taken by roll call; provided, that if a bill is passed on file for any reason, other than absence of the author by leave of the Senate, note of the fact shall be made in the General File, and when passed on file a second time, the bill shall be ordered at the foot of the file, and notice of the fact of the bill having been passed on file prior to the order placing it at the foot of the file shall be omitted from the General File.

The General File.

34. The General File shall be the special order for each day between such hours as the Senate may determine, unless sooner disposed of; but no bill shall lose its place upon the file by expiration of the time or by adjournment of the Senate while it is under consideration.

Special Order.

35. Any subject may, by vote of a majority of those voting, be made a special order, and when the time fixed for its consideration arrives, the presiding officer shall lay it before the Senate.

Three Reading of Bills.

36. Every bill shall be read on three several days previous to its passage (unless in case of urgency, two-thirds of the membership of the Senate in which it is being considered shall by vote of the ayes and noes dispense with this provision).

Ordering Bills to Third Reading.

37. After being read the second time bills shall be ordered by the President to third reading (or, in the case of Senate bills, to engrossment and third reading). When any member makes objection to any bill thus being ordered to third reading, the final question for such bill shall be, "Shall the bill be ordered to third reading?"

Bills Considered During Last Seven Days.

38. No Senate bill shall be passed by the Senate within seven days of the time set for adjournment sine die of the two houses of the Legislature unless permission to vote on such a bill be granted by a three-fourths vote of the entire membership of the Senate, voting by roll call.

Questions and Motions—Precedence of Motions During Debate.

39. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received but the following privileged questions, which shall have precedence in the following order:

1. To adjourn.
2. For a call of the Senate.
3. To lay on the table.
4. To postpone to a day certain.
5. To commit.
6. To amend.
7. To postpone indefinitely.

Provided, however, that during a call of the Senate, it may consider and transact any matter or business that the Senators then present shall unanimously decide to consider, but no call of the Senate shall be had, during a call of the Senate, on any matter so taken up or considered while the Senate is under call. When a call of the Senate is ordered, pending the completion of a roll call, the pending roll call shall become unfinished business the consideration of which shall be continued until further proceedings under the call of the Senate are dispensed with, when it will forthwith become the order of business before the Senate.

Amendment or Division of Question.

40. An amendment may be laid on the table without prejudice to the bill. When an amendment proposed to any pending measure shall be laid on the table, it shall not carry with it or prejudice such measure.

If the question in debate contains several propositions, any Senator may have the same divided; except a motion to strike out and insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition, nor shall it prevent a motion to simply strike out, nor shall the rejection of a motion to strike out prevent a motion to strike out and insert; but pending a motion to strike out and insert, the part to be stricken out and the part to be inserted shall each be regarded, for the purpose of amendment, as a question. Motions to amend the part to be stricken out shall have precedence.

Restrictions as to Amendments.

41. A substitute or amendment must relate to the same subject as the original bill, resolution or constitutional amendment under consideration.

Vote Required for Amendments.

42. A constitutional amendment or bill requiring a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to the Senate for final adoption or passage may be amended by a majority of those voting.

Procedure of Debate—Seconding and Announcement of Motion.

43. No motion shall be debated until the same be seconded and distinctly announced by the President; and it shall be reduced to writing if desired by the President or any Senator, and read by the Secretary, before the same shall be debated.

Regulations as to Speaking.

44. 1. When a Senator desires to address the Senate he shall rise in his place, address the President, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak.

2. No Senator shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same day, and at the same stage of the bill, without leave; and Senators who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) so long as any Senator who has not spoken desires to speak.

3. No Senator shall be interrupted when speaking, and no question shall be asked him except those through the presiding officer.

4. The author of a bill, motion, or resolution shall have the privilege of closing the debate.

Securing of the Floor.

45. When two or more Senators arise at the same time to address the Senate, the presiding officer shall designate the Senator who is entitled to the floor.

Order in Debate.

46. When a Senator shall be called to order he shall sit down until the President shall have determined whether he is in order or not; and every question of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any Senator. If a Senator be called to order for words spoken, the objectionable language shall immediately be taken down in writing by the Secretary of the Senate.

The Previous Question.

47. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the question be now put?" It shall be admitted only when demanded by a majority of the Senators present upon division; and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate except that the author of the bill or the amendments shall have the right to close, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote. On a motion for the previous question prior to a vote being taken by the Senate, a call of the Senate shall be in order.

Executive Session.

48. Resolution passed by the Board of Supervisors of Riverside County, California, on February 9, 1925.

Upon motion of Supervisor Hancock, seconded by Supervisor McGregor and duly carried it is ordered that the following resolution be adopted as follows, to wit:

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of Riverside County are opposed to Assembly Bill No. 705 in relation to the Bee industry, and

WHEREAS, We are opposed to the fee of one dollar a year for the privilege of producing one of the finest foods known to men, and therefore not calling for a tax, and

WHEREAS, We are opposed to the granting of power to a State Bee Inspector under the Department of Agriculture, with authority to remove at will any county officer or deputy inspector, and thereby taking control of this department away from the boards of supervisors, and

WHEREAS, We are opposed to the appointment of one or more full time men when the work does not call for nor demand any such expense being added to the county tax roll, and

WHEREAS, We are opposed to the idea of granting power to control an industry now well established and growing under the pretense of assisting the producer, and therefore be it

Resolved, That the present law is working satisfactorily in our county, and if the same is not constitutional by reason of the County Government Act of 1923 as is claimed by a few, without any court decision to sustain this opinion, then, and then only will we ask that whatever steps are necessary to comply with the present statutes of the County Act, that these steps be taken to add to the old law by amending Bill No. 705, in such a manner as to place a Department of Agriculture officer over our County Inspector with only power to advise and consult and none other, and thereby not hamper nor take away any power of the Board of Supervisors of Riverside County.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Taylor:

LOS ANGELES, January 26, 1925.

Honorable Walter F. Lineberger,
House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

California forestry officials advise that they placed in hands of National Forester estimates of money needed in connection with forest station work here. Suggest you see National Forester and assist where you can in getting this over.

A. G. ARNOLL,
Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 30, 1925.

Mr. A. G. Arnoll, Secretary
Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce,
Los Angeles, California.

Had long consultation with Greeley, Chief Forester, today. Secured his absolute agreement to match estimate of California State Forestry Department, which is $25,000 this year, as per Pratt's communication. Last year government's contribution was approximately $20,000, so this is 25 per cent increase. Also secured his tentative agreement to increase amount on fifty-fifty basis if State will increase estimate. Believe he will go up to $50,000 federal allotment if State will budget equal amount. These federal allotments are under Clark McNary fund and act specifies purposes for which money may be used. Believe friendly attitude outcome his visit there last year and of Board of Fire Review meeting held in Los Angeles in December. Desire congratulate you, Dr. Clements and chamber for materially contributing this situation.

WALTER F. LINEBERGER.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.
SACRAMENTO, February 24, 1925.

To the Senate of the State of California.

Senate Bill No. 141 is returned herewith without my approval.

There are at present general statutes covering the subject of this bill. It is apparently unconstitutional in that the statement of the facts constituting the urgency are not sufficiently set forth as required by section 1, article IV of the constitution.

The urgency mentioned in the bill is stated as follows:

"The lives of the people of the State of California are seriously endangered by disease which results from the supply of impure or insufficient pure water." This statement is so vague and general in its terms that it has no apparent connection whatever with the legalizing of bonds as provided in the act.

Respectfully submitted.

(Signed) FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON, Governor.

By Senator Kline:

WHEREAS, The citrus white fly, an extremely injurious pest of citrus in Florida, occurs in a limited area in the cities of Sacramento, Marysville and Yuba City and so constitutes a serious menace to the citrus sections of the State; and,

WHEREAS, The California State Association of County Horticultural Commissioners after discussion at their convention have endorsed a tentative plan for the eradication under the direction of the State Department of Agriculture of the citrus white fly in California; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the El Centro Chamber of Commerce recommends the immediate appointment by the Director of Agriculture of a committee of experts to decide upon a plan of eradication and estimate the cost thereof, and we urge the introduction of an appropriation bill and an enabling act empowering the State Department of Agriculture to undertake the work of eradication.

Also:

ANAHEIM, CALIFORNIA, February 12, 1925.

The State of Florida has made rapid strides in the past few years in development. It is the only state in the Union which has written into its constitution a perpetual prohibition of income or inheritance tax. The section reads:

"No tax upon inheritances or upon the income of residents or citizens in this State shall be levied by the State of Florida, or under its authority, and there shall be exempt from taxation to the head of a family residing in this State, household goods and personal effects to the value of five hundred ($500.00) dollars."

Florida has advertised this fact throughout the United States and men of money have gone to that state to the detriment of California. We are indeed glad to see Florida developing, but we do not believe we should retain on our statute books the inheritance tax. Our State will be affected until a constitutional amendment is enacted correcting this. Such an amendment would place us in the same favorable light nationally as it has done the State of Florida. Believing that this should be considered by our Legislature, the directors of Anaheim Chamber of Commerce passed the following resolution at their regular meeting held Thursday, February 5, 1925. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Board of Directors of Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, that we urge the Governor and State Legislature of the State of California to repeal the present inheritance tax (making this repeal effective upon such a date as to allow for the adjustment of the budget); and be it further

Resolved, That we hereby petition the State Legislature to present to the people of the State of California a referendum on an amendment to the State constitution similar to the amendment adopted by the people of Florida.

ANAHEIM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
HARRY D. RILEY, President.

GEO. W. REID, Secretary.

By Senator Ingram:

FILLMORE, CALIFORNIA, February 20, 1925.

Senator Ingram,
Chairman Senate Committee having Senate Bills Nos. 336 and 337, relative to the betterment of Indians of California.

DEAR SIR: We, the undersigned, representing Golden West Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, wish to present resolutions adopted by this chapter at the last meeting, February 19, 1925, with regard to Senate Bills Nos. 336 and 337 as follows:

WHEREAS, The condition of the California Indian, economic, educational and sanitary, has been uncovered, both in official reports and the investigations of private individuals, to be a matter of reproach and criticism of the great State of California, and

WHEREAS, There is urgent need for immediate relief, medical attention, food, clothing, fuel and shelter for these Indians, therefore, be it

Resolved, This organization endorses and sustains Senate Bills Nos. 336 and 337, asking thorough investigation of the Indians of California as outlined in Senate Bill No. 336; also immediate relief, Senate Bill No. 337, when the investigating committee so recommends.

(Signed) CARRIE K. PRICE, Regent.
SARA R. MERRY, Secretary.

By Senator Dennett:

TUOLUMNE COUNTY WELFARE CLUB,
SONORA, CALIFORNIA.

WHEREAS, A bill calling for an appropriation for the Industrial Farm for Women will be voted upon at the next legislative session, and

WHEREAS, It is our hope and desire that all delinquent women of our State be given the full opportunity for rehabilitation, we firmly believe in the necessity for such institution in California, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Tuolumne County Welfare Club of Sonora, in meeting February 12, 1925, go on record as favoring this appropriation and urge our State Senator and Assemblyman to do all in their power to further the Industrial Farm for Women, and adequate appropriations for its maintenance; and, be it further

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Hurley:

To the Honorable Edgar S. Hurley,
Senator of the Sixteenth District,
State of California.

We, the undersigned, residents of your district, desire to register this vigorous and emphatic protest against Assembly Bills Nos. 408, 810 and 878.

Nos. 408 and 810 entirely prohibit the manufacture of margarine and remove from the market a product which we have found nutritious and healthful and desire to continue to buy; they are also the forerunners of dollar butter.

No. 878 imposes a tax of 4 cents per pound on margarine. This tax would have to be paid by us who are consumers. No good reason for adding this tax has been suggested.

These three bills are introduced solely for the benefit of the butter interests. Not one of them would help the average wage earner who knows that margarine is a good, wholesome product and is glad to be able to buy it.

MARY N. POST,
And 110 others.

By Senator Slater:

SANTA ROSA, CALIFORNIA, February 27, 1925.

This resolution is similar, brother, to many that you have probably already received, and bears the approval of our grand exalted ruler.

We are forwarding same to you as one of us, and if we are in the wrong pew, we will leave it to your good graces to place it in the proper channel.

Thanking you kindly, we are, fraternally yours,

"BOB" ROBINSON, Secretary.

By Senator Kline:

GARDEN GROVE, California, February 24, 1925.

Senator Kline,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: The local Union of the W. C. T. U. understands that Assembly Bill No. 1129, introduced by Assemblyman Burns of San Francisco, proposes an amendment to the Redlight Abatement Law, requiring proof of "the knowledge of the proprietor" before it would be possible to close a house of prostitution.

We, the undersigned, are concerned that nothing take place to undo the legal protection already secured against this evil, and earnestly beseech you to use your influence to strengthen and not to weaken the present law. We would appreciate a word from you as to your attitude on this bill.

Yours truly,

MRS. C. P. MORRIS,
Chairman of Social Morality.
MRS. CLARA CROW,
And 26 others.

By Senator Christian:

Honorable Senator Christian,
State of California.

We, the undersigned citizens of Los Angeles County, do hereby request that you and emphatic protest against Assembly Bills Numbers 408, 810, and 878.

Numbers 408 and 810 entirely prohibit the manufacture of margarine and remove from the market a product which we have found nutritious and healthful and desire to continue to buy; they are also the forerunners of dollar butter.

Numbers 878 imposes a tax of four cents per pound on margarine. This tax would have to be paid by us, who are consumers. No good reason for adding this tax has been suggested.

By Senator Taylor:

POMONA, CALIFORNIA, February 25, 1925.

Honorable Cadet Taylor,
The Senate, Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: In accordance with our talk at your residence at which time we explained our position on Senate Bill No. 40, also Assembly Bill No. 140, we now enclose herein petitions asking you to carefully consider these proposed laws should they come up for passage.

We also request that you refer the petitions to the proper committee, with any comment that you may see fit to make in our favor, as we feel that the passage of the proposed law will work a great injustice to many of your constituents.

Yours truly,

H. AMBERSON.
W. E. HOWARD.

Senator Boggs, Chairman, Committee on Agriculture.

Respectfully referred to the Committee on Agriculture. Will be glad to be advised when the subject comes up.

CADET TAYLOR.

Also:

POMONA, CALIFORNIA, February 25, 1925.

To the Honorable Mr. Cadet Taylor,
Representing the Citizenship of Southern California.

We, the undersigned citizens of Los Angeles County, do hereby request that you carefully look into and consider every angle of Senate Bill No. 40 and use your influence against this measure for the following reason:

That this bill contains the following clause:

"Requires that certain drugs and medicines sold by non-registered persons must bear the name and registry number of the registered pharmacist under whose supervision the product is manufactured," which would give the druggists a monopoly on the sale of all medical preparations both those prepared by registered pharmacists and those prepared by manufacturing chemists, and would disqualify all citizens from selling the medical preparations compounded by some of the country's most expert manufacturing chemists.

In other words, this bill is a blow to destroy honest competition which should not be feared by any upright business.

WATSON H. GIST.
And 50 others.

By Senator Evans:

CORNWELL STREET SCHOOL, LOS ANGELES, February 24, 1925.

Members of the California State Legislature,
Sacramento, California.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: As voters, we, the teachers and friends of education, urge your consideration and support of the following recommendations:

First. The constitutionality of the present Teacher Tenure Law is being questioned. Assembly Bill No. 1120 amends this law to conform with constitutional requirements. We consider an operative Teacher Tenure Law vitally necessary to the educational welfare of the State, to safeguard the children of the State against a return of the old and vicious system of changing teachers for purely political reasons.

Second. As the Retirement Act is now under investigation, until the findings are made known, we request that the Assemblymen and Senators hold in abeyance all action upon the law, either through a new bill or an amendment to the one now on the statute books.

Third. We believe the Deuel bill to be subversive of our democratic ideals as a sovereign people, who believe in a government administered through officials duly elected by the people and responsible to the people alone.

This bill separates the educational interests of the State, and creates a double-headed system, whereas the aim of educational legislation should be unification.

It makes the Governor of the State, through his appointive power, virtually a dictator of education.

It reduces the position of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to that of a supernumerary, compelled to take and execute orders without right of initiative or judgment, resulting in the serious crippling of the work of his office.

Believing strongly the above statements, we hereby urgently request the honorable members of the California State Legislature to demand and support legislation in accord with these recommendations.

LUKE L. GALLUP,
And 44 others.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Crowley:

SAN FRANCISCO, February 25, 1925.

To the Honorable Members of the Forty-sixth Session of the California Legislature.

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned desire to call your attention to Assembly Bill No. 640, introduced by Mr. Melville and known as "Amendment to the Pure Milk Law." In section 8 thereof at line 6, the word "hospital" is included in the provisions of the act which requires milk to be served in bottles.

We contend that this inclusion is entirely unnecessary and will work an economic hardship on the hospitals, amounting to thousands of dollars annually to each institution. The hospitals have been particularly careful in securing a pure and wholesome milk supply, and have encouraged the production of high-grade milk. In its distribution to patients, care is exercised to insure uniform quality, and we contend that our patients would not receive better service under the amendment proposed.

Many of the hospitals are charitable institutions—all of them do a large amount of charity work—and the expense budget of the majority already represents a deficit, necessitating their drawing largely on the charity of the community to make both ends meet. The bill in question would only increase this burden without accomplishing any good purpose.

The undersigned physicians and surgeons using the hospitals in conjunction with their work are interested in procuring for their patients the best service and food at the minimum possible cost.

The elimination of the word "hospital" from line 6, section 8, would serve the purpose of these institutions.

Trusting that we may have your cooperation in this matter, we are

Respectfully yours,

DR. W. S. LELAND,
And 168 others.

By Senator Canepa:

To the Honorable V. J. Canepa,
Senator of the Eighteenth District,
State of California.

We, the undersigned, residents of your district, desire to register this vigorous and emphatic protest against Assembly Bills Numbers 408, 810 and 878.

Numbers 408 and 810 entirely prohibit the manufacture of margarine and remove from the market a product which we have found nutritious and healthful and desire to continue to buy; they are also the forerunners of dollar butter.

Number 878 imposes a tax of four cents per pound on margarine. This tax would have to be paid by us who are consumers. No good reason for adding this tax has been suggested.

These three bills are introduced solely for the benefit of the butter interests. Not one of them would help the average wage earner who knows that margarine is a good, wholesome product and is glad to be able to buy it.

A. MAUSER.
And 140 others.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, after the period following the figure "1" insert the following: "That the uncompleted portions of those certain roads constituting the "state highway system" of the State of California, as hereinafter named and described by their official designation, shall be constructed by the department of engineering of this state, under the direction of the highway commission of the State of California, in the manner hereinafter specified, and at a cost not to exceed one hundred million dollars. And for the purpose of providing for the payment of the cost of completing the construction of the said highway system, the State of California is hereby authorized to incur an indebtedness in the sum of one hundred million dollars, and in the manner specified by this act.

Immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor, as provided in section eleven of this act, the treasurer of the state shall prepare one hundred thousand suitable bonds of the State of California, in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, to be numbered from one to one hundred thousand, inclusive, and to bear the date of the first day of July, 1927, which said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum from the date of the issuance thereof. The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of the present standard of value, and either at the office of the treasurer of the State of California, or, at the option of the holder, at the fiscal agency of the State of California in New York City of the State of New York, at the times and in the manner following, to wit: The first four thousand of such bonds shall be due and payable on the first day of July, 1932, and a like number of the said bonds, in consecutive numerical order, shall be due and payable each year thereafter until and including the first day of July, 1956. The interest accruing on all of such said bonds as may be sold shall be payable either at the office of the treasurer of this state or at the said fiscal agency in the city of New York, as the holders of such bonds may elect, on the first day of January and the first day of July of each year after the sale of the same. The interest on all bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of the maturity of such bonds, and the said bonds, so issued and sold, shall, on the day of their maturity, be paid as herein provided, and thereupon be canceled by the treasurer of this state. All bonds remaining unsold, if any, shall, at the date of their maturity, be, by the said treasurer, canceled and destroyed. All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of this state, countersigned by the state controller, and endorsed by the state treasurer, and each of such bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon. The said bonds, so signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as herein provided, shall, when sold, be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, notwithstanding that the sale thereof be made after any one or more of the persons so signing, countersigning and endorsing the said bonds shall have ceased to be the incumbent or the incumbents of the said office or offices.

SEC. 2. Appended to each of the said bonds shall be interest coupons, and so attached that the same may be detached without injury to or mutilation of such bonds. The said coupons shall be consecutively numbered and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the first day of July, 1927. No interest shall be paid on any of the said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of any such bond and the date of the sale thereof, unless such accrued interest shall have been, by the purchaser of the said bond, paid to the state at the time of the sale thereof.

SEC. 3. The legislature shall provide, by an appropriation, sufficient money to defray all expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of the said bonds and in the advertising of the sale thereof, as in this act provided.

SEC. 4. When the bonds authorized by this act shall have been signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, as specified in section one hereof, the state treasurer shall sell the same in such parcels or numbers as the governor of the state shall direct, and to the highest bidder for cash. The governor shall issue to the treasurer such direction immediately after being requested to do so by and through a resolution duly adopted by the highway commission of the State of California. The said resolution shall specify the amount of money which may be required at such time, and the governor shall thereupon direct the state treasurer to sell a sufficient number of such bonds to provide such amount of money, the said bonds to be sold in consecutive numerical order. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the next preceding interest maturity date. The state treasurer may, at the time and place fixed by him for the said sale, continue such sale, either as to the whole or any part of the bonds offered for sale, to such time and place as he may at the time of such continuance designate. Before offering any of the said bonds for sale the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured or which will mature before the date fixed for such sale. The treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication thereof in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, in each of two newspapers published in the city of San Francisco, and in each of two newspapers published in the city of Los Angeles, once each week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice given as aforesaid, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised.

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "state highway construction fund." Immediately after any such sale of bonds, the treasurer of the state shall pay into the state treasury, and cause to be placed in the said state highway construction fund, the total amount received through the sale of such bonds, except as to such sums as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be, by the state treasurer, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in the "state highway construction interest and sinking fund," which is hereby created.

Moneys shall be drawn from the said state highway construction fund for the purposes of this act only upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state upon demands made by the state highway commission and allowed and audited by the state board of control: provided, however, that out of the proceeds of the first sale of bonds hereunder the state controller and the state treasurer shall transfer upon their respective books the sum of three hundred thousand dollars to the credit of the "state highway revolving fund," which fund is hereby created. The moneys in the said state highway revolving fund, or so much thereof as the state highway commission may deem necessary, may be expended from time to time upon the demand of the state highway commission, approved by the state board of control, for the purpose of making cash payments in advance for such expenditures as may be necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this act. Upon receipt of such demands, so approved, it shall be the duty of the state controller to draw his warrant upon the said "state highway revolving fund" in favor of the person or persons therein named, and the state treasurer shall pay the same. On or before the tenth day of each month thereafter, the state highway commission shall submit to the state board of control an itemized statement, duly verified, showing all expenditures during the preceding calendar month of the moneys so withdrawn from the said "state highway revolving fund," the same to be accompanied by proper vouchers and receipts. Such statements shall be audited by the state board of control in the same manner that claims against the state are audited, and, if found correct, shall be approved by the state board of control and transmitted to the state controller with such approval endorsed thereon. A resolution protesting against the adoption of Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 4, taxing municipally owned public utilities.

WHEREAS, There is now pending before the Legislature of the State of California, a proposed constitutional amendment as defined in the bill entitled "Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 4" to add a new section to the constitution of California, providing for the taxation of municipally owned public utility services; and

WHEREAS, Said constitutional amendment is obviously fathered by privately owned public utility concerns as a blow at publicly owned utilities; and

WHEREAS, The adoption of such an amendment would be a serious detriment to public ownership of public utilities, and would work a hardship and injustice upon publicly owned public utilities; and

Resolved, That the City Council of the city of Modesto go on record as being opposed to the adoption of the proposed legislation; that the Senator and Assemblywoman from this district be respectfully requested to use their vote and influence against the adoption of such a measure, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Honorable L. MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, March 5, 1925.

To the Senate and Assembly.

At the 1923 session of the California Legislature, Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3 was adopted approving the Colorado River compact. The compact was also approved by the states of Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming, but up to this time has not been approved by the state of Arizona.

The purpose of the compact was to provide for an equitable division of the waters of the Colorado River, to secure storage for use in dry seasons, and to afford protection from disastrous floods. California is vitally interested in the purposes of this compact. During the past season Imperial Valley has suffered for want of sufficient water, while only a few years ago this valley and the Palo Verde Valley were injured by floods. The waters of the Colorado River can be conserved by dams. Not only the needs of the Imperial Valley demand action, but the future development of parts of Imperial, Riverside, San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties depend upon the conservation and storage of the waters of this great river. The city of Los Angeles is now looking to the Colorado River for future water supply.

The state of Colorado has adopted a resolution providing that the compact shall become binding when approved by the states of California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming. The state of Wyoming has adopted the same resolution. Nevada, New Mexico and Utah are awaiting action by California.

I am transmitting to you herewith a copy of the resolution adopted by the state of Colorado and the state of Wyoming, and ask your earnest and prompt consideration of a similar resolution on the part of California.

Respectfully submitted.

FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON, Governor.

ENROLLED ACT, No. 60 SENATE.
EIGHTEENTH LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WYOMING.
An act relating to the Colorado River Compact.

WHEREAS, The Legislatures of the States of California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming heretofore have approved the Colorado River Compact, signed by the Commissioners of said states and the State of Arizona, and approved by Herbert Hoover as a Representative of the United States of America, at Santa Fe, New Mexico, November 24th, 1922 (Chapter 3 of the Session Laws of Wyoming, 1923), and notice of the approval by the Legislature of each of said approving states has been given by the Governor to the Governors of the other signatory states, and to the President of the United States, as required by Article XI of said compact; now therefore

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Wyoming:

SECTION 1. That the provisions of the first paragraph of Article XI of the Colorado River Compact, making said compact effective when it shall have been approved by the Legislature of each of the signatory states, are hereby waived and said Compact shall become binding and obligatory upon the State of Wyoming, and upon the other signatory states which have ratified or may hereafter ratify it, whenever at least six of the signatory states shall have consented thereto and the Congress of the United States shall have given its consent and approval, provided, however, that this Act shall be of no force and effect until a similar Act or Resolution shall have been passed or adopted by the Legislatures of the States of California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

J. C. UNDERWOOD,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

LEWIS H. BROWN,
President of the Senate.

Approved, 1:25 p.m., February 25, 1925.
NELLIE TAYLOE ROSS, Governor.

RELATIVE TO APPROVING THE COLORADO RIVER COMPACT.

By Senator Taylor:

LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA, March 4, 1925.

Senator Cadet Taylor,
Thirty-Third Senatorial District,
California Legislature, Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR SENATOR: Your kind letter of February 28th to hand and I wish to submit the information you requested therein, as follows, with reference to Senate Bill No. 729.

At the present time, the boys employed on the fire department in the city of Long Beach are working seven days a week. The boys working the night shift report for duty at eight o'clock a.m. on Sunday and work through until eight o'clock a.m. on Monday, having one hour off during that twenty-four hour period in which to secure a hot meal. They then report off duty until six o'clock p.m., and work from six that evening until eight o'clock a.m. the following day. This routine is continued until the Sunday morning one week later, when they report off duty at eight o'clock a.m. and are off until eight o'clock on Monday morning. Then the boys work from eight o'clock in the morning until six o'clock that night and are off duty until eight o'clock the next morning, and continue thereon until the following Sunday morning, when they start their twenty-four hours on duty again. The night shift put in fourteen hours on duty and the day shift ten hours, the shifts alternating each week. All members of the fire department off duty, however, are subject to call at command of the chief or his assistants.

Therefore, you can readily see that the boys put in twenty-four hours duty one Sunday in order to secure twenty-four hours off the following Sunday, and in this way do not have a day off a week, due to the fact that they work one week end to make up for having the other week end off.

The boys on the police department work six days a week, while the boys on the fire department work seven. This, in my estimation, is unfair to the boys on the fire department.

By the passage of Senate Bill No. 729, the boys on the fire department, throughout the entire State of California, would have one day a week off, while their working hours would average twelve hours a day.

The fire departments in the cities of Sacramento, Stockton, San Francisco, Pasadena, Los Angeles, Oakland and San Diego, at the present time, give their boys one day a week off and it seems as though all cities in the State should be governed alike. Therefore, I believe that the passage of Senate Bill No. 729 is only justification to the State of California and will be of great benefit to the various fire departments therein.

As to your question of wanting to know if this matter of hours should be regulated by organized city governments instead of State, I wish to say that it is possible for the city to do it, but they do not in a great many cases. In my conversations with the Mayor of Long Beach and some other prominent men, we believe that it is a matter to be regulated by the State and then it would be carried out to the entire satisfaction of all interested.

I appreciate your cooperation in supporting this bill and wish to thank you greatly.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) EVELYN HOUGHTON.

Respectfully referred to Committee on Municipal Corporations, Senator Fellom, Chairman.

CADET TAYLOR.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, March 6, 1925.

To the Senate and Assembly of the State of California.

I am sending you herewith, as supplemental to my message of yesterday, a copy of a telegram received from Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover in regard to the Colorado River Compact, and also a copy of a resolution in the form he approves.

Secretary Hoover represented the federal government in the original negotiations held at Santa Fe, New Mexico, and I hope his opinions will be given earnest attention.

Respectfully submitted.

FRIEND WM. RICHARDSON, Governor.

[TELEGRAM COPY.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3, 1925.

Friend Wm. Richardson, Governor of California, Sacramento, California.

Any reservation placed upon the renewed ratification of the compact will automatically necessitate the acceptance or acquiescence of all other five states now in process of ratification in the new form. It is my understanding that they will not accept any reservations because the upper states do not care how much storage is built in the lower basin if their water rights are protected. I am advised that they will not consent to make the security of their rights dependent upon some hypothetical action of the federal government in construction of engineering works which they can not control. I am advised that the feeling of many people in these states is that they have already sacrificed more of what they consider their rights to the lower basin than is justified and are not disposed to continue longer unless the settlement can be reached. I am convinced that unless we can secure ratification on present lines the whole compact will need to be abandoned and we will have another setback for five years in the development of the river, for no development will take place until the water rights of the northern states can be settled.

The long years of failure already behind us in the development of this river have been due to the unwillingness of the different groups to solve one problem at a time. At this time we are trying solely to settle the conflict of the upper and lower states over water rights, and nothing else. The reservation attempts to settle still further problems of the volume of storage to be provided, and although my sympathies are entirely for such a volume of storage and although I have no doubt that we shall be able to secure it, to impart this idea in connection with the determination of water rights will entirely defeat the whole. The proposed reservation accomplishes nothing for California, as the storage question is one wholly for the federal government, and I have no fear of failure to secure the federal action as soon as the compact is settled. I can not too strongly recommend that California act in cooperation with the other five states without raising new issues which will in no way intrinsically advance her own interest and which may greatly jeopardize the whole of them.

HERBERT HOOVER.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION No. ____.

RELATIVE TO APPROVING THE COLORADO RIVER COMPACT.

WHEREAS, The Legislatures of the States of California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming heretofore have approved the Colorado River Compact, signed by the Commissioners for said states and the State of Arizona, and approved by Herbert Hoover as a Representative of the United States of America, at Santa Fe, New Mexico, November 24th, 1922 (Chapter 17 of the Statutes of California, 1923,) and notice of the approval by the Legislature of each of said approving states has been given by the Governor to the Governors of the other signatory states, and to the President of the United States, as required by Article XI of said compact; now therefore,

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Wyoming:

SECTION 1. That the provisions of the first paragraph of Article XI of the Colorado River Compact, making said compact effective when it shall have been approved by the Legislature of each of the signatory states, are hereby waived and said compact shall become binding and obligatory upon the State of Wyoming, and upon the other signatory states which have ratified or may hereafter ratify it, whenever at least six of the signatory states shall have consented thereto and the Congress of the United States shall have given its consent and approval, provided, however, that this act shall be of no force and effect until a similar act or resolution shall have been passed or adopted by the Legislatures of the States of California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Referred to Committee on Federal Relations.

TRIBUTE TO LUTHER BURBANK.

By HERBERT W. SLATER.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate.

I am glad of the privilege accorded me of calling the attention of the Senate to the fact that tomorrow, March 7th, is Bird and Arbor Day in California, as a tribute to California's distinguished citizen and world man, Luther Burbank. Tomorrow Mr. Burbank is seventy-six years of age—but age is of no consequence to him for he is still diligently at work evolving new creations in plant life that are of tremendous worth to his fellow men. He is still creating cereals and plants of immeasurable importance in increasing food for the world. He is likewise bringing into existence new flowers, more beautiful in color tint and more rich in perfume, still adding to the many blessings that he has already given mankind throughout his long and useful life. He has long since built a foundation which will continue for generations and which will endure and be of benefit long after he and we have been called away. The world at large has acknowledged the great beneficial results of his labors.

It is a small tribute indeed, that we, as representatives of the great State of California, can pay him on his birthday by assuring him of our sincere appreciation of his accomplishments. We congratulate him on his 76th birthday and we hope that he will still be spared for years to come to continue his great endeavor in the interest of men, increasing the happiness and the prosperity of the world.

Despite the many other things that attract his attention and demand his time in his gardens and in his laboratory, he never overlooks an opportunity to demonstrate his love for children and today in his own home town of Santa Rosa, hundreds of school children are singing their songs and paying him a grateful tribute of appreciation.

Therefore, Mr. President and gentlemen, in accordance with our action of many years during the sessions of this body, I wish to suggest that the Senate of the State of California forward to Mr. Burbank a telegram expressing our congratulations.

COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was presented and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Senator Breed:

The Governor has requested me to state that it will facilitate the handling of bills in his office if all arguments for and against bills are promptly filed with him. The Governor has a file with a place for every bill and whenever an argument or letter for or against a bill arrives, it is filed by his secretaries, and then when the bill is finally adopted by the Legislature and goes to him, he gets the complete file on that bill and considers everything in it. It is manifestly impossible for the Governor to hear oral arguments on all bills, and hence he urges that written arguments be presented. These arguments should be presented as soon as the bill is adopted.

In cases of salary increases for county officials, the Governor would like to have the written recommendation of the grand jury, and would also like to have the vote by which the grand jury adopted the resolution. He would also like the recommendation of the board of supervisors of the county. He would also like to know if a notice of the proposed increases in salary has been published in the newspapers so that the taxpayers have been advised.

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE (Second Class),
HOLTVILLE, CALIFORNIA, March 6, 1925.

Hon. Chester M. Kline, State Senator,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: We, the rural carriers of Holtville, California, respectfully ask your support and influence in support of the measure to amend the law in regard to forcing rural carriers to use commercial license. We believe that the law is unjust as it is in requiring us to use them as we do not carry parcel post for ourselves.

Yours very truly,

T. J. McDONALD, Carrier Route A.
E. N. HOPPE, Carrier Route B.

Also:

HEMET, CALIFORNIA.

WHEREAS, The interpretation and administration of the present Motor Vehicle Act has worked a great hardship on agriculturalists by compelling them to pay commercial truck taxes on small passenger type cars, and on small trailers and semi-trailers, and

WHEREAS, A large proportion of the roads of the State have been built by taxes collected from the rural property owners, now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Little Lake Community Farm Center direct its officers to petition our representatives in the Legislature to exempt farmers not hauling goods for hire from all commercial fees, as it is manifestly unjust and inequitable to class the ordinary farm passenger car, or trailer as a commercial car.

Adopted March 3, 1925, at a regular meeting of members assembled.

LITTLE LAKE COMMUNITY FARM CENTER.
By C. C. NORDAL, Director.

R. C. McCLOY, Secretary.

Also:

WHEREAS, It is desirable, and for the best interests of the citrus industry and the reputation of the products of California, that the shipment of badly frost damaged fruit should be prohibited, be it

Resolved, That it is the unanimous sense of this board that the following regulation should be incorporated in the Standardization Act of California:

"It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to pack, ship, offer for shipment, sell or offer for sale, citrus fruit in boxes or other containers or in bulk if the contents of any package, or if the fruit in bulk, contains fifteen per cent of more citrus fruits by count showing marked evidence of frost injury.

"Marked evidence of frost injury in citrus fruits is hereby defined as water-soaked appearance or evidence of previous water soaking, or the presence of crystals or crystalline deposit, on the two surface membranes of each of two or more segments, as shown on the separation of the segments one from another of a section not less than one inch or more than one and one-half inches in thickness of the central portion of the fruit obtained by cutting off a portion of each end—the evidence of frost injury to show for the entire length, but not necessarily the entire area of the surface membranes—or a drying or desiccation in twenty per cent or more of the exposed pulp as shown on a transverse cut through the center."

And further that a copy of this resolution be sent to our representative in the Assembly and in the Senate, and that they be urged to support the measure when it is introduced into the Legislature.

I, the undersigned, as secretary of the Riverside Arlington Heights Fruit Exchange, do hereby certify that the above is a true and correct copy of the resolution unanimously passed by the board of directors at their regular meeting held on Friday, March 6th, at their office in Riverside, California.

H. A. LYNN.

By Senator Slater:

To the Honorable Herbert W. Slater,
Member of the Senate from the Eighth California District.

Your undersigned constituents, residing in Glen Ellen, California, earnestly urge you to give your full support to the Senate Bill No. 40.

This measure is intended to correct the intolerable nuisance caused by the present Pharmacy Law, which prevents us from getting simple household remedies and medicines from our local store, which in some cases compels us to go many miles to get them, and we demand that our local store be given the right to sell such items provided they are put up by a registered pharmacist, and supplied in sealed packages.

Believing you will agree that this is in the interest of and for the protection of the public and that you will do all possible to promote this measure, we are,

IRVING SHEPARD,
And 22 others.

CENTRAL LABOR COUNCIL OF LONG BEACH,
LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA, March 7, 1925.

Mr. Cadet Taylor, Senator,
Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR MR. TAYLOR: At the last meeting of the Long Beach Central Labor Council, held March 5, 1925, I was instructed to write you in reference to Senate Bill No. 76. The proposed bill being an act to regulate the occupation of hairdressers, cosmeticians and cosmetologists which, if passed, will absolutely prohibit barbers from working upon females, and further prohibits barbers from applying antiseptics, tonics, lotions or creams, and from massaging, cleaning, shampooing is prohibited on any person, regardless of sex, so you can readily see just how inimical to the barbers of California this proposed legislation will prove to be.

We sincerely hope, Mr. Taylor, you will investigate thoroughly this proposed legislation and will be able to see the injustice therein contained, and will be of what assistance you can in defeating Senate Bill No. 76.

With best wishes, I am very sincerely yours,

R. W. ROBINSON,
Secretary Long Beach Central Labor Council.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Strike out all of the bill after the enacting clause and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SECTION 1. Section six hundred thirty-four of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 634. The capital of every such corporation shall be divided into shares of the matured or par value of one hundred or two hundred dollars each, as provided by the articles of incorporation, and shall be paid in by the subscribers in the manner provided by the by-laws. All such payments shall be called dues. Certificates shall be issued to each shareholder on the first payment of dues by him. Shares pledged as security for the payment of a loan shall be called pledged shares, and all others, free shares. All shares matured and surrendered or cancelled, shall become the property of the corporation and may be reissued. The capital shall consist of the accumulated dues together with the apportioned profits of the corporation, and shall be accumulated by the issuance of shares in "installment" form and, where the by-laws shall so provide, in either or both of the following forms, viz: "full paid", "pass book", and "guarantee".

(a) Installment shares shall be either "serial" or "permanent" in form. When issued in "serial" form the periodical dues on shares in each series shall commence with the date of the issue of such series and the holder must pay such dues and such amounts per share and at such times as the by-laws may provide, and such payments must continue on each share until, with the profits allotted thereto, it reaches its matured value or is withdrawn or canceled. On all such issues the dividends shall be apportioned or credited equally to each share in each series. No share of a prior series shall be issued after the issue of shares in a new series, except by way of transfer. Shares issued in "permanent" form may be issued at any time and the dividends thereon may be credited in the passbooks of the members. Shares of either form may be issued in "classes" with a different periodical payment for each class designation, to be specified in the by-laws, and shall be issued with full participation in the profits subject to apportionment as dividends.

(b) Full paid shares shall be shares upon which a single payment of dues amounting to one hundred or two hundred dollars per share shall be paid at the time of subscription and upon which the holder shall be entitled to either a full participation in the net profits or to an agreed rate of dividends not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually in cash, to be specified in the body of the certificate issued. All such shares may be issued in separate classes as to participation, under regulations to be provided in the by-laws and which must be fully set forth in or upon each certificate issued.

(c) Pass book shares are shares which shall participate in the apportionment of net profits and be credited therewith at a rate not less than seventy-five nor more than ninety per centum of the rate apportioned to installment shares, as the by-laws shall determine, and upon which the dues may be paid in at such times and in such amounts as the holder thereof may elect until said shares reach their matured value or are withdrawn. Such shares shall be withdrawable under rules to be provided in the by-laws and fully set forth in the pass books issued. The matured value of this class of shares shall not exceed in volume twenty-five per centum of the matured value of all other shares in force. No membership fee, fine or forfeiture shall be chargeable against such shares.

(d) Guaranteed stock shall be stock, provided by the by-laws, to be set apart and sold as a fixed, permanent or guarantee capital. When any such stock has been once so set apart, sold and issued, it shall thereafter remain as a fixed, permanent and guarantee capital, and shall be subjected to all the conditions and liabilities attaching to the paid in capital stock of other classes of corporations. Such guarantee stock shall protect and guarantee all other stockholders and creditors against any loss, and when once paid it must be kept unimpaired.

(e) Every corporation specified in this title, in addition to being entitled to issue investment certificates to adults, shall also have power to issue one or more investment certificates to a minor of any age and receive payments thereon by or for such minor. If such minor be fourteen years of age or over, he shall be entitled to withdraw, transfer or pledge any such certificate owned by him and to receive from such corporation any and all interest or other moneys at any time becoming due thereon and his receipt or acquittance therefor shall constitute a valid release and discharge to the corporation for the payment of such money.

(f) Every corporation specified in this title issuing installment or full paid investment certificates, or both, shall at all times have issued and fully paid for, either an amount of guarantee capital stock, or permanent non-withdrawable capital stock, or both such guarantee capital stock and permanent non-withdrawable capital stock, or a reserve fund, equal to ten per cent of the aggregate amount of its liability on its said installment investment certificates and full paid investment certificates; provided, however, that the aggregate of guarantee capital stock, or permanent non-withdrawable capital stock, or both such guarantee capital stock and permanent non-withdrawable capital stock, or a reserve fund, of every building and loan association issuing installment or full paid investment certificates, or both, must equal the following percentages of its investment certificate liabilities:

1. Ten per centum of any amount up to and including one million dollars.

2. Seven and one-half per centum of any amount in excess of one million dollars, up to and including two million dollars.

3. Five per centum of any amount in excess of two million dollars, up to and including five million dollars.

4. Three per centum of any amount in excess of five million dollars.

(g) Corporations specified in this title, issuing guarantee stock, may provide in their by-laws that a majority of the board of directors shall be selected from the holders of such stock.

(h) Every corporation specified in this title shall also have power, by its by-laws, to charge and collect an entrance fee, for each share of stock, or membership share, or investment certificate, it may issue, not exceeding one dollar on each share or investment certificate having a matured or face value of one hundred dollars, and also to charge and collect a transfer fee, not exceeding ten cents on each share, or investment certificate, all of which fees shall be accounted for by the corporation like other funds of the association. No other fee, charge or deduction shall ever be made or permitted to be made against any shareholder, or certificate holder, or against any of his shares or certificates, hereafter issued, or the dues paid in thereon for the purpose of creating a fund to be used in the payment of current or running expenses."

Amendments adopted.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

Amend Senate Bill No. 342 as follows:

Strike out all of section 1 and in lieu thereof insert the following:

SECTION 1. Section eight of the above entitled act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. The sanitary assessor must, between the first Mondays in March and July of each year, assess all taxable property within the district to the persons by whom it was owned or claimed, or in whose possession or control it was at twelve o'clock meridian of the first Monday in March next preceding; but no mistake in the name of the owner or supposed owner of such property, or any informality in the description or in other parts of the assessments, shall render the assessment invalid.

The sanitary assessor shall verify his assessment book, and shall deposit the same with the Sanitary Board on the first Monday in July in each year, or as soon thereafter as is practicable.

All the provisions of law relating to assessment of property by county assessors shall, so far as is applicable, apply to and govern the acts of the sanitary assessor in the assessment of taxable property within the district.

The sanitary assessor shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the order of the sanitary board and shall perform such further duties and do such other acts as may be ordered or required by the sanitary board.

SEC. 2. Section eleven of the above entitled act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. On the first Monday in July of each year, at the hour of seven-thirty o'clock, p.m., the sanitary board shall meet at its usual place of meeting within said district, and proceed to organize itself into a board of equalization, and if the sanitary assessor has returned the assessment list for said year said board shall proceed to equalize the property so assessed and returned by said sanitary assessor. If said assessment list has not been returned by said sanitary assessor said board must adjourn from day to day until said assessment list has been returned, and for the purpose of adjournment one or more of the members of said board present may make said adjournment and announce the same. Upon the assessment list having been returned by the assessor, said board of equalization shall proceed to equalize the property listed on said assessment list, and said board shall continue in session as a board of equalization until the property upon the entire list returned by the assessor shall have been examined, rectified and equalized, with such reasonable intermissions during the day and from day to day as may be expedient. The board shall have power to hear complaints as to the proceedings of the assessor, and to adjudicate and determine the controversy thereon, and may of its own motion raise an assessment, after such reasonable notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised, as may be ordered by the board.

After the examination and rectification of the assessor's list shall have been completed, the board shall, by resolution, fix the rate of taxation for sanitary purposes and for the payment of the principal and interest of such year upon outstanding bonds, and the payment of the principal and interest that the sanitary board believes will become due during such year on bonds authorized but not sold, designating the number of cents on each one hundred dollars to be levied for each fund and the fund into which the same shall be paid.

After the entry in the minutes of the resolution fixing the rate of taxation the sanitary assessor must compute the respective sums in dollars and cents, rejecting the fractions of a cent, to be paid as a tax on the property enumerated in said assessment list, and segregate and place in the proper columns of the book the respective amounts due in installments, in the manner provided in the Political Code for the computation and collection of county taxes. The assessment list when so completed shall be verified by the assessor and signed by the president and secretary of the sanitary board, and the amount of the tax shall thereupon become a lien upon the property upon which it is assessed, and shall have the effect of a judgment against the person of the owner thereof. Every such lien shall have the force and effect of an execution duly levied against all property of the delinquent and the judgment shall not be deemed satisfied nor the lien extinguished until the taxes are paid or the property sold for the payment thereof, and no statute of limitations shall apply.

The total outstanding bonds of said district shall at no time exceed in the aggregate fifteen per cent of the assessed value of all the taxable property of such district.

SEC. 3. Section twelve of the above entitled act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12. As soon as practicable, but not later than the third Monday in August, after the taxes have been computed and extended on the assessment list, verified by the assessor and signed by the president and secretary of said board, the board shall transmit, or cause the assessor to transmit, the list so made, or a duplicate thereof, to the tax collector of the county, who shall collect the taxes shown by said list to be due, in the same manner as he collects the county taxes, and all the provisions of the laws of the state as to the collection of taxes and delinquent taxes, and the enforcement of the payment thereof, so far as applicable, shall apply to the collection of taxes for sanitary purposes; and said tax collector, and the sureties on his official bond, shall be responsible for the due performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act; provided, that the sanitary board may, in its discretion, direct the district attorney of the county to commence and prosecute suits for the collection of the whole, or any portion of the delinquent taxes; and it shall be the duty of the district attorney to carry out such directions of the sanitary board, and he, and the sureties upon his official bond, shall be responsible for the due performance of the duty imposed upon him by this act.

All money collected for sanitary purposes by the district attorney under this act shall be at once paid to the county treasurer; provided, further, that the sanitary board may, at any time, by order entered in its minutes, provide a system for the collection of delinquent taxes, or make any change in the manner of their collection, which as to such taxes shall have the force of law.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to the above entitled act, to be numbered 13*a*, to read as follows:

Sec. 13*a*. In lieu of the method herein provided for the assessment of all taxable property within the district, the sanitary board may elect to avail itself of the assessment made by the assessor of the county in which the district is situated, and may take such assessment as the basis for district taxation; provided, that the sanitary board shall declare its said election by resolution and file a certified copy thereof with the auditor and the assessor of the county in which the district is situated on or before the first Monday in February of the year the district proposes to use such assessment; thereafter all assessments shall be made and taxes collected by the county assessor and tax collector of the county in which the district is situated until the sanitary board, by resolution, elects otherwise. The said county auditor must on or before the second Monday in August of each year transmit to the sanitary board a statement in writing showing the total value of all property within the district, which value shall be ascertained from the assessment book of the county for that year, as equalized and corrected by the board of supervisors of such county. In case the sanitary board shall so elect, as hereinabove provided, it shall, on the third Monday in August, or if such day falls upon a holiday, then upon the first business day thereafter, fix the rate of taxation for sanitary purposes and for the payment of the principal and interest of such year upon outstanding bonds and the payment of the principal and interest that the sanitary board believes will become due during such year on bonds authorized but not sold, designating the number of cents on each one hundred dollars to be levied for each fund and the fund into which the same shall be paid, using as a basis the value of property as assessed by the county assessor and so returned to such sanitary board by the county auditor as hereinabove provided; said acts of said sanitary board are declared to be a valid assessment of such property and a valid levy of such taxes so fixed. The sanitary board must immediately thereafter transmit to the county auditor of the county in which the district is situated a statement of such rate so fixed by the sanitary board.

The said auditor must then compute and enter in a separate column in the county assessment book the respective sums to be paid as a sanitary district tax on the property enumerated and assessed as being in said district, using the rate of levy as fixed by the sanitary board of said district and the assessed value as found in such assessment book. Such taxes so levied shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and form as county taxes are collected, and when collected shall be at once paid to the county treasurer. Such taxes shall be a lien on all the property in the sanitary district, and said taxes, whether for the payment of a bonded indebtedness, or for other purposes, shall be of the same force and effect as other liens for taxes, and their collection shall be enforced by the same means as provided for the enforcement of liens for state and county taxes.

Whenever any part of said bonds are directed to be sold by the legislature, the state highway finance board shall direct the treasurer of the state to prepare such number of bonds of the State of California, numbered consecutively. The said bonds shall bear date of the preceding third day of January or the third day of July, whichever is nearest to the date of issue. The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of value either at the office of the treasurer of said state, or at the option of the holder at the fiscal agency for the State of California in the city of New York, State of New York, at the times and in the manner provided in said bonds. The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable either at the office of the treasurer of the said state, or at the fiscal agency as the holder may elect, on the third day of January and third day of July of each and every year after the sale of the same. The interest on all bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of their maturity, and the bonds so issued and sold shall, on the day of their maturity, be paid as herein provided and canceled by the treasurer of the state. All bonds remaining unsold shall, at the date of maturity thereof, be by the treasurer of the state canceled and destroyed.

All bonds sold pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of the state, countersigned by the state controller, and endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned, and endorsed by the officers who are in office at the time said bonds are issued, and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as herein provided, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation on the State of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person so signing, countersigning and endorsing, or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of said office or offices.

Appended to each of said bonds, there shall be interest coupons, so attached that the same may be detached without injury or mutilation of said bonds. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered and shall bear the lithographic signature of the state treasurer, who shall be in office at the time said bonds are issued. No interest shall be paid on said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of the bonds and the date of the sale thereof, unless such accrued interest shall have been by the purchaser of said bond paid to the state at the time of said sale.

The legislature shall provide by an appropriation sufficient money to defray all expenses that shall be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of said bonds, and in the advertising of the sale thereof, as in this act provided.

The state highway finance board shall determine the date of said bonds so sold, when they shall mature, and the interest rate thereon, which rate shall be fixed by said board according to the then prevailing market conditions, but shall at no time exceed five per cent (5%) per annum, and the determination of said board as to the rate of interest shall be conclusive as to the then prevailing market conditions. The total amount so sold shall not exceed the amount authorized by the legislature, nor the amount which may be presently necessary within said limits as determined by the resolution of the state highway finance board. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the said bonds plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding maturity date. The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale of such bonds by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco, one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised.

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund, to be known and designated "fourth state highway fund," and immediately after such sale of bonds, the treasurer of the state shall pay into the said treasury, and cause to be placed in said fourth state highway fund the total amount received for said bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be by the treasurer of the state immediately after such sale paid into the treasury of the state, and placed in the "fourth state highway interest fund", which is hereby created.

Moneys shall be drawn from said "fourth state highway fund" for the purpose of the budget of the California highway commission as approved by the legislature, upon warrants drawn by the controller of the state, upon demand made by the California highway commission, after audit and approval by the state board of control.

The treasurer shall on each first day of January and each first day of July succeeding the issuance of said bonds pay into the fourth state highway interest fund an amount of money which may be necessary to pay the interest on the bonds hereby authorized and theretofore sold until the interest on all said bonds so sold shall have been paid, and also at the same time whenever a portion of the bonds sold hereunder shall become due, the treasurer of the state shall pay into the "fourth state highway sinking fund," which is hereby created, such an amount as may be required to pay the principal of the bonds so becoming due. Payment into both said funds shall be made in the first instance from any funds received by the state under existing laws, or laws which may hereafter be enacted for the repair, renewal, construction, or reconstruction of state highways. If said last named funds shall be insufficient for the purpose, the deficiency shall be made up by the transfer to the "fourth state highway interest fund" and the "fourth state highway sinking fund" of the money from the general fund.

The principal of all of said bonds sold shall be paid at the time the same becomes due from the "fourth state highway sinking fund," and the interest on all bonds sold shall be paid at the time said interest becomes due from the "fourth state highway interest fund."

Both principal and interest shall be paid up on warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon demand, audited by the state board of control, and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for payment of the principal of said bonds so sold and the interest accruing thereon. No bonds paid hereunder shall be reissued, nor shall any bonds be issued in lieu thereof after the same have been paid, nor shall any bonds be issued under the authority hereof after 1945.
